"I am sorry for any family that cannot afford Father John's Medicine for their children. It has been of great benefit both to me and my little baby." (Signed) Mrs. Mabel Edgar, R. F. D. No. 1, Shipping Port, Pa.

"I have given Father John's Medicine to my boys, Lawrence and Earl, and have taken it myself with excellent results. It certainly builds one up and gives you strength." (Signed) Mrs. John Dougherty, R. D. No. 15, Groton, N. Y.

Mothers especially recognize the value of Father John's Medicine because they know it is a pure and wholesome food medicine which makes flesh and strength without using alcohol or dangerous drugs, and is, therefore, safe for children as well as older people.

STONINGTON

Republicans Hold Old-Time Banner Raising—Congressman R. P. Freeman Predicts November Victory—Firemen Visit Weekly.

Stonington borough is very much on the political map inasmuch as it is one of the comparatively few places in Connecticut, and especially New London county, that has hung a political banner to the breeze. There was a real old-time banner raising late Saturday afternoon, when one 10x30 feet was strung across Water street, at Pearl, bearing the portraits and names of the republican nominees for president and vice president, and further ornamented with a dome of the national capitol entwined in the national colors. This banner cost just $100 and the money was subscribed by some of the borough republicans, with a surplus for a band and minor expenses. Congressman Richard P. Freeman of New London made a rattling good speech and predicted the election of Hughes and Fairbanks by a larger majority in the electoral college ever given to presidential candidates. The music was furnished by the Imperial band, and the combined oratory and music combined with the flag raising created an enthusiasm that will continue until the ballots are counted in every state of the union on Nov. 7 next.

No More Backache for Her. Mrs. J. M. Gaskill, Etna Green, Ind., writes: "I suffered from severe backache, and sharp pains shooting through my back until I could not stoop over and get up without aid. Urinary trouble seemed to be the cause of it all. A single box of Foley Kidney Pills gave me such relief that I cannot praise them too highly. Suggestion That the Names of Maurice W. Flynn and Samuel H. Davis, Candidates for Representatives, be Placed on the Ticket in Nomination Papers—Band Gives Sunday Concert—Schooner Hallock Across Breach at Weekpaug.

It is probable that the political powers—that be in republican state politics—will have the names of Maurice W. Flynn and Samuel H. Davis placed on the ticket in nomination papers for representatives in the second district and was the name of Samuel H. Davis who was not declared the nominee will appear on the official ballot. After the declaration was made and after there was the customary confusion attending the announcement of the results of the election it was announced that twenty-five of the ballots credited to Mr. Flynn should have been counted for Mr. Davis. There were then seven hundred ballots deposited and there were six counters including the moderator and the clerk, and yet the alleged error was not discovered until after the official announcement of the nomination of Mr. Flynn had been made. In making the return of the caucus the moderator, Eugene Smith, made certification of just what happened in the caucus and put it up to the secretary of state to decide which name ought to be on the ticket. The secretary declined to assume the responsibility and under the law he is not required to settle such misunderstandings, but insisted that the moderator and secretary of the caucus specify just who was nominated for the legislature from the Second Westery district, and never mind supplying the state secretary with a detailed report of the doings of the caucus, as his only interest was to have the name to go on the ticket properly certified.

It was here where the political powers—that be stepped in. The local representative on the state central committee and Mr. Davis got busy the day after the caucus. He went to headquarters in Providence and it was decided that Mr. Davis had received a majority of the vote cast in caucus and that his name should be on the official ballot. Friends of Mr. Flynn were urging him to enter the race on nomination papers and thereby give the opportunity for a re-trial by the district to declare his choice, but Mr. Flynn declines, as he does not want to oppose the party nominee, no matter how the nomination is made. He is willing to submit to the party authorities, even if not the regular constituted authority. He would not object to run the caucus over again, if it could be so arranged to the satisfaction of all concerned, and to Mr. Davis in particular, but is if it were a trial by the people, and not a party breach. Mr. Flynn said he has always been a consistent republican, a believer in party duty, and his ambition to represent the town in the legislature did not change his party fealty. In justice to Mr. Davis, he it known, that he declared his intention to resign that he would retire from further contest, but that his friends would not permit him to withdraw and let the declaration stand. He is content, although he felt satisfied that there was an error in the first count.

The latest returns indicate that the officers of the new London and Westery bands, Flynn and Davis be placed on the ticket in nomination papers, thereby placing them on the same basis.

The Westery band, Charles O. Gavitt, leader, gave a complimentary concert Sunday afternoon, in Wilcox park, when this program was rendered: March, Hallelujah, from the Messiah; overture, Barber of Seville; Rossini; chorus, Hallelujah, from the Messiah; Handel; cornet solo, Sweethearts Away, De Witt, by Master Herbert Dowley; age eight years; Grand Triumphal March, Gounod; selection from Blue Paradise, Eyles; popular airs, Home, Sweet Home, the World Over, Sawyer; final, The Star Spangled Banner. This was a first Sunday concert to be given in the park and it was fully appreciated by an immense throng of people.

The Rhode Islanders who served in the Plattsburg training camp have arranged to form a company of infantry, 150 strong, the enlistment period to be one year, and with the view of a permanent organization, provided the government furnishes the equipment. This company to be subject to a call to arms, but to have no connection with the Rhode Island National Guard. A permanent organization was organized and these officers elected at a meeting held in Providence: Major G. Edward Burton, Jr., president; Lieutenant Charles C. Goyett, secretary. The officers with Sergeant Ralph S. Glives and Robert L. Richardson form the executive committee of the Rhode Island Plattsburg association. This organization will participate in the parade in Providence next Saturday that will welcome the returning coming of Rhode Island troops from the Mexican border.

Eleven hand fire engines, participated in the spurring contest at the Three States Fair in Crescent park, Friday, and due to the strong head wind only one of them was able to send a stream, or spray of water, 100 feet, the distance to the target paper. The Fire King of Pawtuxet turned the trick, the distance being 153 feet, 4 inches and received the first prize of $200. The balance of the prize money $200, was equally divided among the other ten companies, which were Liberty of East Providence, Protector of Brockton, Enterprise of Cannell, King Philip of Bristol, Mechanic of Warren, Hydrucion of Bristol, Washington of Wickford, Volunteer of East Greenwich, Narragansett of Riverside and Gaspee of Providence.

The schooner Henry P. Hallock that was dismantled off Weekpaug last Friday morning, and the captain and crew, were taken to the station and anchored with masts and spread sail held alongside by the rigging, broke from her anchorage during the strong southerly gale Saturday morning and came ashore directly head on within fifteen feet of the beach just west of Weekpaug point. Should the Hallock be swept by tide and wind swung across the beach, which seemed probable, there would be serious result in that vicinity, as the vessel would interfere with the normal flow of the water from the Atlantic ocean into Brightman's pond. The captain and crew of one man have stood by the Hallock, and the captain and owner has concluded that now there is no hope of saving the vessel. The crews of the Watch Hill and Qu-
