

STRAWBERRIES KING ORANGES STRING BEANS Hothouse TOMATOES CAULIFLOWER EGG PLANT MUSHROOMS NEW CARROTS NEW BEETS NEW POTATOES

SOMERS

City of Norwich Water Works Office of Board of Water Commissioners, Norwich, Conn., Jan. 1, 1917. Water rates for the quarter ending Dec. 31, 1916, are due and payable at the office Jan. 1, 1917. Office open from 8.30 a. m. until 5 p. m. Additions will be made to all bills remaining unpaid after Jan. 20, 1917. CHARLES W. BURTON, Cashier, Jan 10

New Styles Fall Millinery MRS. G. P. STANTON 62 Franklin Street

LADES! We will cheerfully explain all about our JITNEY PLAN It is a pleasing way to buy Jewelry, Watches, and Diamonds.

THE PLAUT-CADDENCO. Jewelers, Established 1872. PLAUT-CADDEN BUILDING

EAGLES, NOTICE! Installation of Officers this evening by State Officers. Anniversary smoker after meeting. All members requested to be present. VICTOR PAYMENT, President.

Ernest E. Bullard VIOLIN TEACHER All String Instruments repaired Violins sold on easy terms For appointments address E. E. BULLARD, Bliss Place, Norwich, Conn.

Trucking and Teaming A. D. LATHROP Office—cor. Market and Shetucket Sts. Telephone 178

Our Improved Bronchial Lozenges will relieve Hoarseness, Loss of Voice, Coughs and All Irritation of the Throat 10c A BOX AT DUNN'S PHARMACY 50 Main Street.

Deerfoot Sausage PANCAKE FLOUR MAPLE SYRUP LA TOURAINE COFFEE All Seasonable Good Things at People's Market 6 Franklin Street JUSTIN HOLDEN, Proprietor

Overhauling and Repair Work OF ALL KINDS ON AUTOMOBILES, CARRIAGES, WAGONS, TRUCKS and CARTS, Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work. Blacksmithing in all its branches.

Scott & Clark Corp. 507 to 515 North Main St. On account of increase in price of tobacco, the Whitehouse Cigar will be sold from now on at 25c per 100. J. S. CONANT, 31 Franklin St. Jan 14

PERSONALS

Mrs. Phebe Sharp of Abington has been the guest of Groton friends.

George Rathbun has returned to his home in Norwich after spending a week in Hartford.

Miss Ruth Phillips of Peck street is the guest for the week of Rev. and Mrs. William Thayer of Wallingford.

Carlton Harding Havens of Oak street has returned from New York where he has been visiting for the past few days.

Miss Alice Exley of Occum leave today for New York, where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John T. McIntyre for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil A. Jahn of the East Side spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. William Ross of Golden Spur, relatives of Mrs. Jahn.

George Hamilton, Michael White, Misses Anna Nelson and Eleanor Johnson, from Woodstock, attended the State grange meetings at Norwich.

Mrs. G. F. Goodenough, with her two children of Leydard, has been spending a few days at the home of her brother, E. G. Davis in Torrington.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Hulbert have returned to Somers, after spending several days in Norwich where they attended the State grange. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. R. Allen Sikes of Ellington.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO RUN MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN. Ten Captains Selected to Lead Campaign—James L. Case Will Be in Charge.

Saturday morning the temporary membership committee of the Chamber of Commerce of Norwich, which comprises Charles W. Pearson, Charles I. Smith and Herbert R. Branche, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, met at the office of James L. Case on Shetucket street and formulated plans concerning the grand membership campaign that will be launched in a day or so by the chamber. At a recent meeting of the board of directors James L. Case, president of the Y. M. C. A., and one who is thoroughly acquainted with the various phases of work connected with a membership campaign, was appointed to be captain general of the campaign. At Saturday morning's meeting, which was held at 9.30 o'clock, the following captains were selected: Mayor Allyn L. Brown, Herbert R. Branche, Charles I. Smith, Robert W. Perkins, Nelson J. Ayllins, Frank H. Smith, Charles V. James, John M. Lee, Thomas H. Beckley and Charles A. Hasberg.

The captains have all been notified of their appointments and have all accepted and will appoint their own team members, which will consist of ten.

There will be a meeting of the captains of the teams this morning, at which time the names of various people will be assigned. The city directory has been divided into lots of 10, with 10 pages in each lot, and there will be drawings for the various lots.

Members of the chamber who have not secured their tickets for the grand banquet of the Eastern Connecticut Chamber of Commerce that takes place in this city had better take the opportunity now, was the statement given out by an official of the Chamber of Commerce Sunday night, as it has been learned that the tickets are going rapidly and there is expected no returns from tickets sent out of town. This is the biggest event of the year for the eastern body, and as this year the speaking will be exceptionally good, besides other attractions.

FUNERAL. Edwin Oldfield. Many relatives and friends were in attendance at the funeral of Edwin Oldfield which was held from his late home, 635 Main street, Saturday afternoon. There were many present.

It is stated that Mrs. William D. Fitch is to give the sophomore week festivities at Yale university, Monday afternoon, February 5. It will be held at the New Haven Lawn club.

In the Montclair, N. J., Art Museum an exhibition of childhood as presented in painting and sculpture will be held through the present month. Among the contributing painters is J. Alden Weir, of New York and Windham.

At Christ church, Sunday, the rector, Rev. Richard R. Graham, announced that next Sunday, St. Agnes' day, dress manufacturers almost agree to the service in the evening and reception of new members of St. Agnes' guild.

The flock of starlings which have infested steeples hereabouts for some time are now a pest in Waterbury, having flown from the steeple from their homes in the First Baptist church tower and the cupola of the city hall.

Automobile registration for 1917 in the office of the secretary of state shows a total of date of $69,537, as compared with 276,322 last year. The number of registrations applied for by mail is $1,997 and individually 5,216.

Groton grange heard reports of the National and State granges and enjoyed an auction of box lunches Friday evening. Mrs. Albert Thompson and Charles M. Adams gave reports of the state grange held in Norwich.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Bates of Plainville have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Phebe, to Luke Scarborough Morse of Groton. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. M. Adams gave reports of the Pequot section. Mr. Butt was graduated from Harvard.

The cheering news comes to silk manufacturers in Connecticut that silks are being used by New York dress manufacturers almost. Against the utter exclusion of cottons in Spring models, this being especially true in the case of the higher priced goods.

The American Red Cross has received an appeal for reading matter for the American troops now on duty on the Texas border and in Mexico, through Colonel J. R. Keane, Medical Corps, U. S. A., as director general of the Red Cross.

At a meeting of the board of managers of the Central Baptist church last week, it was unanimously voted to extend to Raymond Grant the appreciation of the board for the valuable chart of the new seating in the auditorium efficiently and gratuitously prepared by him.

Large Number Saw "Creation" at Davis. Davis theatre was packed Sunday night when the second of the serial photodrama on Creation, was shown.

A waterfall in Norway will be harnessed and made to provide 125,000-horsepower for smelting and refining zinc ore.

Printers to Observe 30th Anniversary

Banquet Will be Held in March—George A. Risley Re-elected President at Meeting Saturday Night—Reports Showed Union in Good Condition.

The fiftieth anniversary of the Norwich Typographical Union, No. 190, will be fittingly observed in the early part of March when the printers will hold a banquet at the Wauregan house.

The union was organized on March 2, 1867, and has now 31 members. Three of the charter members are still alive and they are Homer Bliss of Plainfield, Ambrose Higgins of Jewett City and Mr. Emsbury of Boston.

The annual reports, which were read by the secretary, treating of the year very gratifying, showing that the organization is in a good sound financial condition. The reports were a most successful year. During the past year the organization lost one member by death, Tyler Roath.

At the annual election of officers the following were elected: President, George A. Risley; vice president, Frank Trankia; secretary, George B. Nebert; treasurer, Frank E. Wilson; standing committee, George A. Risley, William C. Amburn, Perry H. Corning; auditing committee, Peter Flynn, William F. Metzger, William M. Savage; sergeant at arms, Peter Flynn; label committee, James Burdick, William F. Metzger, Frank Wilson.

The delegates to the Central Labor Union will be selected at the next regular meeting.

The members were installed by Eugene F. Sullivan.

DR. SLOCUM DELIVERED IMPRESSIVE SERMON

Pastor's Theme Was on the Men Who Made Good.

Rev. Joel B. Slocum, D. D., pastor of the Central Baptist church, delivered an impressive sermon on the subject "The Men Who Made Good."

Dr. Slocum said in part: "Moses stands out among the great men of all time. He was remarkable not only as the emancipator of a people from their bondage, but he exhibited powers of mind and qualities of character that have identified him with the development of the human race."

He was the acknowledged leader of a people that must have numbered two million souls. He spent the first forty years of his life in the court of Pharaoh, his time being devoted to study, to the luxurious recreations of a king's palace, and to military exploits; for he was a successful general in leading the armies of Egypt to war against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

When he reached the age of forty, something happened that brought out the fiery impetuosity of his nature and he became a patriotic and devoted to his own people. An Egyptian overseer as beating a Hebrew. Moses looked about him and saw no one who would stand up for him against her enemies. Undoubtedly he sat at the same table with Pharaoh and enjoyed intimacy not only with the king, but also with the priests and magicians of that brilliant court. Secretly, however, he was at heart identified with the hopes and struggles of his own people.

STATE POLICE RAIDED DEL-HOFF HOTEL

Eight Men Arrested and One of the Proprietors—They Will Appear Before City Court Today.

Right in the midst of the driving rain storm, Sunday morning, shortly after 10.30 o'clock, the state police, under the direction of Sergeant Robert Bridgeman, raided the Del-Hoff hotel and arrested eight men and one of the proprietors, who were arrested for selling liquor on Sunday.

The police who have been operating out of the No. 2000 name here by auto and had little trouble in gaining admission to the barroom where they found the men.

At police headquarters the men gave their names as Michael Shahan, Frank Stockdale, Frank E. Ladd, James Perry, Dennis O'Neill, Thomas Doyle, John Dundras, William Bowler and James Higgins. James Hayes, one of the proprietors, was taken to headquarters.

All the men are out on bonds and will appear before the city court this morning. The officers in the raid besides Sergeant Bridgeman were Jackson, Downing, Wheeler and Budd.

COTTAGE WITH GREEN FLAG LEFT UNMOLESTED

Thieves Broke into Cottages at Bartlett's Heights.

Some time during the past week thieves broke into and ransacked several cottages located at Bartlett's Heights on the west bank of the Thames, below Montville. The cottage owned by Charles Perry and occupied by the St. Joseph's Sodality of this city was not so lucky to suffer the greatest loss, mattresses, bed clothing, articles of wearing apparel, a razor, suit of clothes and all the kitchen fixtures were taken. The Blue cottage, the one that caused so much discussion because of the green flag that waved over it during the past summer, was entered by a party of value was taken. Owners of cottages at Browning's Beach report that every one of the cottages on the beach had been entered and everything of value taken.

Authorities in the towns of Montville and Waterbury had been notified and they are on the watch for the thieves and it is expected that they will be apprehended within a short while.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

At Regular Meeting of I. O. B. O. Held Sunday Afternoon—$50 Contributed to Relief Fund.

At the regular meeting of Independent Norwich lodge, No. 308, I. O. B. O., President A. Shanker presiding, the regular business was transacted and the following officers installed by David Shastey, president: S. W. Wener, vice president; Max Sirkin, secretary; D. Goler; treasurer; I. Hyman; trustee; M. Gotwick; outside guard, Wolf Blinderman.

At the special meeting held following the regular session it was voted to give $50 to the fund for Jewish war sufferers.

SPIRITUAL ACADEMY

Mrs. S. C. Bradley of Chicago Delivered Interesting Address.

At the Spiritual Academy Sunday in spite of the bad weather there were large congregations at both services conducted by Mrs. S. C. Bradley of Chicago. The Spiritual World and evening addresses at both morning and evening services. The morning subject was Soul Growth and the evening subject, The Spiritual World and Mrs. Bradley said in part: "That because we do not see spirits and we do not feel the tangible presence of our re-arrisen loved ones is no reason to declare that they are not here or that they do not still exist. The microscope was invented humanity did not know the life that existed in a drop of water, nor did we realize the immensity of the heavenly bodies until the telescope gave us a knowledge about them. To those who are organically fitted to discern spirits, or to catch the vibrations of the unseen realm of life, the spirit world is as real as was the planets, and solar systems to the earlier users of the telescope."

Following each lecture Mrs. Bradley gave a large number of psychic messages.

OBITUARY

William Crowell. William Crowell died at his home in Elm street, Noank, at 2 o'clock Saturday morning after a short illness from pneumonia. His death was much of a surprise, as up to Friday he was improving in several ways and the disease had affected only one lung. His weakened condition from illness of a year ago, together with the action of the medicine and Friday a consultation of physicians was held and a trained nurse established at the bedside.

Mr. Crowell was a faithful member of the Baptist church, which loses in his death one of its staunchest adherents.

George B. Parker. The death of George B. Parker occurred suddenly in New York city on Sunday morning as a result of apoplexy. Mr. Parker was a native of Norwich, having been born here in 1849, and was the son of Ebenezer F. and Susan C. Parker. His childhood was spent in this city where he attended the schools. For several years he was employed by the Norwich and Worcester railroad and upon leaving their employ he went to New York where he has since resided. In New York he was engaged in the hotel business, being manager of the Buckingham hotel, and the Tuxedo club, and later was connected with the Brighton.

He is survived by four brothers, Walter F. and Ebenezer F., both of Norwich, and Robbe B. and John B. of this city. Mr. Parker's body will be brought here Tuesday morning for burial.

Mrs. Edwin Ingraham. The death of Ida Miner, aged 60, widow of Edwin Ingraham, occurred at the home of her niece, Mrs. Allen Thornton, with whom she resided, in Farwell street, shortly before 6 o'clock Saturday morning after an illness covering a period of three years. Mrs. Ingraham made her home here.

It is especially illustrated by the magnificent system of jurisprudence which was introduced by the physical, moral, social and spiritual good of the people, they caught, again and again, the vision of his sublimely ungodly power, and they passed on to the world while Moses himself endured an agonizing time which is in our day to follow the highest authority and spiritual ideal. That authority is Jesus Christ.

Then Moses inspired the people with his own ideals. He did this in spite of the unfavorable conditions that frequently attended his leadership.

Then Moses inspired the people with his own ideals. He did this in spite of the unfavorable conditions that frequently attended his leadership.

Then Moses inspired the people with his own ideals. He did this in spite of the unfavorable conditions that frequently attended his leadership.

Then Moses inspired the people with his own ideals. He did this in spite of the unfavorable conditions that frequently attended his leadership.

Then Moses inspired the people with his own ideals. He did this in spite of the unfavorable conditions that frequently attended his leadership.

Then Moses inspired the people with his own ideals. He did this in spite of the unfavorable conditions that frequently attended his leadership.

FINE FOR RHEUMATISM!

Musterole Loosens Up Those Stiff Joints—Drives Out Pain

You'll know why thousands use Musterole once you experience the glad relief it gives.

Get a jar at once from the nearest drug store. It is a clean, white ointment made with the oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does no harm. Brings ease and comfort while it is being rubbed on!

Musterole is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Millions of jars are used annually for bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

MUSTEROLE

CUMMINGS & RING

Funeral Directors and Embalmers

337 MAIN STREET Opposite Post Office Phone 238-2 Lady Assistant

where she was born, up to 12 years ago, when she moved to Pawtucket. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Miner. Surviving are two granddaughters, Mrs. Frank D. Davis of this city and Mrs. Bertha Bishop of Sterling. There is also a brother, Calvin, Miner, of Greenfield.

Miss Mrs. Ingraham were well known here. Mrs. Ingraham was a member of the First Baptist church and of Sedgwick Woman's Relief corps. Mr. Ingraham died shortly after moving to Pawtucket.

JACOB DE HAAS ADDRESSED

YOUNG MEN'S HEBREW ASS'N. Spoke on Relief Work—Naturalization Meeting Will be Held.

At the regular meeting of the Young Men's Hebrew Association held in their rooms, $21 was collected for the benefit of the Jewish War Sufferers. The meeting was presided over by President Benjamin Weinstein.

Jacob De Haas, editor of the Jewish Advocate of Boston, spoke along the lines of relief work which proved to be very interesting.

It was announced that a naturalization and citizenship meeting would be held next week Friday, in the order of the auspices of the society when Mayor Brown, Superintendent of Schools Graham, Benjamin Everts, director of the immigration and citizenship department of the Y. M. H. A. will be the speakers.

James Curtis Presented With a Charm. James Curtis, who left the employ of the Hopkins & Allen Arms Co., on Saturday, was presented with a Masonic ring and charm by many of his friends. E. L. Maynard made the presentation expressing the regret of the friends in losing Mr. Curtis and wished him success in his new field. Mr. Curtis in a speech of acceptance, thanked his friends for the good will shown him.

Leak in Water Main. A water main on lower Broadway springing a leak Sunday night was repaired by the department men.

Incidents in Society

Miss Lottie S. Squire is spending a few days in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Austin of Washington street spent part of last week in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic W. Cary have left town to pass several weeks in Summit, N. J., and New York.

Mrs. John P. Huntington, of Norwich attended a tea given by Mrs. Almon P. Bowen at her home at 63 Church street, New London, Friday.

Mrs. Frank A. Mitchell was a member of a box party at Parsons theatre, Hartford, Friday evening, to hear Dr. Katherine Bement Davis of Bedford, N. Y.

B. & M. TELEGRAPHERS

VOTE TO QUIT WORK Unless Their Demands For a Wage Increase is Granted.

Boston, Jan. 14.—Union telegraphers employed by the Boston and Main railroad voted tonight to quit work unless their demands for a wage advance and a new working schedule were granted at once or unless an immediate conference on the demands were held by the railroad management. Because of the fact that the road is in the hands of a receiver the resolution adopted avoided use of the word "strike" but instructed the general committee of the division branch of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers to make the necessary arrangements for the men to "leave the service