NORWICH MUSIC ASSOCIATION ANNUAL

Rev. Joseph H. Seiden Is Re-elected President For Another Year—Annual Reports Show Past Twelve Months to Have Been Unusually Active—Members Will Devote More Time Than Ever to War Work.

REV. JOSEPH H. SELDEN

The Music Association held their April meeting on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard O. Smith. There was a very large attendance and a most delightful program was much enjoyed.

The opening number, a trio of songs, Autumn, by Trunk, At Twilight, by Robinson, and Mother of Mine, by Burlingame, was sung by Messrs. Charles H. Lamb, James Moore, Archibald MacDougall and Raymond V. Condon.

The quartets were in most harmonious voice and sang with rare feeling and sweetness. Mother of Mine was especially appealing, both in words and music. Miss Annie Taft, as always, proved a sympathetic and accurate accompanist.

Mrs. William Crowe's lovely soprano voice, with its clear, bird-like notes and charming quality, was heard to best advantage in her three songs, which followed, Felice, The Swallow, (always a favorite with music lovers) and The Secret, a whimsical, lulling ballad. Miss Elizabeth Crowe furnished the piano accompaniment in most pleasing manner.

It is always a keen delight to listen to Charles Geer, whose selections for his number, also consisting of three songs, were varied and interesting. Turn Ye to Me, an old Highland melody, had a pathetic haunting strain. My Abode, one of Schubert's compositions, was dramatic in the extreme, and Vision Fair, from Massenet's Herodiade, was given with the remarkable expression and rich musical interpretation, in which Mr. Geer excels. Mrs. Geer played the difficult and beautiful accompaniments most artistically.

Henry La Fontaine, who is well known to Norwich audiences, is a young pianist of great promise, gave fresh proof of his genius in the three selections assigned him—The Chant d'Amour by S. Stojowski called for a wealth of charming technique and fingering with a smooth and harmonious legato movement. Revell du Printemps, by R. F. Primi, opened with a sustained melody, played by the left hand, with a rippling accompaniment of trills and grace notes, giving the selection an opportunity to display his high technical qualities. His last number by Tchaikowsky, Polocco de Concert, was played with dash, brilliancy and genuine scholarly interpretation. Mr. La Fontaine received enthusiastic applause and the evening's programme from beginning to end was pronounced an artistic success. A business meeting followed the close of the programme. It was voted to omit the minutes of the last annual meeting, and the president, Dr. Joseph Seiden, called on the chairmen of the various committees for their reports.

The acting treasurer, Robert Johnson, read his report, showing the association to be in excellent financial condition. Miss Hannah M. Crowell next gave the secretary's report. That of the programme committee, was read by Mrs. Winslow Williams, who told in an interesting way of the month's programmes in the making.

Miss Music Caruthers gave the report of the decorating committee, and Miss Mary E. Richards told of the activity of the membership committee, stating that there are 30 more members than last year.

The account of the Woman's Chorus was read by Mrs. William Allen. Motion was made and seconded that thanks and appreciation be tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard O. Smith, the Park church parish house and the trustees of the Broadway church for courtesy in offering their several hospitalities during the winter, when the local situation had, perforce, closed Slater Hall to the association.

Miss Hannah Crowell then made a most impressive foreword speech, in which she placed before the members of the association the thoughts and ideas recently adopted at the last meeting of the executive committee.

It had secured, she stated, that the music association would be one place where we might find relief from the thoughts of war which come to us everywhere else—that we might find in music, forgetfulness for a little, from the grim realities of battle, but, now like the false notes in the wonderful Strauss music, like the discords, as the Huns went to battle, even though we here turned from dwelling on the war, we are forced to think of it.

We are an organization of 260 members, financially strong, and thriving; an enormous amount of work has gone to build up our prosperous society—and now the question has arisen, whether we shall go about our meetings as usually planned, this coming year, or change our plans to meet the new situation? It means that our committees have to give themselves to the hard work of the organization thereby taking time and labor from the patriotic work which urges the war burden, they ought to be doing.

It seems as though it is a time for self-denial, and that a change of policy is advisable for the coming year, to permit us all to give more time to sterner duties.

Under the pressure of such sober thoughts, therefore, the executive committee offered the following resolutions:

Whereas, all patriotic people are called upon to bend their energies directly toward the winning of the world-war,

Whereas, the routine work of a larger organization, such as the Norwich Music Association, demands the time of a number of individuals, if it is successfully accomplished,

Whereas, many of the altruistic aims of our association can only be pursued by times of peace,

Therefore, Be it resolved:

(1) That the stated monthly meetings of the association be discontinued for one year.

(2) That the present membership of the association be continued, and that no dues be required during the season 1918-1919.

(3) That several meetings be held in the year under the auspices of the

STOP DANDRUFF! HAIR GETS THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

GIRLS! DRAW A CLOTH THROUGH YOUR HAIR AND DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

SPEND A FEW CENTS! DANDRUFF VANISHES AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff, is merely a matter of using a little Danderuff.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderuff now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed, and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, softness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will, you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderuff, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderuff and carefully draw it through your hair—take a small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

association, their number and character to be left to the discrimination of the executive board.

Gen. William A. Alken and Mrs. Channing Huntington remarked on these resolutions, which were unanimously adopted.

It is to be distinctly understood that this new procedure does not mean an end of the association by any means, but simply a cessation of the usual monthly activities, until times of peace shall warrant a return to the customary routine, which has been so much enjoyed by every member of the association. By this act of self-denial of our own pleasure, we are conserving our time and energy for sterner things.

Mrs. Charles Haskell, for the nominating committee nominated the following officers for the coming year: President, Rev. Joseph Seiden, D. D.; vice president, Mrs. Helen A. Tirrell; secretary, Miss Hannah Crowell; assistant secretary, Miss Maxie Caruthers; treasurer, Robert Johnson; membership committee, Miss Mary E. Richards.

SENIOR BIBLE CLASS MEETS AT Y. M. C. A.

General Secretary Hill Leads Discussion on The Spirit of Sacrifice.

On Tuesday evening the regular session of the Senior Bible class was held at the Y. M. C. A. The subject of discussion was The Spirit of Sacrifice, the scripture used being Romans 12:1-11.

The following thoughts were brought out: That the present condition of the world calls for real sacrifices on the part of every individual. That while the men who go to the front sacrifice a great deal, there are those at home who in a sense sacrifice fully as much—the mothers, for instance.

The spirit of sacrifice has a splendid effect upon those who manifest it; they become bigger and broader men. Paul urges us to dedicate our bodies to the service of God, and this means to sacrifice to the best of those about us. Every member of the body must be brought under the control of the Holy Spirit if we would be the man God expects us to be. It is easier to live for Christ than to die for Him.

There is nothing more reasonable than the service of Jesus Christ, and the surprise is that so many refuse to serve Him.

It is not enough to simply avoid evil, but we should abhor and hate it. The man who is not aloof in spirit, and serves the Lord, cannot fail either in temporal or spiritual things.

The attendance at the class was larger than usual. The general secretary led the discussion.

Sermon at Cheshire Byrnes's Loss.

Referring to Rev. Michael J. Byrne, of Norwich, Good Words, the publication of the Atlanta, Georgia, federal prison, says:

Our beloved chaplain, Father Byrne, was called home in March by the serious illness of his sister, wife of Dr. Frank P. Dunn. He had the consolation of arriving at her bedside before she departed this life and therefore was able to administer to her the last rites of the church. We take this occasion to express our deepest sympathy to Father Byrne in his bereavement and assure him that we voice the sentiment of everyone.

During his absence, mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Sullivan of Sacred Heart church, Atlanta.

BI-MONTHLY MEETING OF HOUSEWIVES' LEAGUE

Members Hear of Food Conservation, Home Gardens and the Liberty Loan.

The Housewives' League held their bi-monthly meeting at the Buckingham Memorial on Wednesday afternoon.

In the absence of Mrs. Edmund W. Perkins, president, the meeting was called to order by Miss Louise Howe, vice president. The usual reports were heard and Miss Howe read a letter from Mrs. Hayward, suggesting that the Housewives' League, all over the state should contribute something toward the Woman's Committee of the National Council of Defense.

It was voted that the local league should give a small sum and that, on the executive committee should devalue the answers to a questionnaire, which was in enclosed in Mrs. Hayward's letter.

Next Saturday morning Miss Nellie Campbell will have a food demonstration in the windows of the Gas and Electric company.

Mrs. Frank L. Farrell, chairman of the Home Gardens committee, then spoke in an interesting way on the subject of co-operative gardening, and using as an example of what might be accomplished by systematic labor, a model garden, which had been planned and worked by a number of young people in New York state. The ground was given by the town; the ploughing and fertilizing and seed were also furnished, but these were paid for by the sale of the vegetables, which were purchased by the local householders from every morning.

There is still time to begin such a co-operative garden in Norwich, as ploughing may be done for the next 30 days, and if any one would like to join in such a plan, she is urged to send her name in to Mrs. Farrell.

Following the model garden discussion, Miss Louise B. Meech spoke briefly on the Liberty Loan. Everyone is determined to do all he or she can to help the situation. The government says that food is ammunition, and bonds help feed and equip our fighting men. If anybody thinks he cannot afford to buy a bond, to all such, the administration says, the only way we can win the war is to do what some people say can't be done.

No loyal American, on reading the latest casualty list of 447 American soldiers, dead or wounded, doing their duty in France, can fail to realize how imperative it is, that we all must stand by our government, and keep on buying bonds which mean protection and aid for the men who are fighting for us "over there."

Miss Meech concluded her talk by reading a poem, "Take The Loan," written in 1861 by Edmund Everett Hale, when, at the beginning of the Civil War, the people were urged to invest in government bonds. What was true in 1861 is true in 1918. Patriotism that counts, is the patriotism that does not count cost.

Mrs. Albert H. Chase next gave an interesting talk on Thrift Stamps. The Liberty Loan campaign and the War Savings movements are no more risks than the paper-dreadnoughts and destroyers. Both are authorized by congress—parts of the same financial system, intended to supplement each other.

The Liberty loan is primarily to obtain money and finance, the war savings teach a nation to invest savings in order that the government may have and spend the money, for support of the army. The thrift stamps draw 4 per cent. interest compounded quarterly, payable in 1923. They are not subject to taxes, federal, state or local, need not be recorded upon assessors' blanks and are the best securities in these troublous times.

If you have bought 28 war savings stamps at $4.50 each, and one thrift stamp at 25 cents, you have completely equipped one soldier. Twenty-five dollars in thrift stamps make one government bond.

At the close of her address, Mrs. Chase read General Bordeaux's speech at the funeral of the first American soldiers to fall on the French front, and added that, if as Americans we might stand by the graves of these young men, who died for our ideals, we would never feel satisfied unless we had done something to support their brothers-in-arms.

Newlyweds to Reside in Kentucky.
