"OREGONS" STILL HOLD ON TO FIRST PLACE

In Thirty-seventh Week of Egg-laying Contest at Storrs.

In the thirty-seventh week of the contest at Storrs the "Oregons" again won first place with a yield of 60 eggs, or 85 per cent. production. Pen 65, entered the Hollywood Farm, Holly-wood, Washington, won second place with 57 eggs. Pen 71, entered by Miss N. H. Bell, Isthmian, Kent, England, landed third with 55 eggs. Fourth place was won by pen 53, White Leghorns, entered by M. T. Lindsay, Mattituck, N. Y., with 54 eggs. Three pens of Leghorns, 65 owned by Daurich Bros., Winsted, Conn., 78 owned by E. A. Ballard, Chestnut Hill, Conn., and pen 70, owned by Tom Barron, Catfirth, near Preston, England, were all tied for fifth place with 53 eggs. The total production for the 1900 birds was 482, or 82.6 per cent. yield. A Rhode Island Red hen, No. 493, owned by J. E. Jansen while only getting credit for six eggs, or twelve ounces, actually produced one pound of eggs during the week, one of these weighing a trifle over four ounces.

At the season of the year, when the grass in the poultry runs is dry and tough, the successful poultryman is supplying his birds with a good succulent food in the form of rape, Swiss chard, beet tops, etc. Green food will be found to be more palatable to the birds if fed early in the morning when their cells are full of water, making it cool and brittle. A succulent food is cooling to the birds' digestive system; actually produced one pound of eggs during the week, one of these weighing a trifle over four ounces.

WEST SIDE MAN ASSAULTED IN FRONT OF HIS HOME

Constable Fitzgerald Objects to Man Sleeping in Front of His House.

On Thursday evening Constable Patrick J. Fitzgerald of Mechanics street was assaulted by a man who he identified as a negro by the name of Coleman.

Coleman, or whoever the person may be, had the intention of making his bed for the night in front of Mr. Fitzgerald's house to which action Mr. Fitzgerald objected and so stated to the man. The man who had brought his blanket with intention of spending a night in the open, resenting Mr. Fitzgerald's advice to go elsewhere to slumber and hit him in the eye, cutting it open. The two men grappled and lay on the ground for a few minutes and the man was taken down in the fracas. The would-be lodger finally made his escape and has not been seen, although the police have instituted a search for him.

A young lady living next door to Mr. Fitzgerald after the man had made away brought out a revolver, which by the way was not loaded, and told Mr. Fitzgerald to shoot the man.

NEW LONDON WOMAN RELEASED FROM PENITENTIARY

Was Sentenced Last Fall for Serving Liquor to Men in Uniform.

Mrs. Nora H. Potter of New London, who was last fall sentenced to the Jefferson City, Mo., penitentiary for conspiring against the laws of the United States, has been released and is now staying with friends in Waterford.

Mrs. Potter had kept a notorious house in New London and supplied liquor to men in uniform. Mrs. Potter had a novel way of procuring the liquid refreshments by lowering a pail at the end of a rope to a saloon below and getting it filled. The saloon keeper, Joseph H. Hoff, is still serving his sentence.

H. M. LEROU RESIGNS FROM SCHOOL BOARD

Resignation is to Take Effect Immediately—Mr. Lerou Declines to Give Reason For His Action—Becomes Active Member of Board For the Past Five Years.

A prominent member of the town school committee, handed in his resignation from that board to the selectmen of the town on Tuesday, to take effect immediately.

Mr. Lerou has been actively engaged and interested in the work of the board and at one time filled the office of secretary. The reason of Mr. Lerou's resignation is not known, as Mr. Lerou on Thursday evening declined to give out any information regarding his action.

First Selectman Casper K. Bailey, when asked about the resignation, stated that he was in the dark concerning the reason, saying that there was no reason given.

However, following immediately upon the action of the recent town meeting in raising the salary of the school teachers over the heads of the school committee, it is surmised and rumored that Mr. Lerou's action may be connected in some way with this matter.

Mr. Lerou's action comes as a surprise to the people of the city, as he has been most interested in the welfare of the teachers and in school affairs and has devoted much of his time to matters pertaining to the betterment of the schools of the city.

NEW LONDON CELEBRATES AMERICAN VICTORY

Whistles Are Blown and People on the Streets Cheer.

In practically every city in the state with the exception of Norwich, the great victory of the American army in France was celebrated in some manner on Thursday evening.

In New London, Henry C. Chappell, chairman of the war bureau and assistant state director of the state council of defense, took up the matter with Mayor Rogers of that city and the fire whistles were blown and bells were rung. The citizens and soldiers and sailors on the streets cheered the victory. There were thousands out to help celebrate the good news. The battalions in the harbor contributed to the demonstration by playing its searchlight on the city.

There was a demonstration in Willimantic, with a parade, and other towns in the state had similar celebrations.

WILL NOT ERECT BUILDING FOR CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

As Naval Doctors Object to Buildings as Dangerous.

In New London the proposed plan of erecting three more buildings for the care of contagious diseases was halted Thursday by Dr. Richards of the Naval hospital which owns the property of the city on Garfield avenue who strongly objects to the erection of the building as he says that they are a dangerous fire hazard.

The proposed plan was to erect three more buildings in addition to the two present buildings so as to accommodate at least 30 contagious cases. The city will await the action of the government at Washington before proceeding with the erection.
