

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

WANT TO SELL GROTON SHIPYARDS

Frederick Conlon and P. Leroy Harwood of New London, receivers of the Groton Iron Works, have filed an application in the superior court for an order authorizing the sale of the Groton and Noank yards of the Groton Iron Works. The Noank yard, they say should be sold at the earliest possible opportunity, but the Groton yard in the months of June and July, 1920, at about the time the work in this yard will have been completed will not interfere or prejudice the collection of claims against the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation.

Six steel ships of 8,800 tons dead weight have been built at the Groton yard under one contract and delivered. Applying This Paste Actually Removes Hairs

(Beauty Notes)

Merely applying an inexpensive paste to a hairy surface, say beauty specialists, will dissolve the hairs. This paste is made by mixing a little water with some powdered delatone; after about 2 minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple method not only removes every trace of hair, but also leaves the skin free from blemish. To insure success with this treatment, be careful to get real delatone.

Piles

Can't Be Cured from the Outside.

External treatments seldom cure piles. No surgical operations. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby. The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles, you must free the circulation—send a fresh current of blood to the stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for Piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription "Hemorrhoid Relief." He has since treated thousands of cases before he was satisfied. Now HEMORRHOID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Lee & Osgood Co.'s and drug-gists everywhere, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

OBITUARY.

William H. Eagles.

William H. (Barney) Eagles, veteran printer and best known in recent years as the publisher of The Gazette, a weekly news sheet that was in circulation for a number of years, died at his home at 349 Main street on Monday evening, ending an illness of many months' duration. Mr. Eagles, who has been in poor health for about 18 months, having suffered a shock some time ago from which he never fully recovered.

Since his boyhood days he has been engaged in the printing business, working for many publications and at times running his own shop. He learned his trade in St. John's New Brunswick, Can., where he worked for several years. Leaving New Brunswick, he went to Boston, where he worked on several of the larger papers. Coming to Norwich, he went to work for the Norwich Advertiser, an evening publication that was in existence only a few years.

When the Advertiser went out of business Mr. Eagles returned to work for The Norwich Morning Bulletin, where he stayed until 1915, when the linotype machines were put into use. From that time he went to the Morning Index, a paper published here for a short time. Staying with this paper for about a year, he then established a printing office of his own, which he conducted for a number of years. Since that time he was employed in the various printing houses here.

About ten years ago he began the publication of The Gazette, discontinuing his other publications. His health failed about two years ago.

The Gazette was a news sheet which contained advertising matter and various local news items, which were of the human interest type and furnished good reading.

Mr. Eagles was a strong supporter of organized labor and for many years during his life was an organizer for the State Federation of Labor. His work in this city was the organization of the carpenters' union, the street employes' union and various other labor organizations. At one time he was president of the Norwich Central Labor union, in which organization he did much to bring labor under one central head. He was a member of the Norwich Typographical union, No. 100, and was one of the oldest living members of the organization, although not a charter member.

He was born in Frederickton, New Brunswick, 25 years ago and has resided in this city. He is survived by his wife, one son, W. Everett Eagles of New London, and two daughters, Mrs. J. C. Phillips of Lisbon and Mrs. Robert H. Evans of Groton. He also leaves a brother, John, a half brother, Walter Eagles, of St. John's, New Brunswick, and a half sister, Mrs. Mary Edwards, of St. John's.

LITTLE BALTIC GIRL AND MOTHER BADLY BURNED

Teresa, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lemoine of High street, Baltic, narrowly escaped being burned to death on Monday morning when her clothes caught fire from a comb which ignited while she was playing with it near the stove. Mrs. Lemoine was hastening to her household duties and was paying slight attention to her daughter. The child was playing with a comb of flammable composition and stuck it through the grate of the kitchen range. The comb burst into flames, setting fire to the child's dress.

The cries of the child attracted the attention of Mrs. Lemoine who caught up the little girl in her arms and ran into the street crying for help. Mrs. Joseph Holmes, neighbor, hearing her cries started to go to her assistance. Charles Maehl who was driving a team by the house saw the predicament and taking off his coat he wrapped it about the flaming clothes on the child, smothering the flames.

Mr. Lemoine was notified of the accident and summoned Dr. Bourret, who dressed the burn of the child's arm and mother. Teresa is badly burned about the back, neck and arms, and is in a very critical condition. Mrs. Lemoine's arms and hands were badly burned. It being necessary to cut a diamond ring from her hand to avoid leaving the burned flesh. Mrs. Lemoine is resting as comfortably as can be expected.

Rare Animal Dies in Zoo.

The female okapi, an extremely rare animal, half zebra, half antelope, died recently at the Antwerp zoological gardens, whose pride it had been for two months. The specimen of its kind and brought to Europe from the forests of Africa. The okapi never became acclimatized although its quarters were maintained at a temperature of 45 degrees (C). The animal's body will be set up near the stuffed male okapi, killed a few years ago in Africa, the chief curiosity of the Tervuren in Antwerp. The short existence of the okapi at Antwerp will prove, however, to have been useful to science, our zoologists having identified the animal as one of an ancient, vanished race, which had survived from prehistoric times in Africa. Ironical persons now suggest that the Antwerp okapi, accustomed to the vast, peaceful solitude of its native habitat, really succumbed to the spectacle of disturbing violence. Bolshevism and unrest, presented to it by a world turned upside down.—L'Illustration, Paris.

Power in a Radium Watch.

If you own a radium-dial watch with luminous figures and hands, then you are the possessor of a vast power plant of no mean proportions, says the Electrical Experiment. There is sufficient radium on your watch dial to haul your train homeward, if it could be properly applied.

As the matter stands, the innocent looking radium dial does not seem to possess any extraordinary amount of concentrated energy, but this is only apparently the case, and not actually so, for the reason that while the radium paint on the dial is small, this effect will keep up for twenty-five hundred years, provided the zinc sulphide, with which the radium is mixed so as to produce a glow, held out that long. The zinc sulphide in most cases gives out in about eight or ten years.

Now, if we could but find a way to make the radium release all its energy
