UNION SERVICE PLANNED FOR GOOD FRIDAY. Five Down-Town Churches Have Joined in Movement.

The union service of five down-town churches to be held in the Trinity Methodist church on Good Friday, on April 6, has been planned with a view to deepening the devotional impression of the day by following somewhat closely the actual course of the Crucifixion.

It appears from the gospel accounts that the preparations were completed and the Saviour nailed to the cross in three o'clock p. m. During this time the increasing intensity of the victim's suffering was borne in silence, until, near the end, the agonizing exclamations which make up the number of the Seven Words were uttered in close succession.

Corresponding with these events will be the continuous service from twelve to one o'clock p. m., consisting of the Seven Words. Each portion will include a brief address by one of the ministers of the city, together with such Scripture, prayer, and song as shall best serve the devotional intent.

HEATHER HAT TRIMMING

AMONG NEW OFFERINGS. Bewildering Variety of Pretty Things Employed in Adorning This Season's Headwear—Combinations That Are Popular.

Some of the most fascinating trimmings for hats are those which are made in a variety and novelty of design quite bewildering.

In flowers, there are most realistic pansies, roses, forget-me-nots, violets and the like. Then charming sprays, dainty heather, smart knots of cherry, fine French curls, fancy grapes and foliage, beaded motifs, odd and dainty conceits in Oriental coloring and designs, there seem to be endless offerings in the way of hat adornment.

Yet for all this, hats in the main are simple this Spring. That is, they have not the overloaded look of some former seasons.

A handsome model brought to the fore yesterday was a saucer shape, upturned facing in black lisse, with upper brim design of old rose. Its strikingly effective trimming was an embroidered ornament in old rose silk in wing effect.

A mushroom hat had its brim of Copen blue crepe, and its crown of alternating ribbons in navy, old rose, and old blue. A beautiful design this, and one greatly admired.

A novelty silk was developed in a large mushroom shape. It was with trimming of Oriental motifs, crown band and binding of the fashionable crepe.

Swagger in the extreme was a Georgia large hat in canary crepe, with black velvet cat-tails on the crown and black velvet ribbon at the back.

President Joseph Kucher of the Central Labor union announced at the regular meeting of the organization held in Carpenters' hall on Tuesday night that the police commissioners have refused to grant the local Machinists' union the privilege of conducting street meetings.

It is said the Central Labor union has taken up the matter of the refusal of the police commissioners and expect to push it, and if necessary they will take the steps to call a city meeting.

A joint committee of the Machinists' union and the Central Labor union waited on the mayor last week relative to the matter of the refusal of a labor official Tuesday night that the mayor refused to give out any statement, but left the matter entirely in the hands of the police commissioner.

The central body endorsed the strike of the velvet weavers in Willimantic. The report of delegates concerning the strike filed in the state legislature stated that most of the bills introduced by labor were rejected.

There was a lengthy discussion on the question of labor in the future guarding against the sending of men to the legislature who will not cooperate and look after the welfare of the workman.
