GREAT ARTISTS TO APPEAR

IN SLATER HALL CONCERTS Arrangements have been made for the following famous artists to appear in the Academy Musical course.

Three notable recitals will be held in Slater hall, if a sufficient number of advance subscriptions is received to guarantee the necessary expenses.

These famous artists have been tentatively engaged to appear on an assigned date.

Miss Aurelia Noyes, the brilliant pianist, will appear on Monday evening, March 24th, at the Plymouth Theatre, of international reputation.

There is no thought of financial gain in this plan. The co-operation of music lovers and promoters is requested that this effort to bring artists to our city will make the concert a self-sustaining one.

A subscription list has been placed at Franklin's on Broad Street. Will you not join in this splendid movement by sending in your subscription promptly.

AUDITORIUM

Four big vandeville acts and feature pictures make up the bill at the Auditorium, headed by "The Tapes" and "The Female Hercules".

Miss Broadwell as the Countess Graciosa von Arburg, the central figure of the absorbing romance, gave a splendid portrayal of the aged French beauty's beautiful mistle which plotted the murder of her enemy.
