DANIELSON

At the annual borough meeting on Monday only 32 voters came to the polls, out of a total of more than 800.

At the business meeting in the evening the only matter of real interest was a resolution introduced by Judge M. A. Shumway, providing among other things for the appointment of a committee representing the borough for the purpose of seeking a conference with the directors of the Crystal Water company relative to the coming increase in rates.

Warden, Damase Boglais; clerk, Wesley Wilson; treasurer, Wesley Wilson; burgess, William A. Burrows, Frank E. Kennedy, Decithe E. Jette, Herbert C. Keech, Joseph Bodo, Clinton W. Atwood; assessors, Thomas Bradford, Joseph N. LaVelle, William J. Young; bailiff, John McFarland; tax collector, Edward S.

James Hyde of North Franklin and L. P. Smith of Lebanon were recent guests of J. Carl Witter. Please return lost Oakland auto crank to P. P. Jordan—adv.

W. Irving Bullard of Boston was a visitor in Danielson Monday. It was stated by W. E. Keach that John Marland will be the manager of the Connecticut Mills baseball team during the season about to open.

Members of the local branch of the Carpenters and Joiners' union have given notice of an advance in the wage scale from 75 cents to $7 1-2 cents an hour, effective May 1. This union has 97 members employed in the town of Killingly, in Brooklyn and at Wauregan and Moosup.

It was stated in official circles here Monday that it is understood that the contract for building the state highway from Little Rest to a point east of Danielson on the South Killingly road will be let probably during the present month. It is expected that this highway will be completed before cold weather sets in next fall.

Coroner Arthur G. Bill stated Monday that he has not definitely fixed as yet the date for beginning the inquest over the death of Raymond P. Gagon, 18, the Providence youth who died as the result of injuries he received when the motor truck on which he was riding was struck by an electric car on the Wauregan highway Monday evening of last week.

Alfred Pate, agent for the new company to be operated at the old White-stone mill at East Killingly, is in New York this week, arranging for getting the plant under operation. Mr. Pate said that no name has yet been selected for the new concern, but Fern Lea is one that has been suggested and is being favorably considered.

Mrs. Michael Harrington and her son, Frank, of Attleboro, where Mrs. Harrington is now making her home, were visitors in Danielson on Monday.

Rev. Ernest A. Legg, of Norwich, formerly pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church here, will come to Danielson Thursday afternoon of this week to speak at an open meeting of Sarah Williams Danielson Chapter, D. A. R. in the vestry of the Congregational church. When the Carmania sails from New York today, Agent R. W. Boys of Goodyear will be one of the passengers aboard. As indicative of what some of the good farms in this part of Windham county are held at these days, the owner of a farm a few miles south of Danielson has just refused a bona fide offer of $31,000 for his place and stock. The farm is held at $40,000. A few years ago such a price for a farm, heretofore would have been regarded as fabulous.

Members of Rose of Lima council, K. of C. of this place were at West-ern's to witness the conferring of a degree upon a class of candidates in that place.

Burglaries that have been occurring in villages in the vicinity of Danielson have caused the police in all of the surrounding towns to be particularly alert. So far the town of Killingly has escaped any visitation.

Bailiff John McFarland, who was re-elected Monday to his present office, in which he acts as chief of police, added two new officers to his staff Monday. These cops are of the "silent" variety and were needed to meet the requirements of regulating traffic.

The Bradford building on Center street, which is being remodeled, is to have a stucco outside covering. This will be the first building in the business section to be finished in this style, which is attractive and becoming more generally used in many towns.

Along with the other shortages, which are now taken more or less as a matter of course, some buyers found only a lean supply of grain available at some places in Danielson Monday morning.

And now quiet and conservative Brooklyn has been added within the jakey selling zone. Complaints of the selling of this deadly stuff as a beverage have come in from Brooklyn. The jakey drinker is increasing in numbers by leaps and bounds. It is generally conceded that the sale of this stuff as a beverage is forbidden, yet if one-tenth of the stories that are told around are true, barrels of it are being disposed of every month. Jakey is about one-half of one percent water, which, possibly, is a saving grace.

William McDermott is at Grand Rapids, Michigan, in which state he will remain during the spring months as representative of a promoting company with which he has been associated for the past year.

Charles T. Tillinghast is not a nature fakir, so his story of seeing a rabbit swim across Snake Meadow brook on a recent afternoon is regarded here as an interesting contribution to animal lore.

Joseph Labelle is erecting two bungalows on the easterly side of School street, south of Cottage street. The new dwellings add to the attractiveness of that part of School street, which has developed rapidly during the past few years.

Gagton A. Maindon was a visitor in Providence on Monday. At Killingly High school members of the baseball squad are beginning to give earnest consideration to opening of the season. Several members of last year's team are available for the coming playing season.

Mrs. W. E. Labelle will have the members of the Ladies Aid society of the Dayville Congregational church at her home in that place for a meeting this (Tuesday) afternoon.

Joseph Malucelli is dead at his home in Bard, Italy, according to advices received by his relatives in Danielson. Mr. Malucelli was for nearly a score of years a member of the firm of Malucelli and Bertorelli, conducting the New York fruit store here. Both members of the firm returned to Italy. Mr. Malucelli leaving here about eight years ago.

Rev. Ralph S. Cushman, formerly pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church here, is now located in New York, engaged in the Interchurch World Movement campaign, and in this work is very successful.

PUTNAM

For the most part, striking weavers of the Manhasset Manufacturing company did not return to work Monday, although a few went back to their looms at the noon hour. The strike is very orderly. During the day the strikers held a meeting to review the situation and to consider what steps should be taken. Lieut. Robert Bridgeman of the state police is in town observing conditions and has with him other members of his department.

Al Lundstrum, of North Grovesendale, one of the best known middle weight wrestlers in the east, is to leave this week on a tour that will extend until October. The first leg of his journey will take him to Nova Scotia. From the provinces he will work westward and may go as far as the Pacific Coast. Lundstrum will travel in company with Peter Sturgis, they are matched by the men who wrestle twice a week throughout the four period. Samuel Renic, for several years engaged in business in this city, has been visited, at his store in North Grovesendale, by Lieut. Bridgeman of the state police and had a 200 bottle stock of Jamaica ginger seized. Renic will be given a hearing before Justice Charles Johnson at North Grovesendale net Friday and will face a charge of having violated the liquor laws of the state.

John Fanning, who has been boss dresser tender at the mill of the Waterman Worsted company, has resigned and is now employed in a similar capacity at a mill in Pascoag.

Hyde Smith, manager of the Bradley theatre, is spending a few days with relatives in Springfield. David A. Smith of Worcester is in charge at the theatre during his son's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Hughes of Springfield, Mass., are visiting friends in Putnam, where they lived up to twenty years ago.

Captain J. H. Bulger of the Police department has been a visitor in Norwich.

Carpenters who went out on strike last week for an advance in pay to one dollar an hour remained out Monday, no settlement with the master builders having been brought about. The men have been getting 75 cents an hour and were offered $7 1-2 cents as a compromise basis of settlement, but refused to accept it. As a result of the strike building operations are being greatly hampered here, although some few carpenters are getting the high rate on odd jobs.
