American Strawboard Co. Will Remain

Manager James J. Boyd Says Report of the Plant on Account of Labor Trouble is Erroneous—One Machine is Being Dismantled and Will be Sent to the Quinev. Ill. Plant.

It has been reported that the American Strawboard Co., formerly the Lucas Paper Co., Thameville, were about to move their plant from Thameville to Quinev, Ill., on account of labor conditions in this vicinity which at present seem prevalent among Thameville concerns.

In an interview Friday evening, James J. Boyd, manager of the American Strawboard Co., gave out the statement that the company is not having any labor troubles whatever. In reference to the report of the removal of the plant, Manager Boyd stated the real situation. He said that the company is not having any labor troubles whatever. In reference to the report of the removal of the plant, Manager Boyd stated the real situation. He said that the company is not having any labor troubles whatever.

By co-operation of our employees, said Mr. Boyd, we can guarantee steady work for some time to come. We expect to open up a new field for our production. We realize that boom times are nearly over and it is not wise to look for a revival of the physical impossibility to comply with what we would of necessity be forced to move our plant to a field that promises greater monetary attractions to our stockholders.

The solemn days of the Jewish race commence with the first and end with the tenth day of Tishri. The first two days are called Rosh-Ha-Shanah (New Year). The tenth day is called Yom Kippur (Day of Atonement). All the ten days are called the penitential days. During this season Jewish people confess their sins and pray to God for forgiveness.

New Year's day occurs on the first day of Tishri. It is also called the day of blowing the trumpet. In speaking of this day Rabbi Joseph says that the Jews are to give thanks for our acknowledgment of God as the king and judge of the whole world. We are expected on this day to examine our hearts and to make resolutions to improve ourselves during the coming year and to live according to the pure and holy laws of God. The sound of the trumpet is to follow their laws of purity and honor.

Colonel Henry S. Dorsey, state disbursing agent for the federal government, with offices at the army post in Hartford, has returned to his quarters in Hartford in order to take over and give a receipt for the equipment of the 10th Militia Field Artillery, and not only the equipment of the 10th Militia Field Artillery, but also the equipment of the 10th Militia Field Artillery, and not only the equipment of the 10th Militia Field Artillery, but also the equipment of the 10th Militia Field Artillery.

General Cole has written several times to the War Department for information as to the date when the batteries will be discharged from the National guard, but has received no reply.

I cannot imagine what the intentions of the government may be as regards the batteries for the 10th Militia Field Artillery, but they are ordered merely to be mustered out of the federal service, and to their former status as National guard units," he said.

General Cole's perplexity was due to the fact that in August the government ordered that the batteries be discharged from the National guard when they left the federal service.

National Headquarters Sends Letters to All Chapters. A letter sent to all chapters of the Red Cross by national headquarters in Washington reminding the chapters not to forget in their enthusiasm for the needs of the border country for an even longer period. While, of course, more seasoned than the guardsmen, these regulars have many needs in the way of comforts and necessities and they would deeply appreciate even a few remembrances.

Chapters are urged to provide boxes to be sent to the regulars and their contents will be similar to those which go to the guardsmen.
