HUMOR OF THE DAY

"Of course not," said the waiter. "What do you expect? If you ordered cottage pudding, would you expect a cottage in it?"

"I wonder how far the government control of the telephone will extend."

"Sweet Young Thing—But how do you stop an airplane when it is in the sky?"

"That dog of yours looks thin."

"Friend, the office boy was just coming to me that he wanted to be dismissed."

"The boss (with a sigh)—'Queer, isn't it? I was just enjoying the office boy his job.'"

"Mrs. Sparks (dejected)—'Our cook is going to leave, Frank. She says the kitchenette isn't large enough to turn around in.'"

"What's the matter with you, George? I wonder why you don't get a turntable?"

"Well, what have you done about it?"

"None," returned J. Fuller Gloom. "Why, I haven't done anything about it, of course. I have been too busy writing letters to the papers demanding that something be done."

"What are they moving the church for?"

"Well, stranger, I'm mayor of these things, and I'm for law enforcement. We've got an ordinance that says no saloon shall be nearer than 300 feet from a church. I've been three days to the city council."

"Tea, sir," said the hostess parent. "My boy is the smartest kid in his school, huh, here me?"

"What's the matter bright?" asked the envious neighbor.

"I've invented a scheme to pass an examination by getting his lessons instead of cribbing!"—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

THE KALEIDOSCOPE

Plans have been completed for the rebuilding of a spur track leading from a tack factory in Whitman, Mass., to the side track.

A journal published in Acra states that "ever so large cargo boats would be required to convey to Europe or America the coals that have been plucked and lie now lying in the stoves of shippers. This ever would give only a remote idea of the quantity of beans on hand. Probably it would be more accurate to say that 10 vessels should be chartered."

Metalurgy experts sent to Cortez, Col. by the government are testing a new mineral that promises to revolutionize the making of iron castings.

Large deposits of the mineral have been found in the Ute Mountains, 15 miles from Cortez, in the southwest corner of the state. Government tests were started in the hope of perfecting a casting that will turn a bullet and be of inestimable value in the manufacture of guns and ship armor.

BOSTON GETS BREAKS AND WINS, 1 TO 0

Chicago, Sept. 5.—One of the smallest crowds which ever turned out for a world's series opening today saw the Boston Red Sox of the American League, defeat the Cubs of the National League, 1 to 0, in an errorless game.

The battle was between two eminent representatives of what the dictionary calls the family hippopotamidae—namely, "Hippo" Vaughn of the Cubs, and the hippo rejecting in the name of "Babe" Ruth.

These two giants fought it out all the way and although Ruth allowed six hits to his opponent's five, the "break" went to the invaders and they were consequently making confident claims to the world's championship tonight.

The effect of the war was everywhere apparent, especially in the temper of the crowd which, largely local save the home team drop the best game without a protest.

Today's attendance was 19,247. Rain caused postponement of the first game scheduled for yesterday. Today the downpour had ceased and the grounds were comparatively dry.

The sun shone fitfully and there was a stiff, chilly breeze from the north. No seats were occupied in the upper tier of the second floor of the grandstand, and the right section of the stand virtually empty.

War taxes, the high cost of living, curtailed railroad service at advanced prices, the weather, the shortened season and the shadow of the war, were said to account for the indifference of the public.

The left field bleachers space, usually given over to the virtues of a certain chewing gum, admonished the crowd to "keep the glow in old glory, and the right field space commanded 'buy war savings stamps, and do it now.'"

At intervals six airplanes from the war station at the lake front reminded the spectators that baseball is not an essential industry.

HEAR WORLD'S SERIES GAMES BY MEGAPHONE

As customary, all details of the world's series baseball games will be announced by megaphone from The Bulletin office window each afternoon.

What's going on every minute of the game will be flashed to The Bulletin from the Chicago and Boston Parks. Play begins at 3:30 o'clock, Eastern time.

George Whiteman, Boston utility outfielder, started in the outfield for Boston, and doubtless prevented the Cubs from scoring.

He also was the only man of the invaders to make two hits, one of which figured in Boston's tally.

Vaughn's momentary weakness in the fourth inning cost him the game. Shean, the first man up for Boston, walked when the giant Cub twirler attempted to knock the corners on Timpiers O'Day.

Strunk, who followed, tied to Vaughn on an attempted sacrifice and Whiteman delivered his second blow, sending Shean to second.

Paskert's quick return prevented the Red Sox second baseman from taking third. Melnitz single to left scored Shean while Whiteman moved up second.

Scott popped to Deal and Whiteman scrambled back to the key. Paskert, back just in time to beat the Cub third baseman's peg to second.

Vaughn mixed them to Thomas, who swung heavily at three wide ones. This ended the inning for Boston, and the scoring also. Boston never threatened again.

The premier brand of Ruth's pitching was the chief factor in the Cub defeat, although the superb support rendered by his team mates assisted in repulsing the Cub attack.

Had the Nationals been able to bunch their blows on the Boston pitcher the game would have been over in the first, when Mann singled after two were out and took third on Paskert's Texas leaguer to left field. Markly passed, and Ruth's bases, with the game depending on his next offering.

Ruth served up a ball to Deal, who hit it into the hands of Paskert, at the same time waving his outfielders back toward the bleachers and the Cub second baseman dropped a high fly to Whiteman, closing the inning.

Whiteman captured the ball after a hard run and earned laurels thereby. "To have missed it would have meant 1000 runs for the locals."

Whiteman stepped in between the Cubs and victory again in the sixth. With one out Paskert singled to center, taking third when Markly bounced a grounder over Ruth's head and into center field.

Pick grounded out to Melnitz, unassisted, and Stuffy's quick throw from first held the Cub center.

Whiteman again stepped into the fore and raced across the field after Deal's long fly to deep left. He captured it after a hard run and the game was saved, for the Cubs never threatened again.

After the sixth Deal pitched airtight ball and despite Manager Mitchell's strategies the Cubs never had a look-in. They went out in order to start the final inning, when after one was out, Mitchell sent his reserves into the front line.

Merkle had sent a long fly to Whiteman, when Mitchell's reserve catcher died out in glory.

WWE TO SAY

Chicago, Sept. 5.—"It was the first test of strength and the breaks were against us," said Fred Mitchell, manager of the Cubs, tonight.

"However, Vaughn is due. Ruth for his wonderful pitching. The Cubs have ferreted out the weak spots of the Red Sox and the score will tell a different story tomorrow."

"I haven't decided who I shall pitch, but it is likely to be Tyler."

"We got the jump on them today and confident of repeating tomorrow."

"Ruth pitched great ball and I certainly shall start him back at the Cubs when we play in Boston."

"I haven't made any work for the pitcher tomorrow. It will either be Mays or Bush. Baseball is a long way from dead judging on the enthusiasm and interest here today."

"The game will undoubtedly be one of the fastest games seen in Eastern Connecticut this season. A record breaking crowd is anticipated to witness the contest."

AFFECT OF WAR FELT IN RECEIPTS

War made its hand felt in the attendance and receipts of the first game of the world's series.

The attendance today of 19,247 was nearly 15,000 less than the crowd which witnessed the first game a year ago, as the prices this year were reduced, the choice box seats selling for $3 as compared with $5 in 1917.

The figures for the opening game of today and a year ago are: 1918—Attendance, 19,247; receipts, $30,243; players' share, $15,337; each club's share, $7,668.50; national commission's share, $7,668.50.

SPORTING NOTES

George Gibson the major league catcher has a son with the Canadian continent in France.

France has increased her game record since the outbreak of the war and had her first open season on birds last year.

Capt. R. Rice, who represented the United Kingdom in the Olympic games at Stockholm in 1912, has been wounded in France.

Among the latest old timers to return to active service in the military is Tommy Leach who was released to the minors a number of years ago.

Elmer Smith the young Rochester catcher is reported to be the find of the year in the minor leagues. No less than fourteen major league clubs are after his services.

Johnny Summers a famous English boxer has been slightly wounded in action and is now in a French hospital. He won from Johnny Britt in London in 1909. He lost a few months later to Freddy Walsh.

Football will be resumed on a before the war scale in the Western Conference this fall in spite of the opposition of President Bryan of Indiana, at Minnesota all profits will be turned over to the Red Cross.

There has been a great loss of bird life in England owing to lax game laws and indiscriminate destruction of birds as eggs. The birds were destroyed to save grain but the caterpillars and grubs are now getting more than the birds ever got.

At a Pinhurst trapshooting tournament last January the ground was covered with snow. The glare bothered the shooters until R. D. Morgan, former champion of Maryland, told of the device used in Alaska to defeat glare, namely, blackening the side of the nose and the cheeks under the eyes.

Babe Ruth's work during the past season recalls other pitchers who were among the leading swiftness of their teams. Among them are Walter Johnson, Joe Wood, Ray Caldwell, Ben Tincup, Grover Alexander, Eddie Cicotte, Earl Hamilton, Gene Packard, Claude Hendrix, Clarence Mitchell and Lefty Tyler. There are many others. Then remember George Sialer started as a pitcher.

The popular idea of fighting deer pictures them with locked horns. Elk however fight erect on their hind legs with their heads thrown back. In this position they stab viciously at each other with their hoofs and often inflict serious wounds. S. N. Leek who lives near Yellowstone Park, tells of seeing a cow knock a big bull cold with a blow from her front hoof on his lower jaw.

The Signal Corps has issued a statement to the effect that its pigeon section is being seriously interfered with by persons who have fired at birds in the course of training when gunning. In many states the shooting of pigeons is against the law but law or no law, no man worthy of the name of sportsman will interfere with the training of birds which are designed to provide invaluable aid to our brother sportsmen who are fighting our battles on the other side of the Atlantic.

The regulation load for the army shot gun now used in trench warfare is 3 1-4 grams smokeless powder, 1 ounce of No. 8 buckshot (Western size). The ordinary trapshooting load is 3 grams of powder and 1 and 1-4 ounces of 7 1-2 chilled shot.

Hunting and fishing among officers and men of the Canal Zone department, U. S. A. are encouraged by Brig.-Gen. Richard M. Blatchford, who is in command there. He says that there is no better means of training a man for scouting work that stalking game. It also familiarizes him with the country and trails.

"Tackle" Lett all around champion shot of the world is now Capt. T. K. Lee U. S. A. He is stationed at Camp Perry, Ohio. In championship shoots from 1912 to 1918 he broke 9938 out of a possible 10,000 targets. He won all the matches. He is also an adept with the shot gun. His home is in Birmingham, Ala.

The lesson of Canada in regard to the killing of female big game animals is one that will bear studying in this country. A staff having an open season for moose in which 410 females were killed, sportsmen became alarmed at the loss and had the law repealed.

Tom Sharkey, who before he entered the ring was a gunner's mate, is trying to enlist in the navy again. Sharkey is 45 years old and is trying for a commission but is willing to go as a common goby, to get a crack at the Germans.

READVILLE REVIEW

By W. H. Goehner. What promised to be one of the best meetings ever held at Readville was marred by rain and a heavy track which kept the horses idle for two days after the weather cleared.

The meeting from twenty to sixteen events in which the amateurs and half-milers had more opportunities than the professionals. Of the sixteen races contested there were three for amateurs, H. S. Crossman of Montpelier, Vt., won the first with Mary McGowan and Leonard C. while the horses from the two lap courses appeared in four, Silver King, Forest B. Patrick, Duluth and the Prigonal gelding Tom Donahue being returned as the winners in very creditable time.

In fact a number of the starters in these events showed well enough to warrant their owners in entering them for a trip down the line to Atlanta instead of putting in the next six weeks at the New England fairs.

The Grand Circuit caravan appeared in seven races at Readville as well as in the two divisions of the American Horse Breeder Futurity, in the trotting division of this event Nella Dillon put up a splendid battle with Chestnut Peter who won in 2:24, and closed the race with a Cox also clocked off one in 2:09 1/2 with Peter Vonia. Miriam Guy finished second in the first heat in 2:07 1/2 and was third to Chestnut Peter in the heat which he placed to his credit.

The same afternoon Serrell also won the free for all two with Miss Bertha Dillon from St. Prisco and Mabel Traak and reduced the four-year-old record to 2:02 1/2. It was a banner day for the Dillon Axworthy family while it might also be added that the owner A. E. Cox also bred the first three money winners in the Futurity.

Serrell, Cox and Murphy were the only double event winners at the Readville meeting. The Dover reinsman showed in front with Lu Prince and A Game of Chance while Murphy gathered in the Naponset Purse with Directum J. and the Massachusetts in which he stopped the winning career of June Red with Chilcott.

To be at 2:26 trotting: Norman Dillon (Strotling) won. Time 2:13 1-4.

MISS DETROIT III. GETS LEG ON GOLD CHALLENGE TROPHY Toronto, Sept. 5.—Miss Detroit III. won the second heat of the race for the international gold challenge trophy here today, covering thirty miles over a five mile course in 33 minutes and 13 seconds. Miss Minneapolis crossed the starting line first and held the leader for fifteen miles. She finished second in 34 minutes, 35 seconds. Whip-pole-Will, Jr., the winner of yesterday's heat, started third.
