DECIDES GROTON EMPLOYEE'S CASE

Compensation Commissioner Donohue Finds That Albert C. Bennett Was Hurt in Course of Employment—Thrown From Auto Running Board While on Way to Dinner and to Get Pickaxe.

Whether the injury arose out of and in the course of the claimant's employment, and whether his delay in seeking medical attention had prolonged the period of the claimant's disability were the particular points which the insurance company desired to have brought out and passed upon at a hearing before the compensation commissioner J. J. Donohue on July 21 in the case of Albert C. Bennett of Groton, who was in the employ of the Norwalk Lumber Co.

The testimony showed that Bennett was at work with other employees in repairing a break in the water in the street at about 11:30 o'clock he started for his dinner. He was invited by a passing automobile driver to ride and he jumped onto the running board and when the auto turned a corner he lost his hold and fell to the ground, striking on his right elbow and bruising it. It was found further that during the process of shoveling in the morning that a sharper pickaxe was needed and Mr. Bennett had been told to get it from the toolbox at the power station and bring it back when he returned from dinner.

In his memorandum of decision, the commissioner states that the man did not at once consult medical advice because he did not think it was a serious injury and that this is an unusual circumstance in the case of this character. The man went to a doctor when a pain developed in his shoulder.

It is clear that the increasing volume of government financing makes necessary a far more united and consistent effort on the part of the bankers of the country to conserve and save credit than has heretofore been undertaken.

Resolved, that the directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, in full sympathy with the views of the board, hereby direct the officers of the bank, in such ways as may be appropriate, to express to the banking institutions of this district the importance and necessity of conserving credit.

By endeavoring to secure such gradual reduction as may be practicable of the amount of credit loans and non-productive or non-distributive purposes.

By gradually reducing the amount of credit granted for purposes not necessary to the prosecution of the war or the health and necessary comfort of the people, and

By advising borrowers of all classes, by their credit agencies, to bring credit down to the very minimum.

Such a concerted campaign of action and education by the banking institutions of this district will surely lead to all-around economy in credit transactions, as well as to an actual saving of credit comparable to the savings already effected in food and other commodities by the same means.

By the highest importance, however, that nothing should be done to cause undue embarrassment to borrowers or affect necessary credits.

WHIPPET RACES PROMISED FOR THE COUNTY FAIR.

Will Be New and Novel Attraction at Fair Grounds This Year.

Talking with Gilbert Raymond, the secretary of the New London County Fair association, on Tuesday, he was asked what he had new for the county fair which opens on Labor day at the old fair grounds. Gilbert smiled and said softly: "Get something absolutely new in this neck of the woods. Going to have whippet races." "What's that got me, and I said: "Well, you know the interpretation, I know what you're talking about, but some of your talk gets by me. In other words, what are whippets?"

Gib smiled at me and said: "Well, that's pretty good for a bright, up-to-date sporting man; don't know what whippets are," and as he went off he said: "Where did you get them? If you come up and I'll give you an earful." Naturally it was up to me to get busy, and meeting an old time horseman I asked him what are whippets, and he said: "On your way, boy, I'll have none of your nonsense." So I dug out the useful handbook and after looking up the word I found that whippets are just dogs. No, I'll take that back. Just dogs in and under the category of plain "mutts." And, believe me, after digging into the subject, I came to the conclusion that whippets are "come dogs."

So I took my foot in my hand and ambled up to Gib's office and said: "Shoot! I got the whole pedigree of whippets from A to Z. What is your story?" He said: "First class whippet, stand up," and I stood up and he said "Shoot." So I said "A whippet is supposed to be a dog, but judging by their speed, they are more like a cross between a streak of greased lightning and a grayhound. If one of these dogs met a scared rabbit and they travel at some speed, according to all accounts, he would say to the rabbit, 'Get out of my way rabbit, and let somebody run that can run,' and brother rabbit when he saw who it was would say, 'Well, I'll take my chances on a motorcycle, and I think I'll have a dog race against one of the fastest motorcycle riders in this vicinity, probably 'Whip' Bill Burdick. There are a few of these things in the group, and they are without doubt four of the most beautiful dogs in the world. Long, lean and giving by their build a trace of the phenomenal speed that is their own. They are the poetry of motion as they swing into their stride from a standing start and fairly burn up the track on their way to the finish mark. They will give daily exhibitors at the fair."

Then he said: "I have secured for the county fair the fastest whippet running dogs for one of the feature events of the fair. They will not only race among themselves, but they will also race against either a running horse, giving the whippet the margin of start, or a motorcycle, and I think I will have a dog race against one of the fastest motorcycle riders in this vicinity, probably 'Whip' Bill Burdick. There are a few of these things in the group, and they are without doubt four of the most beautiful dogs in the world. Long, lean and giving by their build a trace of the phenomenal speed that is their own. They are the poetry of motion as they swing into their stride from a standing start and fairly burn up the track on their way to the finish mark. They will give daily exhibitors at the fair."
