SOUTH AMERICANS LIKE THEIRS "BONE DRY"

One of the best known Journals published for the automobile trade, recently said, "In shipping batteries to South America, there is but one successful way to get them there, and that is to ship them bone dry." Mr. William Konaspaska, proprietor of the Windham Battery Co., in explaining this statement, called attention to some facts which are of interest to every motorist in Willimantic.

"This statement did not go far enough," said Mr. Konaspaska, "for there is only one way to ship batteries anywhere and that is bone dry. Here's the point: From the time a battery is filled with acid solution and charged, it starts to live. If it is filled at the factory, it lives part of its life on a freight car and more of it on the dealer's shelf. If this filling is done just before the customer takes delivery of the battery, all this life is saved and is used in his car instead of on the shelf. While this is important when the battery must travel long distances to South America, South Africa and Australia, it is also important when it is shipped to points in our own country. No man wants to pay for battery life he doesn't get. The only battery which can really be shipped bone dry is the Still Better Willard with Threaded Rubber Insulation. Some batteries are filled and charged and then emptied but this is not really 'bone dry' as the article points out, 'just turned upside down and drained.' With batteries with Threaded Rubber Insulation shipped bone dry, the acid is never put into the battery until the Willard Service Station delivers it to a customer.

"If the car owner in South America demands bone dry batteries, why shouldn't the American motorist receive the same advantage. He can, if he will insist on Threaded Rubber Insulated Batteries which are always shipped and stored Bone Dry."

Today (Thursday), H. E. Card of South Windham celebrates his fiftieth anniversary as an employee of the Smith-Winchester Manufacturing Co. of that place. During Wednesday Mr. Card was presented $50 in gold and a rocking chair, gifts from associate employees. The presentation was made by L. E. Backus, Mr. Card entered the employ of the Smith-Winchester Company when in his early teens. At that time Charles Smith, father of Guilford Smith, the present president and owner of the company, was supervisor. Mr. Card served his apprenticeship as a machinist and was rapidly promoted to foreman of the machine shop continuing to the present day, after twenty-five years of good service. He is rated one of the best mechanics in this district. Mr. Card is well liked by all who work with him and the presents from the men expressed their feelings better than words.

Residents who have wondered if the Liberty cottage, used through the world war for patriotic purposes, is to be used as a waiting station at the end of the trolley road can rest assured that the cottage will be put to no such use, but will be preserved for historical purposes. Ex-Mayor Daniel P. Dunn and Valentine L. Murphy, through whose efforts the cottage was erected settled this question at a meeting held Tuesday night at which members of the committee representing the Chamber of Commerce, James P. Bath, Don H. Curtis, and Michael E. Sullivan, were present, as were members of the Elks'

Hair Grown on Bald Head
After being almost totally bald, a New Yorker began to grow hair again when he used a new hair restorer. He writes: "I am proud to say that I have grown my hair back again. I had lost it all, but now it is coming back. I have used your hair restorer for several months and now my hair is growing again. I am very pleased with the results. I have written you several times and you have always answered me promptly. I am sure that your hair restorer is the best I have ever used. I have recommended it to many of my friends and they are all very pleased with the results. I have written you several times and you have always answered me promptly. committee selected recently to see about the final disposition of the cottage. Ex-Mayor Dunn and Mr. Murphy stated that the cottage was to be taken to Elks Park without the short time and that this organization had agreed to take care of the cottage and keep it for its historical value to future generations. The committee representing the Chamber of Commerce, appointed to act with a committee from the Willimantic Woman's club in the matter agreed that the cottage could be put to no better use than that suggested by the Elks.

The matter of having a waiting station at the end of the trolley line in the city, however, will not be laid aside and the Chamber of Commerce will take action relative to providing the station needed. It is the plan of this organization to get in touch with the Connecticut Company, requesting that they provide a waiting station at this point as in the past people waiting for trolleys have been forced in many cases to wait in the rain or snow for some time before the trolley that has been delayed put in an appearance. If the Connecticut Company cannot provide a waiting station the Chamber of Commerce will see necessary funds for such a building.

A meeting of the captains of the City Bowling league teams is to be held at the Y. M. C. A. building next Monday night for the purpose of arranging for the distribution of prizes to the winning teams in the bowling matches that came to an end some days ago. When the league was first formed last fall it was decided that the teams in the league were to receive $18 between them and that the Y. M. C. A. would cover this amount with another $18, making a total of $36 to be spent for prizes. One plan that has been suggested for the distribution of the prizes was to give them to the winning team of the league, the team that came second, and the man having the highest average for the season. The meeting next Monday night will be the final meeting of the league captains and whatever basis they decide upon will be definite. If the plan of three prizes is upheld, the prizes will go to the Knights of Columbus team for first place, the Rossie Velvet team for second place and to Emil Desplante of the Rossie Velvet team.

Joseph R. Morrison has been assigned to the position of money order and postal savings clerk at the local postoffice, the appointment having been made recently by Postmaster John O'Rourke. When Walter H. King gave up this position to accept a place at the state capitol in Hartford the man who was next in line for the window was Walter R. Woodward, who at that time was in Three Rivers, Canada. As the position as clerk was open to Mr. Woodward for a certain period of time after Mr. King's resignation, Postmaster O'Rourke wrote to Mr. Woodward stating the facts of the case and asking if he would want the position kept open for him. Word was received from Mr. Woodward recently stating that he did not intend to return to Willimantic and therefore resigned his place to the man next in line for the position. Mr. Morrison's appointment followed immediately.

STAFFORD SPRINGS
Fred Pease was sentenced to four months in jail, by Judge Heald in the borough court, Monday, on a charge of stealing wood from Daniel and Mahon Avery of Chestnut Hill. Pease was employed by the Averys last fall drawing wood from their lot and piling it up on the side of the road. A few weeks ago Daniel Avery noticed that the wood pile was growing smaller and he put notices on the wood forbidding any one taking it. The notices soon disappeared and the size of the pile continued to decrease. Investigation showed that Pease had been selling wood in the borough and that it came from the direction of the Averys place. At the hearing Charles Reed testified that he had seen Pease go by his house with wood and Mrs. Frank Slater said she saw him loading the wood from the Avery pile near her house. Clarence Nowell also said he saw Mr. Pease and his boy with two teams, one partly loaded, on the road side, near the Avery woodpile. Pease said he did not wish to testify. He was taken to Tolland Monday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Hayes. The fine and costs will keep him in jail about five months.
