FATHER PORTANCE AND HIS HIGH CALLING

Norwich Young Man, Ordained Pentecost Sunday, Celebrates First Solemn Mass at St. Patrick's—College Mate Preaches on Priest's High Calling—Hundreds Receive Holy Levite's Blessing.

For the second time within a few years, the pastor of St. Patrick's church had cause for rejoicing Sunday.

In being able to assist at the first solemn high mass celebrated by a young man of the parish who had dedicated his life to the service of God in the holy priesthood.

Less than two years ago, Henry J. Coleman came back to his home church following his ordination, to celebrate his first solemn mass, and yesterday the newly ordained young priest was Rev. Alvinus Rol Portance, son of Mrs. Alphonse and the late Adolph R. Portance, of 443 Main street.

In spite of a stormy morning the church held a very fine ceremony, including relatives and friends of the family, as well as many acquaintances from neighboring parishes.

ANNUAL MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR ODD FELLOWS

Members of Local Lodges Held Special Address by First Baptist Pastor.

At the First Baptist church Sunday morning there was a large delegation of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges at their annual memorial service.

The church was attractively decorated with many flowers and with the flag and with red, white and blue streamers.

A programme of music was given by the choir. Beside the organ were Fred Benson, violin; LaRue Bliven, cornet, and Harry Ward, slide trombone. A number of solo ensembles were a duet by Messrs. Harry Ward and LaRue Bliven.

Rev. Mr. Strouse, the pastor, gave a special message from the theme, "This Present Hour." Mr. Strouse said in part:

My dear Friends: I gave you a cordial invitation to this holy sanctuary Sunday morning and your annual memorial service, we may fellowship together.

It is a rare treat to speak to men. It is a rare treat to speak to men. It is a rare treat to speak to men.

We are here not to be jolled, not to dream nor drift, but to "be" men. But what does "be" mean? Does a man make good who has a large bank account, who rides in the limousine, who lives in the most stately house on the street? No, emphatically no. The man "makes good" who so lives and works that he at last wins his Maker's approval. My theme contains but three words, "This Present Hour."

With the past we have nothing to do. There are no regrets and no stings in each life. In them we manifest no pride, German skill nor Yankee gentility. We have no associations that will eat the stings of the fabric of life. One chemical alone will eat the precious blood of the Son of God.

This present hour finds us in possession of a great heritage. Someone has beautifully written of the unparalleled opportunities of the present hour. For us Plato and Shakespeare thought for us, Dante and Milton sang for us, Edison and Newton toiled for us, Angelo and Raphael painted for us, Genghis and Francis lived saintly lives for us, thousands have died on the battlefields and for the purity of our religion, thousands have died at the stake, and the world has been enriched by their deaths.
