

WOMAN SUFFERED 12 YEARS

Finally Made Well by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Emmitsburg, Md.—"I suffered for twelve or fifteen years, and was treated by a physician, but got little relief. I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my newspaper, so I thought I would try it, and it did me more good than all the doctor's medicine. I am a farmer's wife and do my household work all the time, and I am better now than I have been for years. I am never without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the house and have recommended it to several of my friends. You are perfectly welcome to publish my letter for the good it may do other women."—Mrs. ERIC WARREN, Emmitsburg, Md.

Backache and nervousness are symptoms of nature's warnings, which indicate a functional disturbance or an unhealthy condition which often develops into a more serious ailment. Women in this condition should not continue to drag along without help, but profit by Mrs. Warren's experience, and try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and for special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lowell, Mass.

DANIELSON

Along with other features that promise to contribute to the making of a great Pony Express business, famous aid to living in an arid land, flashes into prominence this week, Eli Dagenais, who has been conducting a business for liquors, will appear before a justice of the peace in the town of Brookfield next Saturday to answer to 13 counts of having solicited orders.

There was a time, last Saturday, when it appeared as if the case might be settled by Mr. Dagenais paying a fine of $100, but this prospect disappeared, and the case now will go to trial.

The case of the state vs. Dunn, Simsbury, tried in the superior court for Hartford county, likely will be cited in passing upon the Dagenais case.

In reviewing this case Judge Webb of the superior court held that the mere possession of printed orders, which a prospective customer might sign as a preliminary to having liquors delivered to him in a no-license town, was an evidence of soliciting on the part of the man who took the order, inasmuch as the possession by him of such printed slips was evidence that he was in the field for business of the nature indicated.

Mr. Dagenais, however, is understood to have employed counsel to defend him in the action, which is brought by Grand Juror W. E. Keach, who is represented by Attorney Harry E. Back.

The Victory loan drive will be started with a rush in Killingly today and in all of the territory of which Danielson is the headquarters. It was announced Sunday that Killingly's quota will be $28,000, approximately 75 per cent of the territory's total was asked to raise in the four Liberty loans, and this town, the drive managers claim will go over the top with a rush if Killingly's people are not less patriotic than the rest of the town when they were fighting over there.

The campaign here gets a fine boost this morning with the announcement of a subscription of $25,000 from the Windham County National bank. The object is to make the drive fast and effective. It was announced at St. James church Sunday morning that the thousands of parish members would be asked to keep up their good work by subscribing heavily for more bonds in the name of the parish, the bonds being set aside for the parish hall building fund.

District Chairman C. T. Tillinghast and his big corps of workers feel certain that every town in the district will be an "over the top" town if their labors are active. No town will want to sully a clean record made in previous years.

In Killingly the drive will be under the personal direction of Alfred I. Reed, town chairman. Sectional heads for the town are as follows: Goodyear, Clara Greig, Fred Greig, William Greig; Attawaugan, E. C. Wood; Ballouville, Hector McConnell; East Killingly, F. E. Harrington; South Killingly, A. Houghton; manufacturers' committee, N. Lorne Greig; ladies' committee, Mrs. E. H. Keach.

In Canterbury these workers will direct: James Towne, Howard Hoxie, C. E. Frink, Fred Hixson, Arthur McLeod, Clarence Smith (Baltic); Central Village, F. A. Tillinghast; Sterling, Thomas Brown, William Keel, Edna Bellows, A. J. Sawyer, Phineas J. A. Leahy; Mousup, Rev. William C. Darby; Wauregan, Fred Johnson; Hampton, C. E. Burnham; Wauregan, A. Houghton; manufacturers' committee, N. Lorne Greig; ladies' committee, Mrs. E. H. Keach.

Manufacturing concerns throughout the district will make it particularly easy and attractive for their employees to come in on the Victory loan drive, the greatest and safest issue in which one possibly can participate.

Tests of two thoroughbred Holstein cows, young stock, made at the Shepherd Hill farm of W. S. Brown, near Wauregan, during the past week, are of very special interest to all who are interested in putting New England's all-important dairying business on such a basis as to make it more than ever a money-making and otherwise profitable business for the New England farmer.

Mr. Brown has been a booster for thoroughbred herds for several years, believing they represent a better proposition, from the investment, producing and every other standpoint, than the inferior grades. He has had made as far as such demonstrate his own beliefs in this respect as for any other reason. These particular cows, which were young cows, so he did not expect to make any extraordinary records, though the showings obtained were very satisfactory.

Lady Alcana Magee, 3 years old, the senior of the two cows, was shown which was held under the supervision of a representative of the Connecticut Agricultural college, is by a brother to the one that won the Grand National cow that produced 44 pounds of butter in seven days and 182 pounds of butter in 30 days, a world's record when the dam of the cow was sold at auction for $32,000. The cow was sold at auction for $32,000. The cow was sold at auction for $32,000.

The other cow on test, Woodmont Butter Girl Daisy, is 27 months old and was sired by Spring Farm Butter Boy, a 44-pound so not Tweede De Kol Lass, who has produced a cow making 44 pounds of butter in seven days and 171 pounds in 30 days. Daisy's record at the Shepherd Hill farm last week was 11.0 pounds of butter and 391.1 pounds of milk.

Mr. Brown says that while these records are not large, they show the possibilities even with young thoroughbreds, and expects that later tests will show much greater production.

The first break away from the 48-hour weekly schedule adopted by practically all of the manufacturing concerns in this section of the state comes this morning when the mills of the Attawaugan, Ballouville and Pineville return to a 55-hour per week schedule.

The officers of the Windham County National bank further announce that to assist Killingly's committee to 20 over the top, the bank has arranged against subscriptions to the fifth Liberty loan at the rate of interest the bonds carry, therefore anyone can subscribe for the bonds at a reasonable length of time without any loss of interest.

George Baker of Putnam, delegate to the meeting of the grand council, Royal Arcanum, at Hotel Grand Guard, New Haven, reports a very large and enthusiastic gathering. He says that the report by the officers regarding the growth of the order during the past year and the condition of its finances were most encouraging. While war conditions and influenza had somewhat handicapped the work, Connecticut showed the largest net gain of any grand council. Notwithstanding the fact that 9,500 members of the entire order entered the service and a large number of deaths were caused by influenza, this had not prevented $1,000,000 being added to the emergency fund during the last year. Connecticut has a membership of 3,529. The order today totals net assets in Liberty loan government bonds and other trust securities $827,000, besides having paid out since its organization the immense sum of $201,275,000. "Who can estimate the amount of suffering and want this money may have relieved, being paid, as it is, in the form of the death of a member?" Mr. Baker inquired.

Fresh eggs have probably reached the lowest figure, and as the demand for setting increases the price for consumption will be correspondingly higher. The demand for egg-glass at the local stores has never been as great as this spring. Egg dealers are offering a slight reduction from the market price of 50 cents per dozen, if ten dozen or more are ordered for preserving. It is good enough proof that this method is a success when it is known that several big egg producers "put them down" in water glass to be used in winter at home when fresh eggs bring 20 and 25 cents a dozen.
