Children's Exercises. Last Sunday, the "Children of the Pilgrims" service was beautifully given by choir and Sunday school although after a two weeks' postponement. Mr. St. Johns of the Methodist church was present and took part. Many of the Methodist people were welcomed. Hiram Halloway assisted with his violin. The increased choir gave the "Pilgrim Chorus" from Taunthausen with great spirit. The hymn "Our Father" and the "Pledge of the Pilgrims" were especially beautiful, together with the quaint rendering of the Shepherd psalm as sung by the Plymouth 1620 and printed in the first English book in America in 1640.

The responsibility of Our Pilgrim Heritage and the Mission of Our Pilgrim Faith were voiced in Bamberbridge's more modern Day by Day, with Songs of Gladness, and the psalm "When He Cometh to Make His Jews." Two songs, "We've a Story to Tell the Nations," "The Landing of the Pilgrims" was recited by Miriam Cornell and the dialogue "The Mayflower" by A. J. Bennett, Betty Aiden and Peregrine White was beautifully given by Helen Brown and Henry White. Amos, Cornelius and Susan Whitford, "Faith of Our Fathers." A company of little folks gave the ten commandments in simple verse, and the "Pledge of the Pilgrims" with the Christian hope and service. Fred Graves recited "America's Flag" and the congregation sang "The Pilgrim's Prayer" and the "Pledge of the Pilgrims" and Earl Carpenter, Victoria Armstrong, Ruth Moore, Ruth Davis, Helen Brown and Beatrice Hart. A beautiful part of the service was the baptism preceded by the solo "When He Cometh to Make His Jews." WESTMINSTER

Food Saving Day Observed at Congregational Church—Rev. T. Edward Davies Preaches on That Topic.

In response to the request of Herbert Hoover, Director of U. S. Food Supply, Westminister's pastor, observed last Sunday as "Food Saving Day," anticipating the date by one week since before receipt of the call. Children's day had been planned for July 1st, and the pastor spoke of food as an indispensable need for the soldier and for those at home, vital and imperative. The duty of producing and conserving the food as an act of patriotism as truly as being on the battlefield. The food reserve is lower than at any time in the history of modern times, and the government is calling for a smaller number of producers, but their and our families must be fed, and the soldier must have good food, to be strong for their duties. Beside being patriotic, the army of food producers will be sure of a just profit for the product of the war and for several years after, at least. Women must and will help win the war by wise economies.
