GROTON IRON WORKS RECEIVERS
 P. Leroy Harwood, treasurer of the Mariners' Savings bank of New London, was confirmed as one of the two permanent receivers of Groton Iron Works by Judge Joel H. Reed in the superior court at New London Monday afternoon. Instead of E. O. Cutler, general manager of the works, who had been appointed by Mr. Harwood as a temporary receiver, Frederick Congdon of Boston was made the other permanent co-receiver with Mr. Harwood.
 Mr. Congdon is a representative of the United States Emergency Fleet corporation. Judge Reed fixed the bonds for the receivers at $100,000, which was the sum furnished by the temporary receivers.
 Mayor E. Frank Morgan and Lawrence A. Chappell, the latter an official of the shipyard of New London, were appointed appraisers.
 Court came in at 2 o'clock for the hearing on the appointment of permanent receivers in the case of the United States Steamship corporation against the Groton Iron Works. Attorney Warren B. Burrows, for the plaintiff company, moved that Edwin O. Cutler and P. Leroy Harwood, who were appointed temporary receivers on March 20, be confirmed and that they be appointed permanent receivers.
 Judge Reed inquired if there was anyone who wished to be heard upon the matter and Attorney Frank L. McGuire stated to the court that in his opinion it should be shown that the plaintiff in this action should show some equity existing in its favor when it applied for the appointment of receivers. He declared that the United States Steamship Co. is a foreign corporation and that the court had no jurisdiction in the appointment.
 Attorney Marsh of Bridgeport announced that he represented the United States Emergency Fleet corporation with which the Groton Iron works is under contract for the construction of 12 steel ships for upwards of $18,000,000. In addition the corporation had loaned the defendant company $1,500,000 for which it held mortgages in financing the construction of the ships. He said that while the corporation was a private concern it was backed by the United States government.
 The United States Fleet corporation felt that under the circumstances of the receivership could proceed with the construction of the vessels, without disturbing the organization, it ought not to consider taking possession of the yard.
 He felt, however, that a receiver should be named in place of Mr. Cutler, and the position was not a reflection upon the ability or character of Mr. Cutler, whom he understood to be a man of high standing. The corporation felt, however, that the receivers should be someone familiar with the work of the corporation and for that reason he desired to suggest the name of Mr. Congdon of Boston. Mr. Congdon is at present in charge of the district office of the corporation with headquarters in Boston and this position carried with it the general management of the operation of the plant at Groton. Mr. Congdon not only has a general knowledge of the shipbuilding industry but a particular knowledge of the process of the operation of the plant at Groton.

 He said that if Mr. Congdon were appointed he would, of course, resign his position with the fleet corporation. Mr. Marsh said that he had no objection to Mr. Harwood being retained as a receiver and continuing in that capacity.
 Attorney Christopher L. Avery said that he represented the defendant company and he felt if the Emergency Fleet corporation thought it desirable that someone else should be appointed in place of Mr. Cutler, neither he nor Mr. Cutler would stand in the way of naming someone else. He realized that the vital interest as to the receivership should be considered, criticizing anyone, but he said that the court was confronted by a peculiar situation. He declared that the Emergency Fleet corporation occupied the place of a secured creditor and that the attorneys who had suggested the name of the receivers represented the defendant company and that they do not have the vital interest as to the receivership in the result of the outcome of the receivership.
 He said that his firm represented more than 100 of unsecured creditors and these were the persons to be taken into account in the naming of receivers. Therefore he felt that someone should be appointed who would have the vital interest as to unsecured creditors. He, however, had no suggestions to make.
 An attorney representing the First National bank of Boston, who is an unsecured creditor for $500,000, Attorney John C. Geary, representing unsecured creditors of $40,000; Attorney Arthur B. Calkins, representing unsecured creditors of $100,000; Attorney Philip Z. Hankey, representing unsecured creditors of $50,000; Attorney Perry J. Hollander, representing unsecured creditors of $5,000, all felt that the interests of their clients would be looked after by Mr. Harwood and Mr. Congdon.
 Attorney Avery suggested the names of Lawrence A. Chappell and Sheriff Sidney A. Brown of New London as appraisers, and Attorney Arthur B. Calkins suggested the name of Mayor Charles S. Storms, Albert F. Kelley, Providence, William G. Gilchrist, Arthur P. Libby.

STRING QUARTETTE PLAYS FOR MUSIC ASSOCIATION.
 The Norwich Music Association held its April meeting on Monday evening in Slater Hall Annex, with a large attendance. The program consisted of a quartette decorated with potted plants and artistic arrangements of pine boughs.
 The following interesting programme was provided by the string quartette, consisting of Miss Isabel Mitchell, Miss Elizabeth Lane, Frederick W. Lester and Charles D. Gallup, assisted by Miss Hortense Caron, pianist:
 Menuetto, from Quartet in G. Mozart String Quartette.
 Variations on a theme from Alceste. Miss Caron.
 Andante Cantabile, from Quartet Op. 18, No. 5. Beethoven.
 Concert Etude, from Quartet. Macdonell.
 Miss Caron.
 Adagio Cantabile. Haydn.
 Allegro Moderato. Haydn.
 String Quartette.
 The quartette of which the association is so justly proud, maintained its usual high standard in the choice of music and quality of performance. The Mozart minuet was given with delightful interpretation of its delightful measures and stately rhythms. While the great value of constant ensemble practice was particularly manifest in the Beethoven number, played with marked unity and artistic appreciation of its structure.
 Miss Caron, who is a pupil of Professor Frank L. Farrell, delighted the audience, with her graceful, finished performance, and expert fingering. She possesses marked talent, brilliancy and warmth and touch, and an intensely musical sense that vitalizes her playing. In the concert Etude, the brightness and dexterity of her technique was finely displayed. Responding to enthusiastic applause, she gave an encore, Caprice (Vogrich) a spirited number played with splendid dash and vigor.
 The Wasserman piano used by Miss Caron was loaned by the Plant Cadogan company.
 The next meeting of the association will take place in June, the date to be announced later, and the programme will consist of selections by the women's chorus and the Bass Club.

H. H. GALLUP REGAINS BELT COMPANY CONTROL.
 Seven additional directors to the original five of the Norwich Belt Manufacturing Co., Inc., were elected on Saturday morning by stockholders' meeting where a majority vote was held by the faction of the stockholders which had elected H. H. Gallup president last August. The other directors elected were Robert W. Perkins, president at the regular annual meeting of the company and they had been in possession of the office and shop on North Main street from which Mr. Gallup had been barred ever since. The change in control and the action taken Saturday restored Mr. Gallup to the office and he was there Monday as general manager.
 The new directors elected Saturday were Dwight H. Hough, Franklin G. Wilcox, Frank L. McGuire, New London, Charles S. Storms, Albert F. Kelley, Providence, William G. Gilchrist, Arthur P. Libby.
 At a subsequent meeting of the board Mr. Gallup was elected chairman of the board and general manager of the company.
 Josiah G. Bridges of Boston was elected assistant treasurer.
 The old board of directors included Robert W. Perkins, R. Meader, Boston, C. S. Cooger, Pittsfield, C. D. Gallup and C. S. Eaton.
 It is stated that the seven new directors elected to the board will constitute an executive committee which, with Mr. Gallup as general manager, will direct the affairs of the company in the future.
 It is also expected that the changed control will result in dropping the litigation which had arisen over the management of the company, and in which Mr. Gallup and those associated with him against the directors elected by the other faction.
 The plan of the new executive proceedings was held before Judge Reed on Feb. 27. He has not yet handed down his decision.

Juice of Lemons!
 How to Make Skin White and Beautiful
 At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful skin softener and beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Juice should be taken to strain the pulp through a fine cloth. No lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to soften and remove such blemishes as freckles, wrinkles and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoother and beautifier.
 Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white in any department and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of the skin. It is wonderful to smooth rough, red hands.

The Liberty Calendar
 An organized effort is to be made to improve our time calendar. The American Equal Month Calendar Association has been incorporated by fifty leading Minneapolis business and professional men with that in view. The sole purpose of this organization will be the securing of a change in the calendar so that all the months shall be of exactly the same length. This is to be accomplished by the adoption by congress of the Liberty calendar, which is a very simple modification of the calendar now in use.
 In this new calendar there are thirteen months of exactly four weeks each, every month commencing with Monday. In the construction of the calendar only three slight changes were made in the present Gregorian form. They are as follows:
 First, New Year day is made an independent legal holiday. It is placed between the last day of December and the first day of January. It is not included in any week or month.
 Second, another independent legal holiday called "Correction Day" is provided for leap years. This is likewise placed between the last day of one month and the first day of the next. It is not included in any week or month.
 Third, the remaining 364 days are divided into thirteen months of exactly four weeks each.
 The names of the months in this new calendar are January, February, Liberty, March, etc. The use of the word "Liberty" will Americanize the calendar at the same time it is made more convenient. Under this new form all holidays and anniversaries will always fall on the same day of the week. A possibilty note given for any number of weeks, months and years will always come due on the same day of the week. It was given. It is claimed that the saving of time and mental effort in making calculations.

lons for future dates will be beyond all comprehension.
 Furthermore, it will cause a saving of nearly fifteen million dollars a year in cost of printing and lithographing calendars, as no printed calendar will be needed when this new form is adopted. It is estimated that the total saving of time and money will equal fully six million dollars a year in this country alone.
 The association will also assist in the organization of similar associations in other countries, and will work for the adoption of the reform by other nations also. If an International Council is established the matter will be brought before that body.
 Since neither the number nor the length of our present months is governed by changes of the moon or by any of nature's laws, it is claimed that the change to the new form can be made very easily.
 The plan also provides that Easter Sunday and Good Friday shall be placed on certain fixed dates. It is explained that the setting of these on fixed dates was considered at the time our present calendar was adopted. The placing of these on fixed dates would simply be another step in the much desired absolute regularity.
 The officers of the association state that the plan has met with the unanimous approval of the highest authorities. Congress will be asked to pass a bill which the association will have introduced. The bill is very carefully drawn and provides that the change shall take place on Sunday the first day of the year 1922.
 Among the organizers of the American Equal Month Calendar Association are bankers, lawyers, merchants, manufacturers and other leading business men. Four of the six officers of banks or leading corporations. The directors are all business or professional men of high standing in the community.
A Century Old Scheme.
 Construction of a tunnel under the English Channel to connect England and France, which, according to government announcements, will soon begin is a century old scheme, broached by Napoleon in the celebrated French engineer Meisnier. Napoleon favored it but nothing came of the plan owing to war and Napoleon's downfall. It was not until Napoleon III came to the French throne that actual preliminary work was undertaken, with the approval of the French ruler and Queen Victoria.
 Then came the Franco-Prussian war and the scheme again lapsed. Shortly after that war a convention was signed between France and England setting forth the conditions under which the tunnel should be constructed. On the English side boring operations were begun near Dover at a depth of 160 feet and a seven foot tunnel was bored for a distance of 2,000 yards. Strong opposition on grounds of military strategy developed in the British parliament against the project and again it was dropped.
An Impossibility.
 The Delisle will want to pave in gold the way to their recognition by the other nations. But you can't buy a pavement of gold across an ocean of blood.—Charleston News and Courier.
Blow at Harmony.
 The American jazz band has been introduced into England. This is a subtle, but deadly blow at world peace.—Wheeling Intelligence.
