

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Stibel fire escapes that were authorized purchased some time ago are being put in position at the graded school building on School street.

Chautauque has successfully completed its third season in Danielson and arrangements have been completed for its return next summer.

There were many dancers at Wildwood park Thursday evening, though the trolley hasn't giving any service to the resort.

Teachers here are interested in a stipend passed by the last legislature providing a state allowance of $1 per pupil, based on the average attendance in each town, this sum, amounting to more than $2,000 in Killingly, to be apportioned among the teachers, as a salary bonus.

The Putnam-Danielson motor service began operations Thursday and proved a boon to many who were anxious to catch trains out of Putnam.

Mrs. Herbert Barnett and Miss Alice Morrisette are at Narragansett pier for their vacation outing.

Maybe the goodby band would like to let the people of Danielson hear what a nice concert they can give on Davis park. Such a visit certainly would be appreciated here.

Inquiries were being received in this vicinity Thursday relative to one Charles Hittwood, who had been in service in September, 1918. No such soldier is known to have entered the service from hereabouts.

Public service cars in plenty are in sight to do business on Saturday, it was stated here Thursday, and they are expected to solve a transportation problem that means much to Danielson's business men.

At Dayville, verandas are being added to dwellings owned by the Assawaga Woolen company.

Rose of Lima council, K. of C., has a class of 21 candidates. It is expected that its members will receive the initiatory degree on July 28. This is the second large class to come into the council recently.

Notwithstanding the warm weather, swimming continues to be a favorite held on Danielson devotees of the sport, and some fine scores are being rolled.

Mills here had straightened out transportation difficulties to such an extent Thursday that their out of town employes were getting to work at the usual hour in the morning.

Deputy State Automobile Inspector E. C. Young is having his annual vacation of two weeks, during which the inspector's duties in this county will be discharged by Inspector C. A. Thatcher of Hartford.

Automobile dealers say that there is all kinds of new business in sight, their only trouble being in getting delivery of new cars from the manufacturers.

There was no change here Thursday in the trolley strike situation. The line is deserted. All is quiet about the carhouse at Dayville, where many of the car crews make their homes.

Chicken thieves are again operating in the eastern part of the town, where their activities have stirred many poultry raisers to keeping shotguns in readiness, it is said, for a little target practice if opportunity offers.

Steady progress is being made in developing the coal trestle project of the Quinebaug company, near the New Haven tracks south of Franklin street. It is expected that the trestle will be ready for use within a few weeks.

If Rhode Island company employees carry out their strike today, it will mean the suspension of service on the Providence and East Killingly line, the only route now in operation in this part of the state being the one from Webster to West Thompson, another inter-state line.

The fine new water system that is being installed at Quinebaug lake is about ready to be put into use, the Wauregan company having just completed its arrangement with the Danielson and Plainfield Gas and Electric Company for the necessary power that will operate the motor which will drive the pump to fill the

PUTNAM

Putnam's purity record has gone to smash! There was a drunk in the city streets Thursday morning, the first drunk that has appeared in that not-often-remembered town since the first of the month. It was as though a ghost of Old Demon Rum walked brazenly morning when Judge M. H. Geisler asked the prisoner, Timothy Healey, who claims Woonsocket as his home, to state the offense for which he had been arrested.

Timothy admitted the indiscretion. He said it was due to the individual use of 1.75. He had been taking a short at Jakey, one of the remaining few of the pink elephants and green hippos and making them go on the summer circuit.

Timothy hadn't made his purchase in Putnam; in fact, he was so considerate as to blame the sale on another town—Webster—in another state. Timothy came to this city, one of his old stamping grounds, to celebrate, however, arriving here early in the week.

The prisoner made a weak effort at the court, but the judge sent him to jail, but Judge Geisler could not see it that way and ordered 30 days in the county jail for the offense.

Mr. Healey, therefore, has the doubtful distinction of being the first man sentenced to jail for intoxication from Webster in this county. He may also have the consolation of knowing that he will contribute to the fund for four weeks to keeping Jaffer Field from feeling too lonely, for the jail family is fast fading away, and it now looks as if there will be nobody home in the not distant future, unless the supply of Jamaica ginger gets flowing too fast for the jail.

Mr. Healey's communication was written Thursday in this city.

There's a lively exchange of correspondence on between Mayor A. W. Marcy of this city, the state highway department and H. H. Davenport, of Hartford, superintendent of the state highway work in Windham county.

The series of letters being written here is being written by the highway department headquarters at Hartford, directed to the fact that the state highways were being off in Putnam and other towns hereabouts and the oil left unattended, this creating a dangerous condition for travel and one that had resulted in accidents. Mayor Marcy's communication was written Thursday in this city.

In due course of time the mayor received a letter from the state highway department, telling him that his communication had been referred to Mr. Davenport, and subsequently the mayor received a letter from Mr. Davenport, asking that he may later decide to make the whole correspondence public.

Putnam's public school teachers may get what will amount to approximately $100 in bonus money under the new statute passed at the 1919 session of the legislature.

This statute—Section 345—provides a state grant of $9 per pupil for the average attendance at schools in any town be made available by the state. This money to be apportioned among the teachers as a bonus, intended to stimulate interest among a larger number in the profession of teaching.

It is estimated here Thursday would receive between $2,500 and $2,800. The proceeds for securing the grant is to have the town school committee approve of accepting it. No other action is necessary. It was stated here Thursday.

There is one little hitch, however. In the course of putting through legislation at the last session it was neglected to pass a bill providing an appropriation for carrying out the provision of Section 345.

It is contended here, though, that this was manifestly the intent of the legislature, and this being true that towns may apply under the new statute as authorized, through their school committees, the payment of the extra money to their teachers, depending on the next session of the legislature to pass a deficiency appropriation bill and thereby reimburse the towns for the money they have advanced. This is what will be done in Putnam doesn't it? It would not be believed of paying its share of the extra cost of maintaining the teaching system, which will be distributed over all towns by the state.

School committees are empowered to appropriate the money received under the new act on an equal division basis to each teacher or give extra awards to especially efficient teachers. It is felt, however, that the equal division basis is the better one.

Putnam was settling down Thursday to make the best of getting along.

AUTOISTS ATTENTION

There will not be any examinations of applicants for drivers' licenses in Danielson today, July 18 or on July 25th.

Examinations will be given at Putnam on Tuesday, July 22 and Tuesday, July 29, between the hours of 2 and 4 p. m.

73 LEX AVENUE, OTTAWA. "Three years ago, I began to feel run-down and tired, and suffered very much from Liver and Kidney Trouble. Having heard of 'Fruit-a-Tives', I thought I would try them. The result was surprising.

I have not had an hour's sickness since I commenced using 'Fruit-a-Tives' or 'Fruit Liver Tablets', and I know now what I haven't known for a good many years—the blessing of a healthy body and clear thinking brain." WALTER J. MARRIOTT.

Without trolley service, The Chamber of Commerce has a motor bus service in operation between this city and Webster, taking care of the traffic in satisfactory manner from the north; as the bus is running on the old trolley schedule and meeting all the electric cars that come down from the north to West Thompson to which point Chautauque crews are operating the trolley line out of Webster.

Owner Milot, chairman of the merchants' committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said Thursday morning that his organization was working on plans for motor bus lines to reach the villages to the south, but no schedule had been put into operation.

An increased number of motor cars were seen in Putnam's streets on Thursday. These cars brought many visitors here from all of the surrounding towns. Another break in the strike came on Thursday when Danielson interests began to run automobiles here to take care of passenger service, these machines being chiefly intended to furnish connections with trains out of here for Boston, Hartford, Providence, Worcester and other cities; but all who wished to ride between the two towns were accepted as passengers. The fare was considered reasonable being 5 cents.

The public in general said little about the strike other than to complain about the inconvenience. Many believe the strike will be long drawn out, so are making their plans accordingly.

The city was abuzz on Thursday with rumors relative to real estate transactions which have been particularly numerous here of late. It was stated that the Bradley building on Main street, opposite the Union block, is one of the buildings that may change ownership before long.
