NORWICH TOWN

Rev. George H. Strouse and choir of the First Baptist church were at the Sheltering Arms Sunday afternoon. Mr. Strouse took for his subject, Three Good Chers of Jesus, saying in substance:

All of us have to pass through three valleys, the valley of sin, of forgiveness of death, but we have Jesus with us in each of them, with his good cheer. He was with the man sick of the palsy and said to him, 'Son, be of good cheer, thy sins are forgiven thee.'

In the misery and sorrow all about us now is Jesus with His message—the same message as of old to His troubled disciples, when crying out in their fear. He said to them 'Be of good cheer, it is I, be not afraid.' Jesus is with us in the valley of the shadow of death, the Jesus who has overcome death and the power of evil. Love like this can never fail.

A dust by Mrs. Louis A. Wheeler and Mrs. Herbert Willey and a solo, Hills of God, by Stephen Peckham, Robert W. Olin accompanied at the piano gave much pleasure.

There was a memorial service Sunday morning at the First Congregational church for William Durr, a student whose name on the service flag near the point is a golden star. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Durr and all the members of their family were present. Beautiful flowers, in remembrance, were on the platform, the gift of the Sunday school class of which William Durr was a member. Rev. G. H. Erving in a brief address paid a fervent tribute to the soldier who had laid down his life in the cause of liberty.

JEWETT CITY LOSES SERIES TO PUTNAM

With the frost already on the pumpkin, baseball is not dead locally. The fans enjoyed a fine September day at North Grosvenordale Sunday and some excellent baseball was played. The Ashland team clashed with the Putnam. Both teams were represented with a goodly number of big leaguers, and those who followed the game were treated to a fine exhibition of the National sport. The game which was the deciding game of the series was hotly contested and ran into eleven innings. Ashland held the lead with a 2-0 score up to the first of the eighth inning when Putnam scored one run in the last of the eighth and tied the score in the ninth. In the tenth and twelfth innings Putnam brought home the deciding run, giving them a 3-2 victory over Ashland.

MISS BURSTEIN WINS AT LONGWOOD

Miss Molla Burstein, national woman's tennis champion, won the final match of the fall tournament for women at the Longwood Cricket club, defeating Mrs. George W. Wightman, former national title holder, 6-1, 10-3. Miss Burstein and Miss Marion Zinderstein defeated Mrs. Wightman and Miss Eleanor Sears, 4-6, 6-0, 8-1, in the finals of the women's doubles. A third victory for Miss Burstein came in the finals of the mixed doubles, when paired with N. W. Niles, she assisted in defeating Mrs. Wightman and H. C. Johnson, 4-2, 5-7.

The Columbus Meeting.

Two postponements on account of rain and a heavy track slowed up the action at the Columbus September Grand Circuit meeting which closed Friday after nine days of racing during which thirty-five events were decided, eighteen of them being for trotters and seventeen for pacers, and $730,333 distributed in premiums. All of the programme was disposed of except the free for all trot in which the horses were excused on account of heavy footing and the second free for all pace, the first one being a gift for Miss Harris. The racing was for the most part uninteresting, the fact that her engagements were cancelled at Readville and Hartford by rain and showed it at Columbus on the last day of the meeting when she stepped a mile over a heavy track in two minutes, the fractional time for the trip being 1:1-2, 2:0-4, 2:5-2-4, 3:5.

During the two weeks at Columbus Murphy ran his number of winners mounts for the year up to fifty-nine and if he is as fortunate at Lexington and Atlanta his score for the year should be close to seventy. He won two races at the latter track, with Peter and gave Binland his first defeat over a mile track with Royal Mac and by the way it was also the first pair of winning brackets placed to the credit of the Royal McKimley gelding this season. Billy Jackson, after breaking the ice at Syracuse, also came through at Columbus by placing his three heats in 2:04 1-4 when he defeated Drift Patchen and John A. Hal. On the next time out, however, he finished third to Verlie Patchen in 2:03. Ethel Anto Guy made two starts at Columbus. On the first start, he trotted second in the $10,000 race in the Columbus Review Purse in 2:05 1-4 and finished second to Peter June after winning a heat in the Western Horseman Futurity. This was also the first victory for Peter June this season while Gears also had another piece of good fortune with June Red, the Red Medium mare winning her first start since Poughkeepsie over the Toddler and Wilkes Brewer in the Capital City Purse.

SUGGES SUNDAY GAMES AT HARVARD

It has been proposed in Cambridge that the Harvard Students' Training Corps might arrange a compromise on the football situation by staging games with service teams and others on Sundays. It is improbable that the members of the corps will have sufficient time to play football anyway, but some grudging enthusiasts believe that a series of Sunday contests furnish a solution. It is urged that the army and navy squads at West Point and Annapolis are not going to give up football because of military training and that there should be time for the members of the S. A. T. C. at the colleges. The members of the students' army will not be required to drill on Sundays and it is felt that the men should be allowed to play them. The naval stations were allowed to stake baseball contests on Sundays last summer, the football players believe that they will not have much trouble in getting permission for football games. They are willing to play for any of the war charities to help beat the Hun.

The authorities of the college have not taken any action yet. The game will not be allowed to interfere in any way with military training. It has been planned to permit competition against teams representing the stations in the immediate vicinity of Boston, but such a plan is arranged with due regard to the military programme.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MARKET STRONG, ACTIVE.

New York, Sept. 30.—Under the impetus of the portentous news from abroad, today's market developed unusual activity and strength, albeit much of the large turnover centered in so-called peace issues, a few of which registered sensational gains. Oil shares were conspicuous from the outset, Mexican Petroleum making an extreme advance of one point, while Texas Company featured the final hour at a gross advance of 14 points.

Moderate strength was manifested by U. S. Steel and kindred industrials and equipments in the early dealings, but profit-taking and short selling soon effected reactions of one to four points.

U. S. Steel's gain of a point in the first half-hour was succeeded by intense pressure at an extreme reversal of two points, but the stock again was in demand later, closing unchanged at 113 1-2.

Investment shares were backward during the greater part of the session, but rose briskly toward the close, Canadian Pacific leading at an advance of 1-1/4 points, most of which was retained.

Motor shares became prominent at midday, gathering greater strength later on another drive against the shorts in General Motors, which held much of its 7 per cent. rise, while Studebaker, Maxwell and Chandler improved from 2 to 4 points.

Utilities, notably gas shares, leathers, tobacco and fertilizers, comprised the other strong stocks, extensive short covering setting in at the close. Sales were 735,000 shares.

Bonds were variable, Liberty issues displaying moderate irregularity. Total sales, par value, aggregated $5,650,000.

Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

SPORTING NOTES.

The Freshmen are to play with the big boys this year on most of the college football teams. Under present conditions it is likely that the yearlings will be very nearly the whole cheese on the diamond, as the upperclassmen will hardly have got used to the fit of their moleskins before they will be nominated for officers' training corps and other berths beyond the piazzas of pretty girls, delicious almond, billiard markers and other pigskin shares.

They're off in the war time football mixup. Here's hoping it does not have as disastrous an ending as baseball.

Buy your Liberty bond before you bet on the game. If you win perhaps you can buy another. If you lose you have some consolation anyway.

Many local followers of Yale athletics will remember Jim Braden, the former Yale athlete and football player. He has been rewarded by a major's commission for bravery in action.

According to the best advices the U. S. A. is on the last lap, the home stretch, the ninth inning, the final three minutes of play—or any way you care to sparry! The Fourth Liberty Loan may be the last war you shall see, the "piece de resistance," for the Hun. So tee up! That is, get set!

The navy's setting up exercises which are producing such wonderful results consist of a series of alliterations, such as grind, grate, grasp, wave, veave, wing hand, hip and head.

"No business of the day is so important that it cannot be postponed for physical exercises of this kind. Business men must first take good care of their bodies. Men in the navy more than 40 years old are getting noticeable results even after two weeks."

John T. Prender president of the Business Men's Racing association of New Orleans, announced yesterday that the fair grounds race meeting will start on Jan. 1 and continue through Mardi Gras day.

PRIVATE FRANK GLEY HAS BEEN WOUNDED

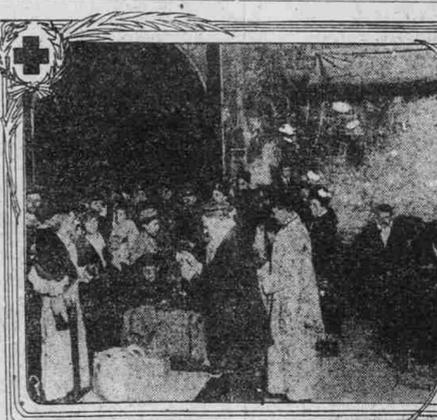

Writing to his father, Richard Gley, of this city, under date of Sept. 4, Private Frank H. Gley of Battery D, 5th Artillery, which was the regiment formed at Fort Wright, Fisher's Island says that he was wounded in the leg on Sept. 2, but not seriously. He was 19 last August.

He writes as follows: Dear Father:— Just a few lines to let you know that I have been wounded. I was hit Sept. 2. It is in the leg. Don't worry, for it is not bad. Am feeling fine to-day.

My leg pains me trying to write, so I will cut it short. Let the family know I'm feeling well and hope soon to be out and around. I will write again soon and give my address so they can write. Origin of the Hurdy-Gurdy. The early type of hurdy-gurdy originated in Germany during the ninth century, and under the name of baren-leyer (peasant's lyre) attained great popularity throughout Europe, falling into a decline only at the beginning of the last century. Even today a slightly modernized type of this instrument may be seen upon the streets of the smaller towns of Savoy.
