Think of the labor you save with a new "SPIDER" LAWN MOWER.

Fresh caught porgies, Conn. river shad, fresh mackerel. Try any of these from Powers Bros., and be convinced that the value of fish is its freshness.

This season has compelled many customers to purchase an easy running ball bearing Lawn Mower that cuts close to borders and does away with one-half the use of the sickle.

COLONEL CHARLES W. GALE

Colonel Gale had a long and distinguished military career. He was raised in St. James, N. H., and attended A. M. on Sept. 12, 1878; exalted in Franklin chapter No. 4, R. A. M. March 25, 1879; received into Franklin council No. 1, R. A. M. May 17, 1879, and was initiated in Columbian commandery No. 4, K. T. Nov. 14, 1879. In 1890-6 he was eminent commander. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the Scottish Rite bodies up to the 32d degree, and for some years had held offices in Van Rensselaer council of Princes of Jerusalem and Connecticut Sovereign council No. 1, R. A. M. He was a member of the Mystic Shrine, of Bridgeport. At a convocation in New York in September, 1917, he was made an honorary 32d degree member.

Colonel Gale was a member of the corporation representing Norwich chapter of the three Greek and was a trustee for the holders of the Masonic Temple corporation. He was a member of the Arcanum club for many years, serving as its president for two years, having become a member of the Citizens' corps and a trustee of the Y. M. C. A.

Organized Church Orchestra. Colonel Gale was deeply interested in music and had the honor of being the first president of the Norwich Music association. He was very active in church work, having become a member of the Central Baptist church when a boy. For over half a century he has taken a prominent part in the activities of that church. In 1882, at the time the church was contemplating the installation of a new organ, Colonel Gale volunteered his services as conductor of a chorus choir and for twenty years he has labored without compensation. He organized and conducted the church orchestra, so popular in the '80s, and was chairman of the church choir, which has since held its death. In 1912, when the City Bible class was organized by Rev. Peter C. Wright, then pastor of the Central Baptist church, Colonel Gale was chosen, which office he has since held.

In June, 1868, Colonel Gale was united in marriage with Charlotte E. Main of Brooklyn, this state. Her death occurred Jan. 23, 1903, and on June 23, 1915, he was united in marriage with Gertrude (Hakes) Roath, daughter of the late Henry B. Hakes of Worcester, Mass. The same year, Mrs. Gale made a trip around the world and while on the trip attended the Judson centennial celebration in Burma. The trip brought them in touch with a great many of the leading missionary workers of the world.

Personally interested in all affairs of the city and town, Colonel Gale was called on to serve as marshal for nearly all of the larger parades from time to time, and he took an active part in all patriotic celebration.

Active in Politics. Of most attractive personal qualities, Colonel Gale enjoyed a wider acquaintance than many could claim. He was a man of companionable disposition, genial and courteous manner and warm-hearted and sympathetic in his temperament. His personal attachments were strong and his friends regarded him as a sincere, whole-souled, large-hearted man in business he was regarded as a man of sound judgment and his wide experience in financial matters made his advice much sought after. He was a member of the local and a loyal party worker for many years in several political campaign organizations, and during the Blaine campaign in 1854 he recruited the famous Lancers, which was composed of many of the leading business and professional men of the city. He was a public spirited, high-minded citizen, who was elected to the city clerk of the city from 1873 to 1886 and was at the time of his death a member of the board of jury commissioners for the county.

He is survived by his wife and one sister, Mrs. Silas P. Jacobs, of Los Angeles, Cal.

His Military Career. When a young man he became interested in military affairs and his service in the Connecticut National guard during a period of some four years, covering which time he rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel, led to his enlistment in the 12th Connecticut Infantry, Company B, Third Regiment, in 1869, and was made second lieutenant. Two years later he was appointed regimental quartermaster, and in 1871 he was promoted to major general, and given command of the First Division, having been previously promoted to lieutenant colonel, and then to major general.

DISTRICT CHURCHES HAVE RAISED OVER $30,000

District Chairman J. C. Macpherson of the Methodist Centenary drive on Wednesday night reported that thirteen churches of the 2d in the Norwich district had gone over the top in their annual quotas and the amount subscribed is $30,523.54 with 39 more churches to report. The annual quota for the district is $53,250. All but two or three churches have secured their five year quotas.

The reports from all over the New England area are equally encouraging and on Sunday night 50 per cent had been subscribed. The Springfield district leads with 69 per cent subscribed with Boston second and Lynn district has the greatest percentage of churches over the top. The reports are most gratifying and it is expected that the quotas will all be reached before the end of the year.

Trinity Methodist church lacks about $2,000 of her five year quota but has over subscribed her annual quota by $500.
