

Face Disfigured With Pimples

Also on Hands, Itched and Could Not Sleep.

One Box Cuticura Ointment and One and a Half Cakes Soap Healed.

My face and hands broke out with pimples. They began to run and itch, and were sore and inflamed. I kept scratching which kept them, instead, and I could not sleep. My face was so disfigured that I could not go out.

With an apparent tendency to skin troubles you should use these fragrant super-creaming emollients for all toilet purposes. They prevent as well as preserve, purify and beautify.

A MEAL IN ITSELF

Did you ever hear of a "Clark Street Sandwich" so called from Clark Street, Chicago? Take two slices of our bread, which is especially suitable for sandwiches. Butter them well. Fry a tender piece of sugar-cured ham. Also fry an egg hard. Put the ham and the egg between the slices of bread. Then you will have a regular meal in itself.

PERSONALS

Mrs. M. Edmiston of Norwich is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Hart, of Hartford.

Mrs. Daniel C. Rupp of New Haven is spending a few weeks at the home of Mrs. Frank A. Biel on West Thames street.

Miss Susan M. Wilcox of Norwich has been the guest of Prof. Errol K. Wilcox and family at their home in Stonington.

C. J. Bushnell of Sunnyside avenue has received a card from his son, Sgt. W. C. Bushnell, who has arrived safely overseas.

Mrs. George Malcolm has received a card from her son, George Malcolm, telling of his safe arrival overseas with the 56th regiment.

Miss Ruth E. Maize, who successfully taught the North Stonington village primary school last term, commenced teaching in Ledyard Monday.

Misses Mary and Atria St. John of New London and Miss Margaret Crawford of Providence were week end guests of Misses Wholey of Park street, Norwich.

News received Wednesday from Mrs. Richard B. Graham, who underwent a surgical operation at a Providence hospital a few days ago, was very encouraging.

Mrs. Frank Chase and Miss Helen Highland of Norwich have returned to this city after a brief visit with Mrs. Chase's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Koster, of 45 Austin street, Danbury.

James L. Wheeler of New London, formerly of Norwich, chairman of the supreme grand lodge of the Connecticut State Council of Defense, because of the shortage of labor on the farms, the government is deferring the call.

Major Buckley's letter follows: "You are advised that the Selective Service Regulations provide for the following classification of registrants engaged in agricultural pursuits: 'Class I unskilled laborer, 'Class II necessary skilled farm laborer in necessary agricultural enterprise, 'Class III necessary assistant, associate or foreman of necessary agricultural enterprise, 'Class IV necessary sole managing, controlling or directing head of necessary agricultural enterprise."

While Congress is determining the new national and state quota to be furnished under the new regulations, a call for 36,000 men has been issued, to be distributed equally throughout the United States. The quota allotted Connecticut to be furnished during the five days beginning March 28, is 4023 men. Local boards in each of the five counties are endeavoring to get the quota filled by the time the call is made. The call is for men who are in Class I and within the new quota, should be deferred until the end of the new quota. Local boards have been instructed in filing this emergency call, they shall pass the order numbers of such men and defer their call for the present, bearing in mind that this step is taken in the need of the nation, and not for the benefit of any individual. Therefore, while boards are required to consider it a grave duty to exercise this power to conserve and regulate the agricultural production of the country, they are required to observe closely the conduct of those deferred and immediately upon becoming convinced that any person so deferred is not giving his entire time and energy to the agriculture, or that he is trifling with the deferment thus granted him, the board has been required forthwith to call him for certification. The department requests that all citizens who assist in making this expedient effective and in bringing to the attention of the boards cases meriting deferment, as well as cases in which deferment is being abused.

A ruling has been requested from the department to determine whether the above provisions apply to registrants in the business of cultivating the planting of tobacco. The above provisions apply to the current quota only, and it is impossible at this time to state the attitude of the department regarding the cultivation of agricultural registrants in Class I.

SURVEY OF INDUSTRIES.

Shows Important Position of State as Center of War Time Industry.

The committee on industrial survey has practically completed its work for the Connecticut State Council of Defense, and is forwarding copies of its reports to government. Copies of its reports have been supplied to the Priorities Committee of the War Industries Board, Council of National Defense from which it secured important information concerning Connecticut industry.

The fact that this important survey is practically complete has been reported to the Defense Council by Frank D. Cheney, chairman of the industrial survey committee. The survey includes essential information concerning all industrial planting in the state. It is so tabulated as to be of great value to the State Council of Defense, as well as various important branches of the Federal government.

OBITUARY

Uriah S. Baton.

The death of Uriah S. Baton occurred Wednesday morning shortly after 2 o'clock, following an illness of three weeks with Bright's disease. Death resulted from uremia, which he suffered a short time ago.

Mr. Baton was born in Stonington 76 years ago, the son of Ezra Davis and Sarah A. Gayle. Baton, a good part of his life he had been a boss carter in mills and was a good workman. In the days of the Civil war he served in the First and Ninth regiments of Rhode Island Volunteers and proved a brave soldier. Mr. Baton had lived in Westerly, New York and New Jersey, and located in Norwich about 30 years ago. In this city he had been employed in manufacturing plants as an engineer and was also a watchman for a time and had worked for the city.

In Westerly where a young man the deceased was married to Lydia A. Bolton, a native of New York state, and she survives her husband with three daughters, Mrs. George and Mrs. John Reed, both of Providence, and Mrs. Joseph A. George of this city. There is a brother, Charles Baton in Stonington.

Liberty Loan Progressing Satisfactorily

Chairman of Local Committee Greatly Pleased With Results of Campaign So Far—Daily Totals Are Withheld For Time Being In View of Washington Statement.

While he has not yet received official notification to withhold for the present the Liberty loan daily totals, C. R. Butts, chairman of the Norwich Liberty Loan Committee, said Wednesday evening that in view of the Washington statement given the Liberty loan committee this week, he has decided that it would be best to withhold the totals for the time being. Mr. Butts expressed himself as greatly pleased with the results of the campaign so far. There seems to be a decided change of opinion among many people who had heretofore been backward in loaning their money to the government by subscribing to the Liberty loan.

A Hartford despatch said Wednesday: The Liberty loan committee in charge of the third Liberty loan has installed a "Community Honor Roll" plan, by which each community subscribing to its quota in the loan will be given a place on the honor roll to be displayed at the state capital at Hartford.

As each community attains its quota, under rules already announced to local Liberty loan committees, the information will be sent from the Liberty loan headquarters to the Connecticut State Council of Defense, at the capital, which will display the honor roll at the capital. As the names of communities reaching their quota come in each day, the honor roll will be changed to show that they have received honor flags.

Changes in the list of towns attaining their quotas will be mailed each afternoon during the campaign to the daily newspapers of the state.

MANY VISITORS AT LOCAL GRANGE MEETING

Hon. John H. Barnes Gives Talk On the Liberty Loan.

The regular meeting of Norwich Grange, No. 172, P. of H., was held Wednesday evening in the Grange hall in the Chamber of Commerce building with a large number present. There were many visitors in attendance from New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Stonington, Bozrah, Franklin and Preston City.

Following the business session at the lecture's of the evening program was furnished. The program opened with the singing of Old Glory. At the roll call each present answered the question, if you were asked to plant what would you plant to get the greatest yield? Corn was the winning crop. There were vocal duets by Miss Milton Bliss and John H. Barnes.

An interesting talk on prohibition was given by Frank E. White of Stonington and Mrs. John O. Peckham read several extracts from prohibition. A Liberty Loan talk in attendance from John H. Barnes, Master Frederic Peckham gave the salute to the flag. The program closed with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

The speaker's address in attendance from New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Stonington, Bozrah, Franklin and Preston City.

DEFERRED CALL FOR AGRICULTURAL WORKERS

Major Buckley Explains That Government Recognizes Shortage of Farm Labor.

Agricultural registrants in the next army quota will not be called immediately to the colors according to a letter on the subject which Major John Buckley has written to Joseph W. Allison, a member of the Connecticut State Council of Defense, because of the shortage of labor on the farms, the government is deferring the call.

Major Buckley's letter follows: "You are advised that the Selective Service Regulations provide for the following classification of registrants engaged in agricultural pursuits: 'Class I unskilled laborer, 'Class II necessary skilled farm laborer in necessary agricultural enterprise, 'Class III necessary assistant, associate or foreman of necessary agricultural enterprise, 'Class IV necessary sole managing, controlling or directing head of necessary agricultural enterprise."

SOCKS, SOCKS, AND STILL MORE SOCKS.

Norwich Red Cross Knitting Branch is Busy These Days.

Owing to the fact that the local Red Cross knitting branch has already sent away this month 136 knitted sets to the New York supply station, the supply on hand at present is very small. It is therefore imperative that the drafted men who will be leaving Norwich on April 26 it is imperative that all those who are knitting should speed up their work and bring the finished articles to the service rooms by the 20th or 21st of the month.

Norwich women have done such a splendid job of knitting that they are earnestly hoped that enough more sets will be sent to the rooms during the next two weeks to equip every man against the cold and exposure.

Mrs. John D. Hall, chairman of the local branch, states that there is constant and urgent need for all the sweaters, wristlets, mufflers and scarfs that can possibly be knitted, with special attention perhaps on the making of socks. "Socks, socks, and still more socks," should be the slogan of all the women who know how to knit!

URGENT NEED FOR CONSTRUCTION FOREMEN

Twenty-five are Wanted for Government Work in Maryland.

The urgent need of construction foremen for government work in Maryland has been brought to the attention of Leo A. Korper, Connecticut representative of the Civilian Personnel Section of the War Department by headquarters at Washington.

Twenty-five construction foremen who have had experience in concrete, hollow tile and steel construction are needed on a small number of foremen who are thoroughly familiar with building construction, the erection of boiler engines, road building, refrigeration and general power plant work. The type of men required are those who in addition to working qualifications in construction, are able to stand the hardships to stand the rough life of a construction camp.

STILL RAISING MONEY.

Membership Campaign For County Farm Bureaus Progressing Satisfactorily.

County Farm Bureaus in making reports for the membership campaign show that the state will give generous support to the movement for increased food production and conservation.

Each county has been developing its membership campaign along individual lines and the campaign is more advanced in some counties than others. Membership fees are being solicited and collected or pledged from both men and women. The schedule of fees is: regular membership, $1; contributing membership, $10, and sustaining membership $25. The money raised in each county will be devoted to the work of the county and local farm bureaus in that county.

Reports from all counties especially Hartford, are encouraging. The leaders in New London county will meet this week to compile a report for the entire county. Windham county has returned for an intensive membership campaign, having decided to spend its efforts in working up a large permanent membership in the course of three or four months. Three towns in Litchfield county, Washington, Roxbury and Watertown have the distinction of doubling their quota. The deferred campaign in the city of New Haven has been unusually successful. The city government has shown substantial approval of the movement by appropriating $5,000 to be used by the county Farm Bureau for home guard, near Main street. Refreshments were served during the evening by the hostess.

ASHWILLETT

Charles A. Rathbun of Westerly visited Saturday with relatives at the home of Nathan N. Maines of this place.

Mrs. John L. Holmes of Ashwillett called on friends in Norwich Friday.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

What Eastern Connecticut Boys Are Doing in Various Branches of the Service.

A Few Experiences in France. Mrs. R. T. Crosby has received the following letter from her husband, former physical director of the local Y. M. C. A., who is in France now engaged in a war work.

Crosby tells of his experiences in landing in France.

"My Dear Ones: All Thank God, we have ended our travels safely, for a few days at least.

We left the boat about 7.30 a. m. and after an abbreviated breakfast and a short walk around the downtown section, returned to the rooms of the hotel near the depot, and left on the train at 11.05 p. m. for the larger city, arriving at 8.45 on time. A five mile walk brought us to a very fine hotel, then a very warm time-supper, a few remarks, introduction and instructions to our rooms, a bath for the white Mustang (McLachlan) horse, home, now vice versa, then bed after Bible reading.

The train journey was very enjoyable, through part of the famous chateau, into compartment, returning in each. We had 5 men and 2 women. Red Cross songs, yarns, jokes, box candy, passed the time very pleasantly. Dinner on the train, very good but not like mother's. Wine struck me most was the really wonderful agricultural development. Every inch under perfect arrangements and workmanship. Very wonderful. The next of interest was the wonderful homes and other buildings. All of stone or concrete, cream colored, red tile roofs. The train service, speed and equipment fully up to average in United States.

We passed three trawlers about 50 miles off shore. Near shore we very nearly ran into a mine field, lack of information of Captain. A few small war vessels in time. Wine struck me most was the really wonderful agricultural development. Every inch under perfect arrangements and workmanship. Very wonderful. The next of interest was the wonderful homes and other buildings. All of stone or concrete, cream colored, red tile roofs. The train service, speed and equipment fully up to average in United States.

Officers of the law, magistrates and prosecuting officers are urged to enforce all laws of the state regarding forest fires and to inflict sufficient penalties in every case."

WHEAT SUBSTITUTE

EXHIBIT ON SATURDAY

To Be Held in Norwich Under Direction of Home Demonstration Agent.

Miss Nellie J. Campbell, home demonstration agent of the New London County Farm Bureau, has completed arrangements for a wheat substitute exhibition to be held Saturday in the window of the Gas and Electric office on Main street. The exhibit will show the wheat substitute and the dishes that can be made from them and there will also be shown posters made by the art department of the Norwich Free Academy. Demonstrations will be held morning and afternoon by Miss Campbell.

The exhibits are being made by the home economics committee of the farm bureau. The gas and electric office is the kitchen cabinet by Shea & Burke and a number of the local grocers are co-operating by lending different wheat substitutes free of charge.
