NO SEPTEMBER HOLIDAYS FOR CLERKS THIS YEAR Merchants Defer Action on Clerks' Petition—Ten Firms and Seven Lines of Business Represented at Meeting.

The Willimantic clerks will work during the Thursday afternoons during September, as action on their petition contrary to that effect has deferred until next year.

Eleven merchants were present representing ten firms and seven lines of business. The following attended: Charles Thompson of the Spelman Meat Market; Jeremiah Sullivan and John Brick of the Brick & Sullivan Shoe company; James Hurley of the Hurley and Grant Hardware company; J. J. Deane of the C. C. Lincoln Furniture company; Edward F. Whitmore of the Whitmore Dry Goods company; Joseph St. George of the St. George Market; Arthur Racicot, of Racicot's Market; Peter Laramee of the Laramee Market; J. C. Tracy of the J. C. Tracy Jewelry company; Lester Blah, of the F. D. Blah Grocery store; T. Frank Cunningham of the Church Feed company; and George L. Holt of the Jordan Hardware company.

The merchants were most favorable of the continued half holiday and although they advocated it, they said that they would stand by the majority. They said that Thursday was always a dull day and it gave them a holiday. The clothing stores were very much against the proposition as they said that their fall goods arrive during September and they must be marked and sorted and as there are only two months during the fall season and the half holiday would spoil one day a week during one month of the season.

The hardware stores did not like the idea but they said that they would agree with the majority. Many of the merchants though closing Thursday afternoons during September practical, but the short notice this year was almost impossible. People from the surrounding places are aware that the holidays on Thursday day have more cause to ask for it than any other.

Joseph St. George said that many of the stores that go under the name of grocery stores are taken, as they sell everything and are open all of the time. Several of the merchants then inquired how many members of the Clerks' Protective association are still clerks. Only four could be thought of. They also inquired how many of the neighboring cities have half holidays during the summer months and when these holidays dropped.

John Brick said that his clerks are satisfied, as they have two weeks vacation with pay. They had the half holidays during July and August. The merchants agreed that they were in favor of it when given notice and said that anything of such nature should be decided a month ahead of time as the date ending the half holiday has been advertised very much. At 8:27, after twenty minutes of lively debate on the subject, the motion in favor of the proposal at the meeting, that the merchants take no action on the request, was unanimously voted.
