Marblehead, Mass., Nov. 7.—Plant No. 2 of the Burgess Aeroplane Company, which was filled with government airplanes and the Stearns and McKay Company storehouse, containing more than forty yachts, were totally destroyed by fire early tonight.

The fire was started by an explosion in the plant shop of the Burgess company. The plant had been shut down in order to permit the workmen to celebrate upon receipt of false reports of the signing of an armistice.

The flames swept into the plant of the Stearns and McKay Company, where 25 small craft and three larger yachts, some of them famous in the sporting world, were destroyed before the local firemen assisted by apparatus from Lynn, Salem, Danvers and Beverly could get the fire under control.
