BRED THEATRE

Nance O'Neil in The Iron Woman, Five-part Metro Wonderplay Feature for Today and Thursday.

Today and Thursday the Bred will present the celebrated dramatic artist, Nance O'Neil, in a picturization of Margaret Deland's great novel, The Iron Woman.

Miss O'Neil is seen in the role of Sarah Matland and is all that the photo-drama's title implies. She is truly a woman of iron.

Her husband has left her, his immense iron mills to manage, and she fulfills her trust with grim devotion. It seems as though the iron had entered into her veins and transformed her nature.

She allows no nonsense or levity in her home. She will have no decorations. One purpose runs her, and that is to give over to her son Blair on his graduation from college.

The eighth chapter of the Crimson Stain Mystery which is entitled in the Shadow of Death, completes the bill for today and Thursday.

AT THE AUDITORIUM

Last Chance Today to See The Little Girl Next Door—Alice Brady in The Woman in 47th Coming Tomorrow.

The Little Girl Next Door will be shown today for the last time and no doubt will repeat its big draw: powers again today as it did Monday and Tuesday.

There is a great photodrama scheduled for presentation at this theatre on Thursday, December 7th. It is called "The Woman in 47," and has Alice Brady, the celebrated screen star, in the principal part.

Coming as the next release on the Bred program, it is a striking feature in a long list of striking features, and suffers nothing by comparison with the other successful releases. It has been shown as Equitable releases.

The story is full of striking and tense situations, with thrilling climaxes, and gives the star full opportunity to display of her well known dramatic talents. There is not a dull inch in the full five reels of film, and there is a gripping story line.

Another member of Grant, the Police Reporter series, with George Leikin and a new cartoon comedy will also be shown Thursday.

DAVIS THEATRE

Big Bill of Keith Vaudeville and Triangle Photoplays—New Show Tomorrow.

Today will be the last chance to see the excellent vaudeville and photoplay bill that has been drawing big crowds to this popular playhouse the past two days. The headline attraction, The Meykors, a surprise from the Orient.

This act consists of two pretty girls and a boy who are considered to be the most talented Japanese children before the public today. Their act includes singing, dancing and violin sections. They have a beautiful stage setting that makes the most of pleasing and gives the little folks something to set off their specialty.

Another headliner is Marie's Cockatoos, the act de lux of birding. There are at least 50 birds, and they perform some very difficult feats, one bird doing a loop the loop on a two-wheeled bicycle. The third act is right up to the other two. They are called The Four Wanderers, and they present a delightful program of music, music and melody. The Triangle photoplay feature is called Somewhere in France, and Louise Glaum is the star. This is one of the latest works of the late Richard Harding Davis and is the secret service of the French and German governments. To complete the show there is the usual funny two-reel Keystone comedy to put laughing finish to the whole show. If you haven't seen this bill, be sure and visit the Davis today.

For the last of the week another big bill is booked. The Keith acts are Pearl Abbott & Co. in the delightful comedy sketch called Silver Thru. This is a comedy to put laughing from anything ever seen here and is sure to be a big hit. The Jupiter Trio come next with a sensational three-act bill. There are two men and one lady in the act and they are all physical marvels. The third act is Orr and DeCosta, the songsters and the song writer, Mr. DeCosta has composed many of the late popular successes, including The Little Grey Mother, Monterey, Are You Half the Man Your Mother Thought You'd Be? and many other big hits. The Triangle feature is Besie Love in a Sister of Six, a five-part Griffith play telling of a little girl who takes care of her orphan brothers and sisters and stands up with a rifle and protects their life and home against Mexican bandits.
