AT THE DAVIS THEATRE. Vaudeville and Moving Pictures.

An up-to-the-minute minstrel act, a whirlwind acrobatic and cycling act, and a singing, dancing and costume change specialty, with the usual Triangle feature film and a cartoon photo story of Hans and Fritz. Is the big bill that the Davis theatre is presenting are showing for the first half of the week. It is one of the cleanest and best bills brought to Norwich by the Davis theatre for some months and met with decided approval on the part of the crowded houses at each of the three performances on Monday.

The show is presented by Johnson Brothers and Johnson, a trio of original and genuine comedians who brought down the house. All three have very pleasing voices and are heard in several well rendered selections. The acrobatic and cycling act is staged by Waltur and the Prince-Joseph girls, wonders in their line. Lillian Morley and the McCarthy Sisters are billed as dancers and singers of merit.

Triangle feature photoplay is entitled The Criminal and is a touching story of life in sunny Italy and bustling New York. The cartoon picture was a scream and portrayed Hans and Fritz up to their old tricks on the unsuspecting and innocent captain, who managed to get in wrong with a lion and a monkey loaded with coconuts.
