WESTERLY

A second opinion has been handed down by Judge John Doran of the superior court, in favor of defendant, in the case of Myron Plympton, against Dr. J. De Vere Barber, in which plaintiff sues for $15,000 and alleges that the doctor neglected to treat his wife, now deceased.

The second demurrer was brought last summer and returnable to the superior court for Washington county. Judge Herbert W. Rathbun, counsel for defendant, demurred to the declaration on several grounds.

Defendant on May 10th so negligently treated Ida E. Plympton and neglected to render proper attention that by reason of said neglect and lack of treatment, said Ida E. Plympton died.

This is not an allegation of failure to attend Mrs. Plympton at all on May 10th. It comes nearer to a positive statement on May 10th, considered in that light the declaration should state facts constituting negligence or if they are unknown to plaintiff, at least should so allege.

The Washington county superior court came in at Westerly Thursday with Judge John Doran on the bench.

In the first case called for trial, Bertha Smith, wife of Rev. Robert Keating Smith, of Westfield, Mass., is the plaintiff and the Board of Highway Commissioners of Westerly the defendant.

There was a long discussion in the points made in the appeal, which was supported by Judge Herbert W. Rathbun who, with Attorney John J. Dunn, represents the plaintiff.

case, as no matter how he decided, he supposed the case would, and he was ready for the jury to decide the fact as to the necessity of the new layout as proposed by the board and opposed by the plaintiff.

The jury empaneled to hear the case is composed as follows: John H. Williams, Westerly; Charles H. Johnson, Archibald B. Rose, foreman, North Kingston; George A. Babcock, James R. Northrup, Oliver W. Greene, South Kingston; Orrin E. Kenyon, Charles town; Frank E. Sweet, Richmond; Albert Andrews, Exeter; William E. Smith, Hopkinton; Walter Smith, Harry I. Whaley, Narragansett.

Governor Beekman has been sworn in as an honorary member of Thomas W. Connell Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. This honor was conferred in recognition of services as war governor.

a quarter of the required amount therefore has been contributed the first day.

Stonington Pointers. Paul Hammond is in Washington for a week. Keeper Furbush, of the Atwood camp in Maine, has returned to Stonington for the winter.

PLAN FOR WORKERS TO BUY $100 CERTIFICATES. By authority of the executive committee of the Manufacturers' association of Connecticut consideration has been given to various plans and agencies for the promotion of thrift and savings among industrial workers in Connecticut.

While many industrial establishments are developing their own plans for promotion of saving among their employees, and while a number of organizations are actively interested in similar endeavors, the program of the United States treasury department, through its newly organized savings division, seems to merit particular consideration by manufacturers interested in the general subject who have not yet taken any definite action.

The savings division of the treasury department is represented in Connecticut by a state committee of which Mrs. Richard M. Bliss is the chairman, with offices and staff in Hartford.

The origin of the adoption of the title as the national flower of Scotland is unknown, although many stories have been told. The favorite legend tells how the Danes were creeping silently one night toward the Scottish camp (although the Danes looked upon a midnight attack as unwarrantable) when suddenly one of the soldiers stepped upon thistle with his bare feet, causing him to cry aloud with pain.

Scotland's Flower. The origin of the adoption of the title as the national flower of Scotland is unknown, although many stories have been told.

Three plans have been devised by the committee whereby manufacturers and employers generally may co-operate with the savings division in promoting the sale of these certificates on a weekly payment basis.

Plan No. 1—This plan calls for the active and continuous co-operation of the employer. It provides that he shall receive from his employees subscriptions to the savings certificates, and also receive or withhold from the pay envelopes of subscribers the sum of $2 per week in payment for the certificates.

Plan No. 2—This plan proposes that the employer co-operate in arousing interest in the treasury savings certificates, that he shall take subscriptions, and receive the first payment on each, but that he shall then transfer all records, subscriptions and money received to his local bank, which shall make the collections and keep the records thereafter.

Plan No. 3—Under this plan the employer is asked to do no more than to co-operate and assist in bringing to the attention of employers the government proposition as to savings certificates and encourage them to go to the banks of their preference and subscribe.

Plan No. 4—This plan proposes that the employer co-operate in arousing interest in the treasury savings certificates, that he shall take subscriptions, and receive the first payment on each, but that he shall then transfer all records, subscriptions and money received to his local bank, which shall make the collections and keep the records thereafter.

Plan No. 5—Under this plan the employer is asked to do no more than to co-operate and assist in bringing to the attention of employers the government proposition as to savings certificates and encourage them to go to the banks of their preference and subscribe.

Plan No. 6—This plan proposes that the employer co-operate in arousing interest in the treasury savings certificates, that he shall take subscriptions, and receive the first payment on each, but that he shall then transfer all records, subscriptions and money received to his local bank, which shall make the collections and keep the records thereafter.

Plan No. 7—This plan proposes that the employer co-operate in arousing interest in the treasury savings certificates, that he shall take subscriptions, and receive the first payment on each, but that he shall then transfer all records, subscriptions and money received to his local bank, which shall make the collections and keep the records thereafter.

Plan No. 8—This plan proposes that the employer co-operate in arousing interest in the treasury savings certificates, that he shall take subscriptions, and receive the first payment on each, but that he shall then transfer all records, subscriptions and money received to his local bank, which shall make the collections and keep the records thereafter.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY. Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief For Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, the nervous, aching ache and inability to retain food, are probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, and the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.
