HAVE ADOPTED COMMERCIAL ECONOMY RECOMMENDATIONS

Object to Release Man Power Employed in Non-essential Service.

Many Connecticut towns and cities have adopted the commercial economy recommendations of the council of national defense.

These recommendations include economies in retail merchandising intended to release man power and materials previously employed in non-essential services so as to make them available for essential industries.

Local chambers of commerce in many parts of the state have co-operated in putting these recommendations into force.

In a number of towns where there are no chambers of commerce, the merchants have taken the matter up themselves with gratifying results.

The task of bringing this matter before the people of Connecticut was delegated to the council of national defense to a division of its committee on industrial survey with Alton T. Miner of New London, as chairman.

This division was elected on recommendation of the council of national defense in council of defense work has now been made possible through the appointment by the council of a committee on commercial relations, and according to announcement made today the commercial economy division has now been put under its jurisdiction.

The essential features of the commercial economy recommendations were pointed out by Governor Marcus H. Holcomb in a recent statement urging Connecticut people to support this work.

These are given in the government statement as follows:

(a) By restricting deliveries to one per day over a given route.

(b) By eliminating special deliveries.

(c) By organization of co-operative deliveries.

(d) By eliminating return or C. O. D. purchases.

(e) By requiring the purchasing public to carry its own parcels, provided the purchaser does not use a private automobile to go and get the parcel.

MONTHLY MEETING OF BOYS' SERVICE LEAGUE

Address by Rev. Charles H. Ricketts Follows Supper at Y. M. C. A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Boys' Service League was held at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening. Supper was served, after which Rev. C. H. Ricketts gave the boys a splendid address on the subject of "The Boys' Service League."

Among other things Mr. Ricketts told the boys that it took more than a palace to produce a king. He also said that Washington and Lincoln were among the highest types of kindly men. Mr. Ricketts urged the boys to make the most of themselves and to develop in themselves those qualities that make men mighty.

After this address there was a debate on the following subject:

"Resolved, That a High School boy is more valuable to his country on a farm than in a munition factory. A vote was taken after the debate and it was decided that the affirmative had the best of the argument. The ladies of the league headed the supper with Mrs. Hill, Miss Osgood, Miss Martha Osgood, Miss Richards, Mrs. William Fitch, Miss Ruby Vaughn and Miss Ethel Morgan.

There was a report given showing that forty-eight of the boys who pledged themselves to earn and give $10 for the Red Triangle work among the sailors and soldiers had paid in the full amount, that nine others had paid in some of the money and that only four boys had failed to make any return on their pledge.

WORKMEN ARE ANGERED BY SPECIAL AGENTS

Twelve Hundred Refused to Board Special Train For Submarine Base

Angered by the action of special agents of the New Haven road, about 1,200 men employed by the Kelley Construction Co., working on government work at the submarine base, crowded the platform at Union station in New London, Wednesday morning and refused to board the special train which was to have transported them to the base.

When the train pulled into the station from the yard about 11:30 men got on and while the crowd did not attempt to forcibly prevent them, many derisive remarks and scornful looks were directed at the special agents, a few minutes, the train left the station, with the 25 workmen and train crew as passengers to fill the long line of coaches.

The trouble arose when the men, following their usual custom, walked into the freight yard at the west end of the station, where the special train was being made up and boarded the train. Two coaches were crowded with men, when Special Agent Walsh and two assistants came along the tracks, warning the men that they were trespassing. The special agents then went to the train where the workmen were seated, and are alleged to have placed the men under arrest. The doors of the coaches in which the men were arrested were locked. With this a wall of protest went up, and as many of the workmen are foreigners, excitement ran high. The crowd refused to get on the train and John H. Perkins was elected clerk and John Franka as a member of the society committee.

Six applications for membership were presented and laid upon the table after the applicants who were present had been asked by the chairman to withdraw. It was pointed out that it was illegal to act upon the applications at that time, although it has always been the custom in the past.

A resolution was then presented authorizing the society committee, in consultation with the United church and agreeing to pay all of the liabilities and debts of every nature of the society to transfer the real estate in possession of the society to the said United church. Following a discussion the resolution was adopted by a vote of 19 to 14.

A resolution authorizing the transfer of all the personal property of the society except such as may be in the present possession and used by the present occupants to the United church under similar conditions as the previous resolution was adopted by a vote of 19 to 14.

A third resolution authorized the society committee to take any legal action necessary to secure the execution and fulfillment of the trusts of the society according to the intent of the donors, to secure their proper and beneficial administration by some other trustee than this society according to the intent of the donors to secure their proper and beneficial administration by some other trustee than this society, to institute and defend any and all actions at law necessary to secure the release of the property of the society, to release all of the society's right and title as trustee of the funds to the United church and authorizing the society treasurer to execute the trusts of the church was adopted by a vote of 19 to 14.

That concluded the business of the meeting and adjournment was taken.

FAITH TRUMBULL CHAPTER HOLDS APRIL MEETING.

Interesting Papers Read by Mrs. Edward J. Graham and Miss Mary E. Wattle.

Mrs. Otto E. Wolf, Mrs. Herbert B. Cary and Mrs. Will L. Stearns entertained the members of the Faith Trumbull chapter, D. A. R., in the parlors of the Broadway church on Wednesday afternoon at the April meeting of the chapter. This was conducted by the regent, Mrs. William Tyler Brown, and the defunct of Burgess was followed by the singing of America. Miss Annie E. Vaughn in the piano. Mrs. Albert H. Chase gave a four-minute talk on the third Liberty loan, and the chapter had already voted to subscribe. She gave many good arguments for additional personal interest in the loan by members and their friends. When none of us are suffering from the hardships and perils that our allied citizens are enduring in devastated lands across the sea, saving our money to help our own country put an end to all this terrible suffering of the things every patriotic person can do.

Mrs. Channing M. Huntington, chairman of the war relief committee, spoke of the present need of clothing for the Belgian refugees and of the friendly offer from the local Red Cross chapter to give the Daughters the privilege of making up some of these garments which she has purchased and the materials used in Belgium and cut by the patterners they use over there. This offer was unanimously accepted by the chapter and twelve members immediately volunteered to take charge of the work. The need of raising money for war relief work was discussed and Mrs. Huntington's proposal to give a large party this spring was approved.

An appeal from the state registrar urged every daughter to prove her inheritance and her right to belong to a patriotic organization by contributing her mite towards the $100,000 Liberty loan bond which the national society hopes to purchase at this time as an evidence of the loyalty of its 100,000 members.

The observation of wool was another matter brought forward and it was urged that none be used for unnecessary sweaters or dress trimmings. Sweaters, socks and hosiery are needed for the sailors and marines who are continually arriving in New London without sufficient warm clothing, and may be given to Lucretia Shaw chapter.

Recommend Combination.

The federal food administration is recommending to bakers throughout the state that in the use of 100 per cent wheat substitutes in bakery bread, they employ a combination rather than rely on a single substitute. Substitutes may be combined in various ways to equal the required amount of substitutes. It is explained, and some of these combinations have been found to make a better quality bread than the containing only one substitute. Some mixtures of corn and rice have been found to work better than corn alone, and potatoes with cereal substitutes make a better bread than potatoes alone as a substitute.

It is energetically denied by the Council of the Committee of the Leabannon have the intention of renouncing their life-long friendship with France.

SECOND CHURCH PROPERTY TO BE TRANSFERRED

When Broadway Church Changes Name to United Congregational Church.

At a special meeting of the Ecclesiastical society of the Second Congregational church, Wednesday evening in the church parlors, for the purpose of taking action upon the transfer of property and funds in connection with the merger of the Broadway and Second churches, there was an attendance of about 35 and following a discussion lasting an hour and forty minutes resolutions were adopted authorizing the transfer of the real estate of the church to the United church and the church property affected a change of name to the United Congregational Church of Norwich, Conn., Inc.

After calling the meeting to order Chairman J. H. Sherman of the society committee asked A. L. Peale to act as chairman for the meeting. Objection was made but upon a motion being passed to that effect it was carried. Chairman Peale stated that he had the resignation of Daniel S. Havland as clerk of the society and member of the society committee, which resignation was accepted by the society. John H. Perkins was elected clerk and John Franka as a member of the society committee.

Six applications for membership were presented and laid upon the table after the applicants who were present had been asked by the chairman to withdraw. It was pointed out that it was illegal to act upon the applications at that time, although it has always been the custom in the past.

A resolution was then presented authorizing the society committee, in consultation with the United church and agreeing to pay all of the liabilities and debts of every nature of the society to transfer the real estate in possession of the society to the said United church. Following a discussion the resolution was adopted by a vote of 19 to 14.

A resolution authorizing the transfer of all the personal property of the society except such as may be in the present possession and used by the present occupants to the United church under similar conditions as the previous resolution was adopted by a vote of 19 to 14.

That concluded the business of the meeting and adjournment was taken.

THE FINISHED MYSTERY

Officials of the department of justice who operate in Connecticut have been instructed to prosecute all persons "consciously distributing" copies of "The Finished Mystery," a book purporting to be a compilation of manuscripts of Pastor Russell which has been declared to violate the espionage act. This information has been received by the Connecticut State Council of Defense in response to a letter from the council to the department of justice calling attention to the volume.

Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes and sprinkled in the footbed. The Pittsburg Camp Manual advises men in training to use Foot-Ease in their shoes each morning. It prevents blisters and sore spots and relieves pain, swollen, smarting feet and takes the sting out of corns and bunions. A certain relief for sweating, callous, pruned, aching feet. Always use Allen's Foot-Ease to break in new shoes. Sold everywhere, 25c.

The chapter's aim for some time has been the starting of a museum for colonial relics, and it was suggested that a beginning should be made, possibly by having an exhibit some time during the summer.

Mrs. William Crowe favored the chapter with two groups of songs, given at this time a Laddie in Khaki and the encore number, A Secret. Miss Crowe accompanied the singing.

Two excellent papers were read by Mrs. Edward J. Graham and Miss Mary E. Wattle. Miss Graham told of Our Past Alliance. One hundred and forty years ago, when we suddenly found that we needed munitions with which to fight our war of defense, we turned to France. In France the spirit of freedom had already begun to circulate and the people were favorable to our desire for justice and later for freedom. Individual help was given at first and later the Battle of Saratoga and the defeat of Burgoyne was followed by a treaty of alliance and the recognition of our republic. Later Rochambeau was sent over by the government and, with De Grasse on sea, helped us greatly in the defeat of Cornwallis at Yorktown. All this was done without any desire for gain on the part of the French, just as we are doing now for them. Mrs. Graham also told of the museum and school at Lafayette's old home in France.

Mrs. Crowe gave two other delightful selections and then Miss Wattle gave a clear and concise account of our Present Alliance, giving the names of all the countries at war with Germany and the dates of their entrance into the struggle. Many of these joined through the influence of examples of the United States until now nearly two-thirds of the whole world are engaged. Their unity of purpose is made plain in their selection of General Poch as commander-in-chief and they are all continuing the fight for freedom in which the French came to our aid years ago. She closed with Washington's prayer.
