When the testimony was concluded

Wednesday in the superior court for Washington county, in session at Westerly, in the case against Chris Ferraro, jitney driver, charged with being an accessory after the fact in the assault case of Green Riley and George Houghton, who beat up John Lynch, the jury was taken from the court room upon John J. Fitzgerald, counsel for accused, request as he desired to make a motion. This was after Judge Doran gave decision on the point raised Tuesday as to the admission as evidence in evidence of the court in the assault charges against Riley and Houghton. He sustained the motion and the jury was discharged.
Sisson, that it was proper to show the connection of the principal in the case and to show that the assault was actually committed.

Mr. Fitzgerald moved for the discharge of the defendant. It was for the state to show that he was an accessory after the fact, which meant that Ferraro had taken Riley and Houghton out of the state and in aiding them to escape arrest. No evidence to that effect had been introduced. The evidence showed that Ferraro was engaged to take Riley and Houghton to New London, and that on the way back before Westerly was reached, Ferraro was hired to take the men to Boston, where they resided at that time. When the start was made to Boston for Westerly, Riley asked Ferraro to drive up the Boom bridge road as he wanted to see Lynch. This he did and the row followed. Ferraro took no part in this row, did not know who the real assailant was. After this stop he proceeded with the men to Boston in fulfillment of his contract, for which he had been previously paid. He simply carried out his contract and without any idea of aiding the men to escape. If it was Ferraro's intention to aid the men by getting them out of the state he could have driven a quarter mile and landed them in Connecticut. There is no evidence to show that Ferraro is guilty of the act charged.

When Ferraro returned to Westbury said Mr. Fitzgerald, and learned through the papers that he was wanted in connection with the assault he reported to the police that he was ready to give any information he possessed, but the police did not want any from him. There is a tinge of evidence to show that he is guilty, said Mr. Fitzgerald. He was not an accessory after the fact. Should the jury decide against the defendant, Mr.
Fitzgerald claimed there was ample ground for a new trial.

Judge Doran said he realized the force of the argument, but that he would not be justified in taking the case from the jury.

Arguments were made by Attorneys Fitzgerald and Sisson, and the judge charged the jury as to the law in the case. The jury retired at 12:15 and at 2:45 reported that it was impossible to reach an agreement.

At the opening of court in the afternoon, Judge Doran announced that the court must end the present session in Westerly with Friday, as he was to hold court in Newport beginning next Monday. The trial for trial is that of Herminia Bottinelli against the Westerly Automatic Telephone company with John Ferguson counsel for plaintiff and Frederick W.
O'Connell of Providence counsel for the defendant. The jury drawn for the trial of the case composed of William E. Burk, Raymond K. Gould, Albert B.
Smith of Westerly; Frank Francis, William C. Howard, John W. Sherman, North Kingstown; Arthur N.
Beckham, W. Herbert Phillips, South Kingstown; Arthur P. Chase, Exeter; Alvas H. Burdick, Richmond; Stephen C. Potter, Roxie C. Niles, Hopkinton.
Attorney Ferguson stated to the jury that this action is for injuries received by plaintiff on Aug. 15, 1917, in which claim is made for $10,000 in damages, and that suit was instituted Nov. 8, 1917. The injury occurred in a lot near Franklin street. Mr. and Mrs. Bottonelli and their daughter were out picking berries and in returning home came along a pathway and over a stone wall which was broken down for the continuation of the pathway. The daughter went over the wall first and the girl fell. Mrs. Bottinelli went to her assistance, was thrown to the ground and almost electrocuted fatally when rescued by her husband. A wire of the Westerly Automatic Telephone company had broken and crossing the live wire of the Westerly Light and Power company became charged with a high voltage of electricity. Mrs. Bottonelli was severely burned.

Mr. Ferguson said he would show that the telephone company was responsible for Mrs. Bottinelli's injuries, which were caused through the carelessness and neglect of the company. Originally, he said, there were three telephone poles in that immediate vicinity, that the middle pole had been broken down and never replaced, and that there was a distance between the other two poles of 245 feet. The wires were corroded and worn. For at least a week before this mishap, and at the time this wire was broken, laid on the ground, and was resting on the live electric light wire. He said Mrs.
Bottinelli was so severely burned by electricity and so shocked, that ever since she has suffered nervous disorder.

The jury took a view of the location and upon the hearing of the case the case was commenced.
