

WESTERLY

Daniel Courtland Babcock, who died Wednesday evening at his New York home, was a hotel manager and proprietor in New York city, former manager of the Watch Hill house and a native of the town of Westerly. He was the son of Oliver and Martha Dickens Babcock and was born in the Avondale section, August 14, 1863. He married on December 10, 1895, Margaret Stillman Burke of Brooklyn, who is a member of Phebe Greene Ward chapter, D. A. R. of Westerly. She survives her husband as does also their daughter, Lela Babcock. He also leaves two brothers, Truman Dickens and James Oliver Babcock, both of Avondale, and a sister, Mrs. John Tongue, of East Greenwich.

Mr. Babcock, although in business in New York, spent the summers in his old home town. He was very much interested in Masonry, and was a thirty-second degree Mason, and a member of Franklin Lodge, Palmer chapter, and Narragansett Commandery, Knights Templar, of Westerly. Mr. Babcock was interested in the ownership of several cottages at Watch Hill and Avondale, and recently purchased and greatly improved the house in Avondale, formerly owned by an uncle, Ezra Babcock. Mr. Babcock retained his legal residence in Westerly, was an elector here, and several years ago served as a member of the Westerly town council.

Herace F. Burdick, 77, who sustained a paralytic stroke Tuesday afternoon, He resided in North Stonington up to two years ago, when he sold his farm to Miss Maud Price, of Brockton, and since then has made his home at The Ninret, in Westerly. He served in the Twenty-Sixth Connecticut Regiment in the Civil war and drove the mail wagon between Stonington and North Stonington before the advent of the electric cars. His son and daughter reside in North Stonington. Babcock, progenitor of this family in New England, was born in the East Angles county, England, and died in Westerly in 1879. His son, John, located in Acordale, near Mastuzet cove in the town of Westerly, and died in 1836. Captain John Babcock, his son, died in 1846, after holding many town offices and was captain of a militia company. Ichabod, son of Ichabod, died in 1804. His son, Joseph, married Hannah Ross, of Westerly. Captain Daniel, son of Joseph and Hannah Ross Babcock, was born in 1777 and died in 1860. He married Nancy, daughter of Colonel James and Jeannet McWowell Babcock. Oliver Babcock, father of deceased, was a son of Captain Daniel Babcock. He was born June 26, 1811, died in Westerly, October 22, 1906. For many years he was captain of the whaling bark Fellows, which hailed from Stonington. He married March 27, 1837, Martha, born September 3, 1817, died March 18, 1888, daughter of Truman and Desire Hannah Ross Dickens. These children were born to them: Martha, born May 28, 1838, died April 7, 1841; George, born June 16, 1841, died December 25, 1842; Triam D., born December 10, 1843, now at Avondale; Nancy, wife of John Tourge, born September 29, 1852, now of East Greenwich; Daniel, born March 25, 1850, died September 19, 1885; James Oliver, born December 15, 1859; and Daniel Courtland, born August 14, 1863, died in New York, February 23, 1920.

Margaret Stillman Burke, wife of Daniel Courtland Babcock, is a member of the Burke family that came to this country from the north of Ireland. Her father was William Burke, known in New York city as "Burke the Tattler," with store at Broadway and Fulton street for more than forty years. He acquired a large fortune and was a member of Plymouth church, Brooklyn. Mrs. Babcock's mother was Harriet Eugenia, daughter of Asher Miner Babcock.

Progressive Peace Date has paved the way for Westerly to get a hospital and establish a much needed hospital. In the Rhode Island house of representatives, an act has been introduced incorporating the South County Hospital, which is a corporation formed for the purpose of maintaining a hospital in Washington county. A corporation already has been granted by the secretary of state, and the hospital is in operation. It is now proposed to waive this chapter for an act of incorporation by the legislature. The substance of the act may serve as a guide to those who have in view an establishment of a hospital in Westerly.

Section L. Caroline Edward Ellen, Robinson, Herbert J. Wells, Beagle, H. H. Brown, J. H. Hazard, Jr., Stephen Sharp Adams, T. de Copart and Lulu M. Schlesinger and their associates, who may be admitted to membership of the corporation hereafter created according to the by-laws thereof, hereby made a corporation by the name of the South County Hospital for the purpose of providing, erecting, acquiring, equipping, supporting and maintaining a hospital in Washington county, in the state of Rhode Island, and in connection therewith and for the purpose of carrying into full effect the objects and main intentions of the corporation, to acquire land by purchase, lease, gift or otherwise, to build, erect, acquire, equip, furnish, maintain, support and operate the same, and to do all such other acts and things as may be necessary or proper to carry into effect the objects and main intentions of the corporation, and to do all such other acts and things as may be necessary or proper to carry into effect the objects and main intentions of the corporation.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion." Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastric ulcers. Accompanied by serious stomach ailments, food fermenting and souring, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and impairs the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart. It is the worst of fully to neglect such a serious condition. It is treated with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead of removing a few ounces of bilious Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and heat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation, and there is no sourness or pain. Bile is not a poison (in powder or tablet form) never harmful to the stomach. It is harmless to the stomach. It is expensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is made of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Keep Your Stomach In Good Condition and Keep Out the Germs. Keep your stomach in good condition and disease germs cannot get a foothold in your system. Take Goldine No. 1 and Goldine Laxatives and your stomach will remain in good condition. If your stomach has been feeling wrong, if you cannot eat, if you are troubled with gas and bloating, if you are constipated, don't take any more chances; start right out now for G. G. Engler's Drug Store, and tell the druggist you want a bottle of Goldine No. 1 and box of Goldine Morning Smile Laxatives. For instance, take the case of Mrs. Grodoske of 118 High Street, Norwich, Conn., who was troubled with her stomach every once in a while for five years. She took Goldine No. 1 and Goldine Laxatives for exactly one week when she gave this statement: 'I've no more gas in my stomach, no more bloating, my appetite is better and I'm feeling fine every way, although a week ago I was in bad shape. It is wonderful.' Remember, Goldine is sold in your city by G. G. Engler.

BRANDEGE STANDS BY THE OLD RESERVATIONS. "It has been rejected once," Senator Brandegee said, "with reservations; then it was rejected without reservations; Senator Lodge pronounced it dead and the president in a letter said the reservations killed it. The only thing that does not stay dead seems to be the treaty. It has more lives than a cat. After months of debate we adopted the Lodge reservations and put them in a resolution of ratification. All the foreign powers took note of this as a declaration of the senate policy. The world understood a letter saying that Europe was good; Lord Grey went home and on notice that it must accept the terms fixed by the senate if it would have us in the league. "Now, without any further consideration by the foreign relations committee, Senator Lodge is proceeding to offer amendments which change the considerate action of the senate heretofore taken. If we are in favor of the original reservations on Nov. 19, why should we not stand by them now with the president? Not on his life. He had some real convictions. His Jackson day letter said he would accept our reservations. If the president would come here and ask the senate to compromise with him there would be something in it, but if I should go and buy a basket of oranges and then meeting a man who had no oranges he should say, 'Here, let us compromise, and take all my oranges away from me, what would I get out of that?' "These changes simply result in making the senate ridiculous. They represent a series of exchanges of synonyms. Any senator can read the same meaning in all of them. It is a sham and a fraud, and we all know it. There are two cruces in this matter. We will not abandon our reservation on the Monroe Doctrine, nor will we assume the obligation imposed by Article Ten. We might as well face that now. Senator Hitchcock has said we must make a substantial change in the reservation as to Article Ten. As we know we will not do that, why prolong the autopsy, passing over the remains? Why not order the disinterment and get the ghastly object out of the way? "If the Democrats want to accept our reservations, let them do so and then we can ratify it. After that if the president wants to strangle his own child he can do so. As for the old reservations are good enough. I voted for them once and I will vote for them again. This is now before us makes it easier for us to get out of the league, so I will naturally like it. Why, I would vote to empower the senate doorkeeper to withdraw us from this league. But I have determined to be consistent and to stand by the reservations I have already supported." - New York Sun Washington Report.
