The choir of the Poquonoc Bridge Baptist church sang and a duet by Mrs. Robert Burns and Miss David Welles of Poquonoc was greatly enjoyed. Rev. Mr. Colburn of Old Mystic made the opening prayer and the address was by Rev. O. G. Buddington of the Poquonoc church.

Field and Stream Club.

Members of the Field and Stream club of New London have their camp open at Cedar Lake, Lyme, for the hunting season. The members present are D. S. Marsh, Jr., Ira L. Comstock and Royce Goddard. Mr. Goddard captured a coon that weighed 22-1/2 pounds. Few coons are captured that weigh above 18 or 20 pounds. The club served the coon for 6 o'clock dinner Thursday evening. J. R. Warren of Lyme was an invited guest. Mr. Warren has attended other coon suppers but proclaims this the best by far. The following is the menu served: Braised racoon, brown gravy; white potatoes, sweet potatoes, glazed, scalloped onions, brown bread, corn cakes, apple sauce, coffee and cigars.

Deutschland Will Remain Several Days.

From high authority it was learned Monday afternoon that the Deutschland will in all probability not start on her homeward dash before Saturday or Sunday. Various details remain to be perfected before the submarine can leave. It is stated. The rumor persists that two German U-boats are lying in wait off Block Island to act as convoys, but so far no confirmation of the report is available.

SAID TO WANT PROPERTY IN GROTON.

Charles W. Morse Interests Said to Be Negotiating for Eastern Point Estate.

Negotiations are under way for the acquisition of the three-masted schooner at Eastern Point by the Charles W. Morse interests. Although the deal is reported in real estate circles that the land is as good as transferred. The Morse property is one of the largest estates at Eastern Point. It contains between 23 and 30 acres and extends from the railroad tracks to the shore of the river. It is reported that the Morse people desire the property for the establishment of a shipbuilding plant there. They operate the shipyard at Noank and since that organization has taken control of the shipyard at that place there has been more activity in the village than has been experienced there for years. The Noank plant, it appears, is much more active than the amount of business the Morse people are getting, and the establishment of a plant at Eastern Point would allow the company to go after more contracts. At present they have in the course of construction three masted schooners at Noank. A big five-masted vessel is being built for them by Pendleton Bros., Inc., also at Noank. Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Rows are on a visit in Maine and are not expected to return until the end of the week, so verification of the sale of the property could not be had from them Monday. At the shipyard in Noank it was stated by Capt. Frank Meador, superintendent of the plant, that the deal had not been definitely closed as yet.

CALLED OUT FOR FIRE IN GREENEVILLE.

Swinging Lamp in Hallway Fall and Caused Small Sized Blaze.

At 9:50 o'clock Monday night an alarm from Box 27 called out the fire department for a small sized blaze in the house at No. 419 North Main street occupied by P. Reynolds. The auto pump which is the only city company responding to that box got out on the first round of the box number and made good time in spite of the poor condition of the roads but their services were not needed as the blaze was quickly extinguished. It was caused by the falling of a swinging lamp in the hallway. The Greenville companies also responded. The recall was sounded a few minutes after the alarm.

FOUND HIS COUSIN IN NEW LONDON. Young Greek Unexpectedly Met Relative Whom He Hadn't Seen for Years.

New London was the scene of a happy meeting between cousins which occurred a few days ago. Stephano Chiotell left his old home in Greece and settled in New Hampshire, but the other day decided to change his residence to New London. Naturally he became acquainted with his countrymen who reside there and while lunching with one the other day was introduced to George Lekatas, who recognized Chiotell as his own cousin. George is a young fellow and was only a small child when his cousin came to this country, but they soon became well acquainted and stories of the home town were the main topic of conversation. Young Lekatas has recently been honorably discharged from the Greek army, with which he was connected for over two years as a non-commissioned officer in the 43d infantry, which was stationed in the Balkans and with which he saw active fighting. In one engagement the Bulgarians rushed the Grecian entrenchments and were repulsed with great loss of life, while only one of Lekatas' company was wounded. Mr. Lekatas went to New London about two weeks ago and is now employed in the laundry of one of the hotels.

SUDDEN DEATH OF NEW LONDON CARPENTER.

Frederick A. Keeney Found Lifeless in His Home Monday Morning.

Frederick A. Keeney, a carpenter, 69 years old, was found dead at his home, 70 Mountain avenue, New London, Monday morning. His lifeless body was found on the floor of his home by William J. Chapman. Death was due to a disease of the heart from which he had been suffering for some time. Mr. Keeney lived alone and neighbors had been ministering to his wants for the past few days. Sunday night neighbors heard Mr. Keeney groaning and George D. MacDonald, and Mr. Chapman went to his aid. At 11 o'clock they left Mr. Keeney resting comfortably, and, leaving a window open, told him to call if he needed any help. Nothing was heard of him during the night. Mr. Chapman called at the house Monday morning and found Mr. Keeney lying dead on the floor. Medical Examiner Harold H. Meyer was summoned and decided death to have been caused by a disease of the heart. The deceased had lived in New London, where he was well known, many years. Although suffering from ill health for some time he had been about until recently, on election day being an official in the Third ward. He is survived by a brother, Andrew Keeney, of Waterford.

DEUTSCHLAND TAKING ON SUPPLY OF PROVISIONS

Undersea Freighter Making Final Plans For Her Dash Across the Atlantic.

The loading of the Deutschland has been completed, but at the offices of the Eastern Forwarding Co. Monday morning it was stated that no time had been decided upon for her departure. In view of the fact that orders have been left with merchants to be filled Tuesday, it is regarded as unlikely that the submarine will put out right away. Four tons of provisions, including a large quantity of fresh meat, were placed on board Sunday. The meat, of the finest quality, was cut up before being stowed away in the refrigerating plant and will later be cooked on electric stoves. At the custom house it was stated by Deputy Collector Joseph C. Comstock Monday afternoon that no clearance papers had been issued for the Deutschland. Captain Koenig and officials of the Forwarding Co. paid a visit at the custom house on Monday morning and their presence caused considerable excitement in the vicinity. The party, which arrived in the stolen automobile with American and German flags flying in front, was purchased by New York, Boston and Providence newspapers, who proceeded to make their headquarters in a neighboring cafe whence they could get an unobstructed view of the custom house door. Captain Koenig and his associates remained but a few minutes in the federal building, and subsequent inquiry failed to disclose the nature of their mission, other than that clearance papers had not been given out. After leaving the custom house, Captain Koenig and a companion went into Eaton & Wilson's, the ship chandlery, where they remained a short time. What they purchased is not known, for none of the clerks recognized them. Capt. J. Eaton, head of the firm, was much disappointed when he learned he had not seen his distinguished callers.

Monday was the quietest at the state steamship terminal since the arrival of the Deutschland. There were practically no visitors and no one was expected to be seen. The police were on duty, but no one was expected to be seen. The police were on duty, but no one was expected to be seen. The police were on duty, but no one was expected to be seen.

Several Automobile Accidents.

There were several automobile accidents in and about the borough of Groton during Saturday afternoon and Sunday. A big touring car carrying two passengers went through the Plant estate Saturday after dark with such speed that, being unacquainted with the grounds, it went off the pier into the water, where it still remains. Both young men escaped with a wetting and a scare. Sunday the big Chalmers car owned by Odell Chapman met a Ford, owned by Buddington road, near the home of Charles Noyes in Poquonoc, down a proposition that they travel on the Deutschland. Unless negotiations now under way with the state department to obtain guarantees of safe transport from Great Britain are successful, the plan to send physicians to Germany may be abandoned. It is said. More than $16,000 has been raised in Philadelphia to defray expenses and pay salaries for a six months' stay in Germany and Austria-Hungary. Monday it became known that a movement had been started to send physicians over on the Deutschland. The doctors have refused, it is said, to take chances of capture or death on the submarine merchantman. Saturday evening eight sacks of mail from the German embassy in Washington arrived by train and were hurried in an automobile to the pier, where they were placed on the Deutschland.
