

WHY NOT SATURDAY CLOSING?

Why cannot Norwich make Saturday a general holiday in order to give clerks and workers generally a chance to attend the Welcome Home celebration to the Norwich service men, asked a prominent Main street business man Thursday.

Probably most of the same-time soldiers and sailors are not back at work and it may be hard for them to get away for the afternoon and it will also be hard for many who are not soldiers and sailors to take the afternoon off to attend the events at the Fair Grounds, if all the stores keep open and the mills and manufactories run on regular time.

The Main street business man said that as far as he was concerned he was willing to close up Saturday afternoon and he suggested that the stores could keep open Friday evening later than usual to make up for the time that would be lost. He said he would start in on a canvass of the merchants today (Friday) to see how many would join him in this patriotic move to let nothing stand in the way of Norwich giving her service men the right kind of a welcome in point of attendance as well as every other detail. He will have published in the Bulletin on Saturday the list of stores that will agree to suspend business for Saturday afternoon so that a list of their employees shall be held back by having to work.

Committee Directions.

Chairman Allyn L. Brown of the reception committee requests that all members of that committee meet just inside the main gate at the fair grounds Saturday noon at 12.30 to receive their committee badges and any necessary instructions. The committee wish it to be clearly understood that every man who has been in federal service during the war, whether now discharged or not, and whether he was living in Norwich at the time of entering the service or not, if he now lives here, is invited to be present on Saturday.

CENTRAL VILLAGE

Mrs. Philip Mathewson has returned from a summer's stay at Watch Hill and is at the home of her mother, Mrs. Arthur Atwood, in Waukegan, at present.

John Fletcher was at the Day Kimball hospital in Putnam Wednesday. He has recovered sufficiently from a recent operation on his neck to return to his duties at the stockhouse of the Central Worsted company.

George Potvin has been confined to his home by a severe cold. Postmaster of Central Village was in Boston Thursday and Friday, where he acted as one of a committee of five recently appointed at a meeting held in New London to meet and confer with ten senators. The meeting was held to discuss matters pertaining to the various post offices in the state.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Loring were recent visitors in Pomfret. Mrs. Charles Lewis and son, H. Elmer Lewis, of Central Village, and Mrs. George Rouse recently enjoyed a motor trip to Hartford and Springfield. Henry Levalley of Moosup had charge of the store during Mr. Lewis' absence.

Dr. and Mrs. James L. Gardner, Samuel Sheldon and Miss Louise Baker attended the Bradley auction in Pomfret Tuesday.

Miss Margaret Reid has been assisting at the postoffice during the absence of Postmaster Lafavre.

Miss Ruth Mathewson has been teaching in Danvers graded school for Miss E. Miller. She is a young woman who stuck a nail in her foot a week ago, and is unable to walk and has been confined to her bed a week.

Thomas Carlan has been ill at his home. Peach and grape thieves are numerous in this section. A young man from Moosup walked into a yard on River street and was helping himself to grapes from a vine. Israel Seguin, who was taken seriously ill Thursday night, is better.

Miss Hattie Wheeler of Road society has been the guest of local friends. Mrs. Robert Loring and daughter Mary have returned from a visit with relatives in Maine. Elwood Byles has returned to Northfield, Mass. where he attends Mt. Hermon school. Miss Cassie Medbury spent Sunday at her home in Canterbury.

STORRS

Connecticut Agricultural college opened Wednesday with the largest enrollment in its history, so large that many students have been obliged to room at the Storrs hotel, but Secretary Torrey states that every room in the college will be in a position to make the accommodations more convenient. Additional freshmen are expected to enter.

There are now five courses offered by the college, the agricultural, mechanical, engineering and home economics courses, and having the best enrollment. The science course that has been started this year is proving popular. Besides these courses there is a two-year course in agriculture.

Coach Guyer has already begun to get the football candidates in trim and 30 men in particular look very promising. Gleason, the former tackle, and Maguire, also a tackle, are the only varsity men back so far. Both are expected to play in the next game. Undoubtedly hold down their former positions on the line. Hopwood, also a letter man, is expected to report in a day or two and will play for his former position of quarterback.

Among the promising line men are Dennison, Males, W. W. Graf, Mitchell, Prentice, Poole, Ferris, Moadell, D. Graf, A. Klein, Sicketts, Voorhees, G. Dow, Wood and Ricketts of Norwich are among the promising backfield men.

Ross N. Swartz, former backfield star and captain of the Lebanon Valley college team, is expected to arrive at once, to add Coach Guyer in his work both on the field and in the gymnasium.

The following schedule for the varsity team has been arranged by Manager Paul N. Manwaring: Sept. 27—New Hampshire State at Durham. Oct. 4—Mass. Aggies at Amherst. Oct. 11—Trinity at Hartford. Oct. 18—Stevens at Worcester. Oct. 25—Holy Cross at Worcester. Nov. 1—Open. Nov. 8—Boston university at Storrs. Nov. 15—Open. Nov. 22—R. J. State at Kingston. Capt. C. E. Cranston, Inf. U. S. A., is the commandant this year and is to turn out a better unit than ever of the reserve officers' training corps. The R. O. T. C. will be the largest ever. It is expected that the discipline will be the most rigid can be determined by scanning the military notices.

The first college assembly was held in Havard army Wednesday evening at 11 o'clock and was addressed by Secretary Torrey and Professor Slate.

New Haven—President Frank P. Quinn of the Connecticut Liquor Dealers' association is doing well at St. Raphael's hospital following an operation which he underwent several days ago.

Some people are like antique eggs, the better you get acquainted, the more you don't like them.

If through an oversight any such man has not received an individual invitation and tickets, he is requested to telephone Miss Ethel M. Sevin at the Red Cross room, Thayer building, phone 227.

More Money Needed. Responses are needed to come in faster to the financial committee in order to reach the amount that is needed to close the celebration. It is certain that the money can be raised without any great strain on anyone but those who want to contribute can make it very much easier for Chairman James L. Case and his committee if they will come forward voluntarily without delay.

Up to Thursday only 82 contributors had sent in their names, which is far too small a number to be credited to a city like Norwich. The sum of $443 was raised Thursday and the total now available through the 82 contributors is $738. The committee urges that the citizen come in today with a rush with their cash and send this appeal "over the top" to the $2,500 called for, just as they have done with every other appeal that was made to them in the past few years.

The following were the contributors Thursday: N. Abbenham, C. H. Frisbie, Atlantic Carton Co., American Thermos Bottle Co. (second subscription), Shetucket Co. Saxton Woolen Co., Toket Mills, United Metal Mfg. Co., Vaughn Foundry Co., Prentice Co., Yee Wah, J. B. Martin Co., Norwich Woolen Co., Admore Woolen Co., Liberty Woolen Co., Joseph Hall & Sons, Lester & Wasley, friend, Mrs. Lucius Bawa, Dr. H. E. Higgins, Connecticut Engineering & Contracting Co., Lee F. Cummings, Helen B. P. Huntington (Mrs.), Wm Duro, Jr., Jennie E. Moore, Mrs. S. E. Palmer, the Misses Lucas, United States Finishing Co., John T. Almy, Mrs. Jenny L. Ried, Charles S. Holbrook, Miss Ethel M. Sevin, Palmer Bros. Co., Henry J. Frisbie, Phillip T. Welles, Chandler & Palmer.

Have You Examined

A Smart Five-Passenger Model of the Light Car Men Praise so Highly

The Essex Sedan?

You must have seen this dainty new Essex.

More than a thousand are in service.

You Will Recognize It At a Glance

It comes in the same beautiful green that distinguishes the Essex touring car. The body is simple with the newest square lines, low roof, but with ample head room, wide doors, deep seats and high backs.

Has Large Car Comforts With Small Car Costs

For one reason, men speak of the Essex as they do, because of its costly car finish and equipment. The Essex has no useless length or weight and no sacrifice has been made in any of the comforts. It has all the passenger space that larger cars afford.

You have but to ride in an Essex to know its comfort. There is the large car's solidity about it that removes all sense of its weight or size.

And yet its size gives distinct advantages.

It makes the Essex easy to drive. It can be steered with two fingers. It can be turned in a short radius, parked in a small space, and of course there is an immense saving in operating costs.

And, too, its size accounts for its costly car quality at a moderate price.

It is Just as Lively As the Other Essex

Many will tell you the fastest automobile ride they ever enjoyed was in an Essex.

Others say it is the quickest and liveliest car in acceleration they know. We leave it to the Essex to reveal those qualities.

But rest assured it is not sluggish. It gives way to no car where acceleration, speed and comfort of driving and riding are concerned.

The season when the Sedan will be most enjoyed is approaching. So you should speak for your Essex without delay. The one thousand in service, to say nothing of ten times as many touring models in use, indicates a continued Essex shortage.

GOLDENROD

By Eugenie du Maurier.

Beneath the blue September skies, Midst all the hues so manifold, While the young year grows old and wise, The fields are tinged with yellow gold. Oh, gleaming of the goldenrod! Bright as the beaming rays of morn: Amid the brown and somber sod, The sunny sprays of bloom are born. The roses of the afterglow Blush in the garden of the west, Ah, we have loved sweet summer so! But she must glide away to rest. So, swaying, swinging rod of gold, I give a sigh to summer gone, And seek your presence on the wold— A token of a season's dawn. Thus heralded, the autumn days, With mellow sunbeams, warm and clear, Come trooping through the forest ways, The harvest home of all the year.
