

DANIELSON

Killingly saloons will surrender unconditionally this evening. Tomorrow Killingly will be a 'dry' town. Young people of St. James parish who are to have a part in the United War Work drive as 'Victory Boys and Girls' held a meeting at the parish hall Sunday evening.

There are many complaints about the taste that lingers after drinking Danielson's city water, and not a few complain about its smell. Anselm Meunier, who has been very dangerously ill for several weeks, was reported Sunday as gradually gaining in strength.

The political workers will be getting in their hardest effort in Killingly today, making ready for tomorrow's state election. Danielson friends were at Putnam Saturday to attend the funeral services for Mrs. Alphonse Lecroier, who died of pneumonia in Hartford.

John C. Henderson of Providence visited with friends in Danielson over Sunday. Henry W. Baboon visited with relatives in Melrose, Mass., over Sunday.

J. Carl Witter conducted a sheriff's auction sale at the Harold Copeland farm, Allen Hill, Saturday afternoon. Chief Michael Grimshaw, who has been ill with pneumonia, was reported Sunday as improving at his home on Riverside.

Lieutenant Ira A. Warren is no longer with D Battery, 54th Artillery, but is detached and awaiting a special assignment. Frank Mallot is ill with pneumonia at his home on High street. On Sunday he was reported as resting comfortably.

The Danielson-Goodyear automobile service was successfully inaugurated Saturday and was welcomed by all who have done a quick change of transportation between the two places.

John J. O'Neil, Daville, in training at Camp Greendale, Va., has been promoted to the rank of corporal. Corporal O'Neil is a graduate of Killingly High school.

At St. Joseph's church, Daville, this morning, Miss Jennie E. Reddy and Sergeant Richard P. Ryan, West Quincy, Mass., will be united in marriage.

Ovid Chandelaine, employed by H. Sturkweather, collapsed while at work at the railroad station. Mr. Chandelaine fell to the ground as quickly as though he had been shot when he was attacked by influenza. He was removed to his home.

The Danielson boys who were formerly of the 8th company and now are incorporated in Battery E, 54th Artillery, have been doing active work at the front throughout August and September, according to advices received here, and on other who knows intimately of the service they have rendered says that Danielson will be mightily proud of these boys when he learns in full detail of the record it has made. There are many Plainfield boys in this company and not a few from Killingly.

At a meeting arranged by District Chairman Rev. J. T. Edwards of the Victory Boys' organization to be held this evening at the rooms of the Danielson Trust company, address H. Smith, a state director of the work, will be present and will make an address relative to the United War Work drive that is to open here Sunday and will answer any questions pertaining thereto. Mr. Smith will come here from Willimantic where he will, in the afternoon, address the Eastern Connecticut organizations.

Rev. Mr. Edwards said Sunday afternoon that he expects all of the village chairmen and their wives to be in this district, which includes the towns of Killingly and Brooklyn, to be present at the meeting. Captain Frank E. Withey has written from the front to Mrs. Withey, Prospect street, telling her that he has been on the firing line since September and that he is well and happy in his work. His letter was written while American and German guns were hurling death and destruction back and forth across the battle lines. Captain Withey, for months past, has been acting as an instructor at a trench artillery school in France, preparing batteries to go direct from the school into the firing line. His letter mentions that, on his way to the front, he saw the 16th Artillery, in which are the men of the old 13th Company, of which he was the commanding officer when he was in Killingly, and that the men were well and enjoying their opportunities to make the Hun sick of the war.

Licenses voters in Killingly are openly avowing that they will vote against Attorney Eric H. Johnson, of Putnam, democratic candidate for senator from the 23rd district, because of the stand in favor of national prohibition legislation, as proclaimed by the master of the state grange. These voters look upon Attorney Johnson's attitude as unwarranted under the circumstances of his having received the nomination, though they know he did not solicit it, yet they also know that he is aware that he was not being nominated as a prohibition candidate. A personal canvass of license voters of his home on School street to inform them of the situation and to induce them to vote against Mr. Johnson.

French-speaking republicans who were being misled by democratic workers have expressed their appreciation of the statement made by Alma Forcier at Goodyear that he is a loyal republican and is working for the republican candidates in Killingly, where he is a member of the republican town committee. Mr. Forcier decidedly resents what he considers an unscrupulous use of his name in the interest of democratic candidates, whom he is very anxious to see defeated.

PUTNAM

William James Devine, 27, assistant superintendent and office manager at the plant of the H. K. H. Silk company, here, died Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at his home on School street. He had been ill since Tuesday night, pneumonia causing his death.

Mr. Devine's death again impressed upon the people of this city in a special manner that the epidemic that has been sweeping New England is claiming for its victims many of those giving promise of fruitful careers. Mr. Devine was among the best known young men in the city, successfully making his way in the industrial world, prominent as a fraternal man and popular with all who knew him.

His death following such a brief illness caused many expressions of sorrow. Mr. Devine was born in this city and lived here until he was a graduate of Putnam High school and for 10 years had been at the silk mill, where he went almost directly after his graduation, advancing steadily from post to post of responsibility until he became assistant superintendent.

In speaking of him on Saturday afternoon at the funeral, Mr. G. Johnson of the H. K. H. company said that Mr. Devine was a very capable and efficient young man and that during the period of the war he had been a host in forwarding Liberty bond sales, securing Red Cross subscriptions and otherwise carrying on patriotic work among the town of Woodstock, where he had full charge of this special war-time branch of endeavor.

Members of Putnam lodge of Elks, of which Mr. Devine was esteemed member, were shocked by the news of his death. He had been one of the most active workers in the organization, and his pleasing personality was responsible for bringing various men into world of Elksdom.

Mr. Devine was unmarried. He made his home with his mother, Mrs. Agnes Devine, of School street. He also leaves a brother, Charles, and three sisters, Alice, Helen and Florence, all of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Child died Saturday at their home in Woodstock. Their deaths were caused by bronchial pneumonia. Mrs. Child died during the morning and Mr. Child during the afternoon. The deaths shocked the people of the town of Woodstock, where both were very well known. They had been very ill during the past week and on Friday their condition became so extremely critical as to exclude practically the last hope that they might recover. They leave four children, the youngest six months of age. Both were members of the Congregational church at Woodstock Hill, where there was touching mention of them at Sunday services.

On the eve of the state election, interest here is centered on the district senatorial fight between Senator Archibald Macdonald, republican, and Attorney Eric H. Johnson, democrat. G. Harold Gilpatrick, this city, republican candidate for state treasurer, seems assured of a record vote and his election is confidently looked for by his friends.

In their platform the Republican bosses of Connecticut say they "are aware of the chronic incapacity of the Democratic party to govern the country."

Are the great mass of intelligent and patriotic Republicans of the State willing to endorse that insult to our Commander-in-Chief?

This war was begun under a Democratic Administration, it is being fought successfully under a Democratic Administration and it will be won under a Democratic Administration by the people of the United States of all political affiliations.

In 1898 during the Spanish-American War, Theodore Roosevelt, then nominee for Governor of New York said:

"Remember that whether you will or not, your votes this year will be viewed by the nations of Europe from one standpoint only. They will draw no fine distinctions. A refusal to sustain the President this year will, in their eyes, be read as a refusal to sustain the war and to sustain the efforts of our peace commission to secure the fruits of war."

Today that situation is reversed. The President happens to be a Democrat. Thomas J. Spellacy happens to be a Democrat. He is a nominee for governor just as Theodore Roosevelt was in 1898.

Yet if what Roosevelt and Harrison said was true in 1898, it is many times truer today when the fighting is still going on—as many times as the present war is greater than the Spanish American War.

In this critical time of national stress, when every ounce of our country's resources must be thrown into the balance, the selfish jealousies of a political ring cannot be considered.

Either you stand behind the President or against him. Either you will vote regardless of party this year or you will be swayed by petty prejudices. Either you will be an American first or a Republican first. Republican patriots will be proud to say in later years that in 1918 they voted for Spellacy and a Democratic Congress!
