TO ENTERTAIN STATE GRANGE Agricultural Bureau of Chamber of Commerce Making Preliminary Plans—Reports of Various Committees Heard at Meeting—Thursday Afternoon—Annual Convention to be Held Here Next January—Five Hundred Grangers Expected From All Points of the State.

At a meeting on Thursday afternoon the agricultural bureau of the Norwich Chamber of Commerce made preliminary plans for the reception and entertainment of the five hundred or more delegates to the Connecticut state grange convention to be held in this city on the 15th and 16th of January next. The meeting was called to order at 3 o'clock by the chairman, John E. Vaughn, and the roll showed only two members absent. The committee on the securing of sleeping accommodations for the visitors reported progress. They are compiling lists of hotels and private families and preparing material in general for the making up of a list of places to which the delegates may secure accommodations.

Curtin; chancellor, John Mahoney; advocate, Ovide Brouillard; outside guard, Cornelius Fitzgerald; inside guard, Joseph St. Germain; J. R. chaplain, Rev. J. F. X. Quinn; trustees, John Doyle, Matthew J. Walsh and Thomas Doyle.

OPINIONS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO NORWICH Two on Banking Given Out by Attorney General Hinman Thursday. Attorney General Hinman gave two opinions to State Treasurer Frederick S. Chamberlain Thursday in reply to questions asked by the treasurer. The opinions are of special interest to citizens in the state that may be considered centers of commercial and banking business. Treasurer Chamberlain's first question refers to the scope of the rights to which private bankers are entitled. The treasurer asks if the owner of such a bank is entitled to establish and conduct business as a private bank in more than one place or town. Mr. Hinman discusses the meaning of the term "bank" and says it is either applied to an association or corporation authorized to do a banking business or to the office where the business is done. He says the statute has reference to the place of business rather than to the firm, person, or office in which the business is done. The attorney general is of the opinion that the security which the law affords to a bank in each office or place in which the business of a private bank is carried on.

CORP CROP BEHIND TIME THIS YEAR Husking Will be Later Owing to the Season. Through County Agent P. C. Warner a bulletin prepared by State Leader A. J. Brundage, has been mailed to the county corn club members. The bulletin is as follows: Owing to the season, corn is not as ripe as usual at this time of the year. Husking will be later and you will find it difficult to get your corn for early exhibits and fairs. When your corn is ripe enough, pick out at least 100 good ears and lay them out on a bench or the floor. Then begin to discard the poorest ones comparing each time until you have only the best left. If your exhibit is to be ten ears, discard until you have 20 left. They should all be uniform in length, shape, diameter, color and type of grain, and in every way as perfect as possible. Then choose the best ten ears that will make the best sample. Thin off all the shanks, pick off the silks and be sure to wrap each ear separately in paper. It is also well to pack the box with loose paper. Don't forget to put your name and address in the box.

SUCCESSFUL SUPPER AT MT. CALVARY CHURCH Neat Sum Will be Realized From Generous Patronage. A successful New England supper was held Thursday from 6 to 10 p. m. at Mt. Calvary Baptist church on High street. The dinner was well patronized and a neat sum will be realized from the proceeds. It was in charge of a committee of which Mrs. M. O. Williams was chairman. Rev. E. W. Williams is pastor of the church.

NORWICH PASTORS ARE APPOINTED ON COMMITTEES Baptist Association Held Largely Attended Meeting at East Lyme.

The attendance at the New London Baptist association in East Lyme was the largest in a good many years. More than 200 delegates and guests sat down to dinner on Tuesday. The afternoon session convened at 1.30 o'clock. The Woman's Foreign Missionary society had the time from 1.30 to 2.45. Mrs. Clark, who has lately returned from Congo in Africa, gave a very interesting address on the condition of mission work in that country. Mrs. Henderson followed her with a stirring account of the work there.

THE THOUGHT OF THE AFTERNOON WAS ENLIGHTENED BY THE LOCAL RURAL CHURCH. Rev. A. D. Hartford, secretary of the Connecticut Baptist convention, gave the first address on the subject of "The Rural Church." He frankly admitted that it is a problem and he had no definite school of thought as to how it should be solved. He thought the reports from the Stonington Union association show 55 churches and 1,000 members. This was compensated by very little interest on some of the fields that were considered all right. It is first suggested that the rural church must recognize the fact that help comes from the Lord and that they must shoulder responsibility. Outside they should seek to know what they can do themselves and seek out the help of the community. They must expect something from the Lord. They must work for conversions and uplifting.

three-quarters coat, half-belted, and finished with fancy buttons. Hats Plain But Rich. Admiring comments on the hats displayed yesterday began when the stores were opened and continued till closing time. This season the shapes and materials are unusually becoming, while there is a rich plainness about even the most dressy designs which appeals to every woman of artistic tastes. One model greatly admired was a Burgundy sailor in velvet, its collar and cuffs with stripes in embroidered contrast design in silver. A fancy bag goes with this essentially smart hat, and is embroidered in bands of the same material.

THE PRINCIPAL ADDRESS OF THE EVENING WAS GIVEN BY REV. J. N. LEWIS, D. D. of Hartford, on the subject of Evangelism. For three-quarters of an hour he addressed earnestly as he pleaded for more personal evangelism. He said every man should be an evangelist, and showed that most of our religion is done in the home won to Christ by the personal touch of some consecrated Christian worker. His address was followed by three five-minute addresses: Young People and Missionary Service, by Miss Alice M. Dean of Hartford; Young People and Spirituality, by William Ames of New London; and by Rev. J. P. Gracy of Quaker Hill; Young People and Spirituality, by William Ames of New London. All the delegates that desired entertainment over night were cordially received by the people in Flanders. The church was open for the night and at 9.30 o'clock with a devotional service led by Rev. Donald Fletcher of Quaker Hill. The treasurer reported a small balance in the treasury. Rev. Donald Fletcher read a history of the Quaker Hill Baptist church, which was organized in 1855. It was voted that in future the church history be published in the minutes and not read at the Association meeting.

POPULAR COAT MATERIALS Noted at the Opening—What's Liked in Dresses—Now Fancy Chicks Trim Hats. Swager coat materials for the coming season are Bolivia and velour, with many good designs developed in broadcloth. The color and poplin continue in high favor for one-piece dresses, the newest of which come in coat effect. The new styles in the women's and fancy braiding adorns dresses. One of the new suits shown at the opening yesterday was a dark neck in the fashionable fawn shade. Its skirt was plain, except for the few modish gathers, but the coat was of a light color, having a wide collar and a novelty effect in belting at back and front. The collar was velvet of a deeper color.
