What is Going On Tonight. City Meeting in the Town Hall. Board of Aldermen meets in the Council Chamber.

Officer Frank McLean was set upon and severely beaten by five drunken men near Cardinal's saloon about 11 o'clock Friday night. McLean was walking his beat when he heard the drunken men arguing with Arthur Parent and Leo Routhier. McLean advised them to go home and passed on, but one of the men, who was in uniform, tried to start a fight. The officer attempted to arrest him and a general row resulted. McLean's club was taken from him and one of the men hit the officer with it so hard that the club was broken. McLean finally drew his gun and held two of his assailants until Lieutenant McArthur could be summoned. The men were placed under arrest and later two more were captured, but the fifth man was at large Sunday night. Patrolman McLean received a severe gash in the head as the result of the melee. In the police court Saturday morning the four men who were captured gave the names of Samuel Tourvatz, Harry Eschura, Romi Tourvatz and Charles Eschura. They were all heard by Justice of the Peace Curtis Dean, who was on the bench. Arthur Parent and Leo Routhier were also called to the stand to give their version of the affair. The case against Harry Eschura was nolleed, but the other three men were sentenced to the Brooklyn jail for 30 days and were obliged to pay the costs of the case.

Joseph Baran, in court on complaint of Katie Reink, charged with breach of the peace, pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs, amounting to $15.40.

The eighth of the concerts at Recreation park by the American band under the auspices of the American Thread company was given Sunday evening with about a thousand people present. The following program was rendered in an inspiring manner by the full band under the leadership of C. N. C. Wheeler:

March, Sousa Swing. Selection, Red Mill. Fox trot, I Ain't Got Weary Yet. Waltz, Kentucky Dream. Don't Cry, Frenchy. Noveltie, Woodland Glade. (a) Fox trot, Tell Me Why; (b) one step, Oh, Helen! March, Khaki Bill. Star Spangled Banner.

No change in the situation of the railroads was apparent at the local yards Sunday. In addition to the six trains which have already been cut off, two trains on the Providence division were annulled Saturday. The trains are the one at 10:10 from Providence and the train due here from Providence at 2 p. m. The passenger train from New Haven over the Air Line, due here at 3 p. m., was also taken off. The trains now in operation in the city are as follows: Eastbound For Boston and between: 6:20, 9:45, 6:36 p. m. on week days, and 6:20, 9:45, 4:14 p. m. Sundays. For Providence and stations beyond: 11:23 a. m., 11:34 a. m., 8:10 p. m. week days; 11:34 a. m., 8:10 p. m. Sundays. For New Haven via Air Line: 7:55 a. m., 7:02 p. m. week days, and 7:02 p. m. Sundays.

The Willimantic baseball team won a poorly played and long drawn out game from Taftville on the Recreation park grounds Sunday afternoon by the score of 5 to 3. Farred on the mound for the home team was wild, but steadied in the pinches. He walked five men and hit one. Reiger, who did the twirling for Taftville, while he was not hit hard, seemed to lack support and also the ability to work himself out of holes. There was a crowd of well over a thousand at the game. The box score:

The death of Erasmus D. Tracy occurred at his home in Scotland Saturday morning after a long illness. He was born in Scotland Nov. 13, 1836, the son of George and Hannah Odess Tracy. Mr. Tracy was a member of Co. H, Tenth C. V., and served during the Civil war. He was the first man from his town to enter in the union army during the Civil war and was a member of Chapin post, G. A. R. He was survived by a sister, Mrs. Harriet Jeffers, a son, Fred P. Tracy of Scotland, two grandsons, William D. Tracy of Manchester and D. Leroy Tracy of Scotland, and a granddaughter, Delia Baiden, 82, widow of John S. Gray, died at the home of her son, J. B. Gray, at Mansfield, Saturday afternoon, following an intermittent illness of about three years. She was born in Mansfield, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baiden. She was married to John S. Gray over fifty years ago, and spent most of her life in Mansfield. She is survived by two sons, John S., with whom she lived, and H. N. Gray of Norwich, and by two sisters, Mrs. William B. Avery of Spring street and Mrs. V. D. Stearns of Willimantic. Mrs. Gray was a member of the Columbia Congregational church. Undertaker Jay M. Shepard, Saturday sent the body of our old friend stein, 11, who died at Mansfield Saturday, to his home in Waterbury.

A Hartford decorating firm has sent its artists to this city and have established headquarters on Church street. They have taken the contracts for decorating a number of buildings for the celebration Saturday. They have started work on some of them.

Some gypsies arrived in town Sunday afternoon, but contrary to custom they did not circulate among the citizens. They traveled in an auto-truck of the motel used in making grocery deliveries and had a Ohio license. There were several children in the party.

The police have received several complaints concerning auto-who have been going through the city, especially Jackson street, with mufflers wide open. The state law makes it an offense to drive a motor vehicle through any incorporated city or through the country after 9 o'clock without a muffler on the engine. If there are any more complaints there will be prosecutions.

The fire alarm telegraph system has finally been put in good working order again. The boys were torn down when the poles Tell in Main street a week ago Sunday. In re-stringing the wires on the poles, the boys made a mistake and a connection was formed which rang in several strokes on the central alarm. The break was discovered Sunday and repaired.

William Hether, of Coventry, while riding a motorcycle to this city from Coventry, struck a bicycle ridden by a boy named Rockback, aged between 12 and 15, the boy was coming down Winter street. Hether tried to turn out but the boy kept going so that he struck him, and the boy was severely shaken up and bruised that medical attention was necessary for him. The bicycle was demolished. Hether had the right of way, but Hether seems to have done the best he could to avoid the accident. He admits that he was traveling about 20 miles an hour.

Charles F. Wingersten, employed by a local firm as chauffeur, was so interested in catching a 'bus going to Ocean Beach Sunday that he ran off with a number of automobiles driven by George E. Spicer, of 107 Union street, Pittsfield, Mass. He was knocked down and his leg was badly skinned. Hether took him to the hospital at once but his injuries were not considered serious. He takes all the blame upon himself, so the police will not notice the matter up.

One result of the railroad curtailment has been a great increase in the business of the telegraph and long distance telephone offices. There was such a flood of toll line calls in at the local office Saturday afternoon that one local man informed that he had a chance of getting a call through to Hartford in less than two hours. Some of the calls were for points over a thousand miles away.

JEWETT CITY The Baptist Sunday school had an ideal day and ideal place for the picnic which was held Saturday afternoon. More than 150 persons went by truck, auto and carriage to the home of C. C. Palmer, of Jewett City, and spent a most delightful afternoon. W. R. Palmer is very fond of animals and flowers and the picnic was very enjoyable. There was a beautiful garden of flowers, especially the gladioli. The Angora cats, Scotch collies, and Belgian hares were particularly attractive to the children. At the picnic there were a number of contests, including a 50-yard dash for boys, prize a baseball, won by David Clarke; 50-yard dash for girls, won by Ellen Prior; 50-yard dash for boys, a racquet, won by Albert Brewster; 50-yard dash for girls, a jumping rope, won by Kathleen Dearnley; 50-yard dash for men, a key-ring, won by George Davis; 50-yard dash for ladies, a picture, won by Helen Phillips; sack race for girls, a book strap, won by David Clarke; a stunt race for boys, a box of dominos, won by Albert Brewster; wheelbarrow race for boys, a book, won by Albert Brewster; hurdle race for boys, a cup, won by Everett McCluggage; wheelbarrow race for girls and ladies, a picture, won by Kathleen Dearnley; one-legged race for girls, a fan, won by Emma Dearnley; leapfrog for boys, fish lines, won by Everett McCluggage and Albert Brewster; boxing match for boys, a racquet, won by William Franklin; boxing match for older boys, a book, won by Earl Phillips.

A surprise party was given Miss Della E. Join by a number of friends Saturday night. She was assisted in serving refreshments by Miss Alice Bicknell and Miss Rose Rouds. Friends were present from Jewett City, Worcester and New York.

Mrs. Stephen Saunders of Westerly, who has spent the past three weeks with her brother-in-law, Coon, has returned to her home.

Mrs. Mary Palmer and family and their guest, Miss Bertha Lewis, of Voluntown, spent Thursday with Mrs. Charles North in Westerly.

The Sunday school picnic will be held at Beach pond Wednesday, Aug. 13th. Clarke Coon and Miss Bertha and Benjamin Gallup visited Plainfield grange Tuesday evening. Miss Ella, Chapman is visiting her aunt, Mrs. William Hiscox, of Jewett City. Mrs. C. Dwight Thompson, George Wheeler and family and J. Frank Brown and family picnicked at the Palmer homestead Sunday afternoon. Clark Coon spent Wednesday at Storrs college.

Torrington.—A new schedule of rates has been instituted by the Charlotte Hungerford hospital, this action having been found necessary because of the high cost of supplies. The rates for the main ward will be $1.75 per day and will be graded up to the private rooms at $3.50 and $5.50 per day.

NORWICH BULLETIN, MONDAY, AUGUST 11, 1919 DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

George Heneault was in Providence on business Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Williams, Rupert Marland and Miss Myrtle Marland formed a theatre party to Providence Saturday, while there Miss Lillian Warren is to be the guest of Mrs. John J. Russell, Putnam, at her cottage.

In accordance with the vote of the town of Putnam at the annual town meeting last year, the selection of Putnam will have inserted in the printed town reports for 1919 the names of all persons who have failed to pay their property or personal taxes. It is expected that this publicity will result in the speedy payments on the part of delinquents.

County Agent Benjamin W. Ellis stated Saturday that over 75 farmers from Windham county were in attendance at the Farmers' Day program given at Storrs last week.

F. C. Warner, manager of the Southern New England Market of the New England Milk Producers' Association, Providence, is to speak next Wednesday evening at the meeting of the East Woodstock community club. His topic will be The Milk Marketing Situation.

The tie-up of freight and express service in Putnam as a result of the railroad strike and consequent curtailment of service is affecting Putnam evening men. Among them severely hit are managers of moving picture houses, who depend upon express to get their films from the distributing houses. The trains bringing these films from the distributing houses have been removed and Saturday one manager, Mr. Smith of the Bradley Theatre, sent to New London by automobile in order that his show might arrive. In shipping films out of the city, the parcel post has been resorted to but this channel of shipment is not as satisfactory as is the express.

Mrs. Alphonse Bourcier is entertaining here mother, from Grafton, Mass. Mayor Albia W. Marcy has decided that it would not be expedient to present for the city of Putnam to purchase foodstuffs that are being offered by the Federal government to municipalities. He has kept well informed to the situation, and thinks it wise, after correspondence with those in charge of the food distribution, to wait and see what response the citizens of Putnam make when the supplies are offered through the post-office department.

County Agent B. W. Ellis of the Farmers' Association said on Saturday that he is receiving a number of inquiries from gardeners who are finding a number of worms in their crops, by a little green worm. He has taken the matter up with the experiment station at New Haven, and is informed that the worm is probably the green clover worm. The proper treatment to kill this pest, is to spray the beans with a solution of lead, one teaspoonful of powder, or two past to a gallon of water. "Some people are afraid that this will make the beans dangerous to eat," said Mr. Ellis, "but if after picking they are thoroughly washed, they will not be injurious."

An interesting session is promised by the entertainment committee for Saturday evening at the Putnam post. The American legion which comes Tuesday night in Union Hall. A smoker, music and talks will provide the entertainment. At this time it is also expected that the post will be named.

Joseph G. Torrey, 49, died Friday at the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium in Norwich where he had been for the past nine weeks. Mr. Torrey was born in Putnam, the son of Henry D. and Clementine (Goodell) Torrey. For a number of years he was manager of the Putnam Manufacturing Company store, and was connected with the grocery business during all his life. Mr. Torrey leaves a brother, Walter D. Torrey, of this city. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Grove Street chapel. Rev. Roynton Merrill, of the Putnam Congregational church, officiating. Burial was in Grove Street cemetery.

Railroad service through Putnam remained Saturday just as it was Friday and no further curtailment of service was announced. Sunday the afternoon train from Hartford and to Hartford did not run. As a result of the cutting of trains Putnam people are not able to get afternoon papers until 6 o'clock. These formerly arrived on the 2:19 express from Boston. Express is being refused at Putnam as it is all along the line, and no further freight shipments are being made.

BAD DREAMS

Is dreaming a disease? Mr. Gregory Adee, 655 Merrimack street thinks so. His statement follows: "For six years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble and constipation. I would fill up with gas till it seemed I couldn't breathe; my heart would palpitate and I would get dizzy. My appetite became very poor and I had to be very careful what I ate. I had a sharp pain in my back most of the time and my kidneys were bad; I had to get up two or three times at night and the urine would burn me. I did not sleep well nights for I would dream the most awful dreams and couldn't rest. I am a splinter at Shrewsbury and Tremont mills, but couldn't work only part time because of my stomach and bowel trouble. I am glad to tell about that medicine to any one who needs it for stomach and bowel trouble. Tell anyone to ask me if they want to know. "GREGORY ADEE."

Influenza, Grandma and Goldine "I had influenza and I had it bad. There were times when I would shake with chills and no amount of covering could warm me. Then in a few moments I would be burning up with fever. A great weakness seemed to settle over me and I could hardly force myself to move. "It left me without any color in my face, with no appetite and so weak I could hardly stand. Grandma Newman was down town one day and brought me back a bottle of Goldine. That did the work for me. It drove the influenza out of me and the color has come back into my face. I feel fine and enjoy my food."

That's True, Says Grandma Newman "I just want to tell you that I think Goldine is a wonderful medicine for anyone who has had the influenza. You ought to have seen that boy before he splintered at Shrewsbury and Tremont mills. He was like me, but now the color has come back in his face and we are all happy to see him so hungry and full of life. It is just like getting our boy back, and Goldine did it. He likes with me, and I wanted to tell you that it's true—what he said."

"MRS. F. D. NEWMAN" Goldine is not a patent medicine, but a root and herb remedy of great merit. This we have proved many times over by people here in Norwich, Come and talk with me about your case—at the BROADWAY PHARMACY next year. Visitors will be given a opportunity to inspect the program was sent Friday night by the Putnam Chamber of Commerce to Mr. Albert, secretary of the Putnam association of Bridgeport, and is the concluding chapter in the negotiations that have been going on for the past week between the Putnam Chamber of Commerce and the Bridgeport city engineers. It had been hoped that this concern would come here and operate a line so as to give adequate service to this section of the country not tied up through the strike of the employees of the Shore Line Electric Company. A representative of the Bridgeport association came here Wednesday and looked the field over and returned to his own city to report. He was to have wired an immediate answer after arriving here Friday night, but no word from Bridgeport had been received by the Merchants' Committee here. Realizing that this delay was working against the interests of Putnam and Putnam merchants they thereupon decided to take the matter into their own hands, and thus be sure that service would materialize. Delays could not be tolerated, for in the meanwhile Putnam trade from points north was going elsewhere, and Putnam shopkeepers were losing.

Saturday, Fred Gagnon, under the direction of the Chamber, went to Boston and returned with a new passenger auto of the latest type. This (Monday) morning the truck left Putnam at 5:55 a. m. for North Grotondale, and half hourly service with that town, after many set backs and delays, became a reality. Two trucks are operating on this route, which covers West Thompson, Grotondale and North Grotondale. One starts from Burbee corner, Putnam at 5:55 and the other one hour later. Beginning Saturday, after many set backs, the service will be half hourly. Running south, the service begins at 7 o'clock the car leaving Putnam railroad station. One bus and one seven passenger machine will cover the route, going through Dayville to Danballon. Another bus is soon to be obtained for this route, to take the place of the touring car. With this service established, both north and south, into their own hands, and thus be sure that service would materialize. Delays could not be tolerated, for in the meanwhile Putnam trade from points north was going elsewhere, and Putnam shopkeepers were losing.

The funeral of George O. Brott of No. 33 Sherman street, Hartford, was held Thursday afternoon at his summer home at Thompson. Rev. G. H.
