

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MARKET GAINED STRENGTH.

New York, April 5.—Stocks were decidedly unsettled in the first hour of today's trading as a result of late incidents in the Franco-German situation, but the market soon strengthened and closed with many substantial gains, especially among selected issues.

Interest in the market itself was most often subordinated to the movements of foreign exchange. Demand bills on London continued to rise of $4.06 3/4, an advance of almost 8 cents over last week and the highest quotation since December of last year.

Even the Paris rate made substantial improvement, but dealings in that quarter of the market were reported comparatively small.

Although last week's statement of the Federal Reserve and clearing house banks were not especially favorable, the money market relaxed visibly. Call loans were freely made at six per cent, after opening at 7, and dealers in time funds negotiated several renewals for short dates at quotations slightly under recent rates.

The usual favorites led the market, developing greater strength in the final hour, with General Motors, Crucible Steel and Studebaker as the outstanding features. Motors made up its cash and stock dividends, closing at 38 3/4, a gain of 2 1/2; Crucible retaining all but part of its 10 point rise at 27 1/2 and Studebaker was confidently taken, raising almost four points at a fraction under 10.

Other motors and their accessories, also steels, equipments, oils, leathers, shippings and sundry specialties ended at variable gains, but rails lagged in their usual fashion, nominal losses ruling at the end. Sales amounted to 900,000 shares.

In investment issues, including Internationals, were mostly higher in the bond market, but Liberty issues and speculative rails reacted within narrow limits. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,350,000.

Old U. S. 4's advanced 1-2 per cent on call.

DEMPESEY-CARPENTIER BOUT SEEMS DISTANTLY REMOVED

There seems to be no pressing need for excitement over the much discussed Jack Dempsey-Georges Carpentier boxing title. There are several little things that make a meeting of the pair of experts to box seem distantly removed.

For a starter there is Jack and the draft evasion charge. Dempsey is said to be holding Uncle Sam somewhat lightly as an opponent. Possibly he has nothing to fear. That is for the government to decide. Granting that Dempsey is found guilty, what will be the penalty? He may get off with a fine. Then again, he may be assessed a few months in prison. The nature of the penalty will make no difference insofar as the battle is concerned. If the indictments pending against him are upheld he won't want to fight again.

Then there is Carpentier, expressing himself as more than willing to fight Dempsey, but displaying no inclination to get down to business. The European champion came to this country with the intention of making money. That he will succeed is a certainty.

The Frenchman is signed up for vaudeville, movie work, and other offered prize winners in the 500-mile settle down to the laborious grind of training. When he fulfills present contracts he expects to start back home. By that time the size of his bank roll will have eclipsed his desire for the glimmer and ten minutes of fame. If he once returns to France will he come back here? Probably not. Then if Dempsey is in a position to battle will he go overseas? He may but it will be a long while from now.

GEORGES A MARVELOUS BOXER, SAYS MAJOR BIDDLE

According to Major Anthony J. Biddle, who recently boxed two rounds with Georges Carpentier, the Frenchman is a marvelous boxer with a style that is a cross between that of Packey McFarland and Frank Erne. Carpentier's footwork and ducking make it almost impossible to land solidly on him, said the Philadelphia sportsman, who has sparred with many of the leading professionals. Major Biddle believes that the Frenchman's speed of foot will puzzle even Jack Dempsey, as fast as the champion is with both hands and feet. That Carpentier's style is most impressive is evidenced by the fact that not one of the Frenchman's critics have been able to pick a flaw in his technique. Those who believe that he is not sturdy enough for the task of beating Dempsey outnumber those who believe he has an even chance, but no one having seen him in action has disputed his great skill.

"CHIEF" BENDER AIDING PENN'S BASEBALL CANDIDATES

At Philadelphia, one of the hardest working "youngsters" among the more than three score varsity and freshman baseball candidates for the University of Pennsylvania baseball team, working out on Franklin field daily, is none other than Albert "Chief" Bender. The Indian is the first to appear on the field and the last to leave.

For the last two weeks he has been a human question box for the many candidates. Pitchers ask him how he shoots his fast one; infielders ask how to scoop up grounders, while the outfielders get tips on chasing long ones. It is principally in aiding Coach Cariss with the pitchers that the chief has endeared himself to the students. Bender is in good shape for the opening game of the season in the Eastern league the latter part of April. The chief will manage the New Haven team in addition to taking the mound in and out of turn.

CARPENTIER HAS AEROPLANE AT HIS DISPOSAL WHILE HERE

During his stay in this country Georges Carpentier, the heavyweight champion pugilist of Europe, will have at his disposal an Avro aeroplane of the latest type, in which he may take short trips about the country. This machine will be ready at Roosevelt field, L. I., and can take the air at a moment's notice. M. Carpentier can drive himself or be driven by a pilot, and it will be possible for him to take his wife or manager with on his trips. During the war the Frenchman served with the aviation section of the French army.

STECHER SUCCESSFULLY DEFENDS HIS TITLE

Raleigh, N. C., April 5.—Joe Stecher, champion heavyweight wrestler of the world, successfully defended his title here tonight in a match with Tommy Drask of the Netherlands. Stecher won with two successive falls, each with a body scissors and arm lock, the first in one hour and ten minutes, and the second in one minute.

DEMPESEY UNDERRATES CARPENTIER.

If Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier ever do the ring together there is a chance that Jack will find himself in trouble through over confidence. Both Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns, are positive, that the French ring idol will be just a set-up. "Carpentier's nothing," is the way Kearns voices his opinion of the Frenchman. "What did he ever do? He beat Joe Beckett. Why, Terry Kellar, Jack's sparring partner, stop-
