

How Old Are You By Your Hair?

You may be thirty in years, but if you are bald-headed, gray, or your hair is dry, brittle, scraggly and ugly-looking, people will surely take you to be many years older.

NORWICH CONTINGENT READY TO GO

Seventy-one Norwich boys became members of the United States Monday afternoon when they were inducted into the service.

The board, checked off the names, but the pent up spirits at length found vent in a burst of hearty laughter when one deep throated yelp of response to his name, "Right here, that's me." After that variations from the stereotyped response were more frequent, a number responding "Yes, sir," or "here," as it happened.

"There is one warning I am expected to give you," said the judge. "You are expected to start sober, travel sober and arrive sober."

"Don't you want us to go happy, Judge?" inquired a voice.

"Yes, but you can be happy without being drunk," was the response. "In times past there has been some complaint of too much jollification on the way, and the government is very insistent that the men shall travel in good condition."

He also advised any who came from a distance and had to stay in the city over night that they would be taken care of by the board upon application.

Miss Ethel M. Sevin, with the assistance of Earl E. Mathewson, was present to secure from each man the information needed for the Home Service records and to instruct each one about assigning his allotment and the ease of married men, the government allowance to wives. This is done within a few days of the arrival at camp.

The contingent was assembled at the draft board rooms at 9:30 this morning shortly after ten o'clock accompanied by the band, whose services were obtained through the aid of the city. A few public spirited citizens who wished to give the boys a send off that is well deserved. The train for the contingent is to leave for Camp Greenleaf at 11:30 a. m. on their first lap to Camp Greenleaf, at Lytle, Georgia. It is about a 26 hour trip.

It was a group of good spirits that assembled at the home of Mr. Thayer building for the calling of the roll by Judge John M. Thayer. "Here, here," they answered with monotonous regularity as the judge went down the list and W. Tyler Oloott, the clerk of

KITEMAUG ORCHARDS WILL HAVE BUT FEW PEACHES

Frank W. Browning, proprietor of the Kitemaug orchards, is just beginning to pick the Champion peaches, of which, however, the crop is very limited. The Champion is esteemed as the best eating peach that comes to market and the fruit is of fine quality this year although the quantity will be so small.

Mr. Browning said on Monday that he considered it was very lucky to have any peaches at all, as Hale of Glastonbury and Lyman, the two big peach growers of the state, will have no peaches at all instead of the thousands of bushels that their orchards annually produce. The hard winter and frosts have made a total failure of the Connecticut peach crop. The other orchards will have a few Albertas, which are a later peach than Champion, but these too have suffered like all the rest from the killing cold of last winter.

More Magazines For Soldiers.

An announcement has been sent to the post-offices of the country calling for more magazines for soldiers and sailors. It states that the present demand is exceeding the supply and also stipulates that the magazines should be of recent issue and of general interest to the men, and those of only restricted or local interest are not of use among troops.

John E. Hughes Drops Flying.

Hughes, who enlisted in the aviation service last winter, has been honorably discharged from the service as the result of a crash in an airplane that he was flying. Mr. Hughes states that he likes the service and will try to re-enlist in the ground aviation branch.
