

Agony of Asthma

New Prescription Given Prompt Relief, Makes Breathing Easy.

Thousands of people suffer from bronchitis or bronchial asthma, who, having tried advertised remedies, inhalers, patent medicines, poultices, changes in climate, etc., without permanent benefit, believe nothing can ever make them well.

Extensive experiments finally enabled a Worcester, Mass., physician to find a simple, harmless treatment that gave almost immediate relief in even the most stubborn advanced cases, and great numbers of former asthmatics now lead their normal lives with wonderful success.

The doctor's prescription is called Oxidase and can be obtained from The Lee & Osmond Co. and leading druggists everywhere. Who sell it on a guarantee of money back on the first package if in any case it fails to give prompt relief.

Many users who for years have been obliged to sit up in bed gasping for breath and unable to sleep report that they now take a dose of Oxidase when going to bed and can then lie down and breathe easily and naturally and get a good night's restful sleep.

Oxidase is a safe treatment, easy and pleasant to take and contains no harmful, habit-forming drugs.

The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Trustees, Amos Baldwin, chairman; Stealing Nelson and Albert Heyden, clerks; and treasurer, Mrs. I. I. Peckham; treasurer of missionary fund, Mrs. Albert Heyden. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $770.83 at the beginning of 1919, leaving a balance of $858.45 to start 1920 with. The secretary's report showed that there had been four additions to the church, two were dismissed by letter and there was one loss by death. The meeting was adjourned after prayer.

TAFTVILLE

Two sleighing parties from the village enjoyed a trip through the surrounding country Thursday evening in two large bob sleds. The parties were merry ones and everyone was in the best of spirits which the light snowfall could not dampen. Sleighing parties are in vogue in the village and the sleighs are engaged for several days ahead.

CAUGHT IN TRAP; HOPPED AND CRAWLED HOME

Ralph Arnold of Bakers Camp, Groton, while out hunting Wednesday walked into a fox trap that tripped him. His sharp teeth into his leg. He was unable to bring his leg free to extricate himself from the trap. When he finally freed himself he discovered that the trap had come together with such force that it had fractured the bone of his leg and when he attempted to stand on it he collapsed.

The accident occurred about two miles from his home and there was no one with him. The only way he could make any progress was to hop on one foot as long as he could and then lie down in the snow and crawl. He alternated the hopping and crawling operation, until he finally reached home after being exhausted by the pain and the fatigue of his unusual exertions.

BENNETT AT HEARING OVER NEW MYSTIC BRIDGE

Charles J. Bennett, state highway commissioner and Deputy Commissioner R. L. Saunders have been in New London to attend a hearing before United States District Engineer Thomas Robbins, in regard to the new state bridge which will be built at Mystic, between the towns of Stennington and Groton.

As the river over which the new bridge will cost $150,000 is a navigable stream, it is necessary for the state to secure permission from the government before starting work. There is practically no doubt that that Engineer Robbins will recommend to the war department that permission be given to the state of Connecticut to go ahead with the work.

Big Response from Episcopal Churches

The Connecticut Churchman reports that the nation-wide campaign canvass was made by the Norwich parishioners on the afternoon of Dec. 16, and though full reports are not yet in, it is known that Trinity church more than doubled its pledges for both missions and parish. It is probable that the Christ church reports will show a like increase, at any rate for missions.

RADICALS TRAVEL IN SPECIAL LINCOLNE

The Norwich police station, which has been the place of confinement for the alleged radicals rounded up in Willimantic and this city about Tuesday night, got rid of its prisoners on Thursday afternoon, when the eleven were taken to Willimantic and from there were to go on to Hartford where they will be given hearings before federal authorities.

The raids here in which nine of the eleven men were arrested were conducted by the Norwich police under the direction of one federal officer, but when the transfer to Hartford came to be made a group of half a dozen federal officers arrived here and took charge of the prisoners, who were taken to Willimantic on a special train which was built ahead of the 1.45 regular trip. The men were marched from police headquarters to the center of Broadway and Main street to be placed aboard the car.

Among the eleven prisoners were two who had been arrested in Willimantic and brought here. Those taken to Hartford from here were the following: Frank Sawawski, 8 Valley street, Willimantic; John Fubick, 241 E. Main street; Wayne Smoot, 64 Chapman street, Willimantic; Andrew Marching Yantic, John Fubick, 241 E. Main street; Elexy Al Kuchungki, 259 North Main street, Norwich; Nikolai Michalevich, 374 North Main street, Norwich; William Wroby, 374 North Main street, Norwich; Ivan Bosko, 456 North Main street, Norwich; Stephen Asip Kuznich, 63 Roosevelt avenue, Norwich; Peter Slesarenko, 102 Franklin street, Norwich.

It became known here Thursday to the local authorities that the federal men considered they had located men in sympathy with the real "inner circle" of the disciples of Linine and Trotsky when they arrested those who had frequented the "auto school." It was learned that only those could join the school who were members of the Workers Union, which is committed to the overthrow of existing forms of government by replacing them with a blind rule. The membership fee to the school was $10 and Peter Slesarenko was the instructor, according to the name that appeared on the card of the school. Slesarenko was one of those arrested and taken to Hartford. He is lame, walking with a cane, because he has lost one of his legs below the knee, but has it replaced with an artificial limb.

Another name apparently connected with the school is that of Boris Agovich, but he has not been arrested. His name appears on the card of the window advertising automobiles for hire.

AMERICANIZATION BOOKS AVAILABLE AT LIBRARY

The Americanization committee of the National Society of the Daughters of American Revolution, at their meeting held in Memorial Continental hall, October 17, 1919, recommended the issuing of Bulletin E. Quoting the Bulletin:

"The Americanization became the word of the hour when statistics of the war showed to the nation the illiteracy of both foreign and native population, the menace which it is to our civilization, the all-way to this unhappy condition is Education.

"For this trained teachers are necessary, but it is found by investigation that the call for trained teachers in that line is far from equaling the demand."

The National chapter of D. A. R. has decided that the best way to meet their would be to raise money in the chapters and finance young women for this training.

The plan of the committee is that the state agent as chairman of her state take up this work with the chapters in their states and raise a national fund to finance the training of more young women for special training in this work.

She must be able to teach English in the home, home nursing, a domestic science, and must also be able to speak the language of the home she visits. Along this line of this work a course of reading was made out by Ruth W. Way's chapter, of Hartford.

This outline of study on Americanization is arranged under Topic or Group. Those of the Faith Trumbull chapter may find the following books of the reading list at the 915 library of the city: "The Making of an American," Jacob Riss; "From Alien to Citizen," Steiner; "Against the Current," Russian People, Baring; "Balkan Life," Robert Dugless; "The Belgians," Germany of the Germans, Home Life in Russia, Rapoport; "The Village," The Dark People, Poole; "The American People," The Citizens, Balch; "House on Henry Street," Wald; "Twenty Years at Hull House," Jane Addams; "Leaven in a Great City," Better, "The Immigrant," American, Jacob Riss; "Imported Americans," Brandenburg; "Races and Immigrants in America," Commons; "On the Trail of the Immigrant," Steiner; "Immigrant Tide," Steiner; "Immigrant and the Community," Grace Abbott; "Child Labor in City Streets," Clapper; "Undisciplined Americans," Holt; "War Invasion and the Mine Workers," Wams; "Long Road of Woman's Memory," Jane Addams; "New Immigration," Harris; "Immigration Problems," Janks.

FREE MAN FOR ECONOMY ON RIVERS AND HARBORS

(Special to The Bulletin.) Washington, Jan. 21.—When the rivers and harbors bill was before the House, the committee on rivers and harbors of the Second Connecticut district, said:

This House has been told that we must economize. It is true. The committee has met and met to get a fair and proper manner. The small amount of this appropriation is an exceedingly small appropriation of the total amount of the bill. The committee should be called not a pork barrel committee, but it must have nicknacks from the bag we should be known as the spare-rib committee. You must recognize that this is an exceedingly small appropriation for the annual appropriation of this widely advertised committee. We cut it to the bone, and that is what we have to do. The situation that confronts this country is this: A great army of 4,000,000 men has been recently demobilized, and yet all these men have found no such thing as a job. They are scattered all over the country, and the various agricultural, commercial, and industrial pursuits of this country are in a state of depression. The country is in a state of material growth higher and higher, and the price of improvement is higher and higher. It is greater than ever before.

Now, the rivers and harbors committee considered the estimates of the engineering amounting to $140,000,000 for improvements, and it developed in the hearings that this country, that this board of engineers had at its disposal the sum of $140,000,000 already appropriated, available, and yet unexpended. It also had in addition to that the sum of $140,000,000 already appropriated, available, and yet unexpended. It also had in addition to that the sum of $140,000,000 already appropriated, available, and yet unexpended.

GET $40 FROM POLISH CLUB'S CASH REGISTER

Burglars got into the Polish club in Fulsack hall some time Wednesday night and secured the cash register, which they made a wreck of, evidently using some heavy instrument to hammer it with.

The burglary was discovered when the caretaker of the club arrived to open it about 11 o'clock Thursday morning. Entrance had been gained through a window near the rear of the building from which the glass had been smashed out.

Report of the burglary was made to Chief George E. Baker, superior police and officers were sent to the place to look it over.

TELLS HOW DOCTORS MAY USE LIQUORS

Regulations concerning the use of intoxicating liquors in cases of illness, were made public at the internal revenue office this week. The regulations are as follows: Physicians may use distilled spirits, wine and alcoholic medicinal preparations to prevent loss of life, aggravation of illness or to relieve suffering. Physicians may not, however, obtain more than six quarts of liquor in any one calendar year and may not sell or furnish liquor to other persons. The total amount of liquor administered to any one patient in ten days must not exceed one pint."
