What is Going On Tonight.
Pythian Sisters, Pasinton Temple, No. 2, meets at 8:30 Main street.

About one hundred persons, including members of the cast of "My Irish Rose", their friends and many guests of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the A. O. U. attended the social and dance given at Washburn hall on North street Thursday evening. The play which was presented St. Patrick's Day night at the Loomer Opera house netted the auxiliary over $200 and in appreciation to the members of the cast and all those who aided in any manner to make the play a success, the social was planned by the entertainment committee of the auxiliary of which Mrs. Ellen Lynch is chairman. She was assisted Thursday evening by several aides.

The entertainment commenced at 8 o'clock with dancing and during the sixteen number on the programme every person present received a favor of some kind, the fancy paper hats by far being the happiest thought of the evening. Following the dance a social hour was enjoyed in which members of the entertainment served ice cream, cake and punch.

The money realized through the play given St. Patrick's night is to be used for sick benefits of the auxiliary.

At a meeting of Owbebetuck Lodge, No. 16, I. O. O. F., held at I. O. O. F. hall at 307 Main street Thursday evening a class of four candidates were given the third degree. After the meeting an oyster stew was served, topping off the evening's entertainment.

J. D. Elmdorf, general secretary of the Y. M. C. returned to his home here Thursday evening after a business trip to Newark, New Jersey.

Autoists travelling over the state road between this city and Norwich have remarked upon the fine condition the road is now under compared with that same stretch only a few weeks ago. The state just below Williams crossing had been scraped down and the hard roadbed is fast getting into midsummer shape. Persons riding to this city with many drivers have been in places on this stretch and were told, "this is where we were stuck over the hubs for one whole night," but such a thing seems almost unbelievable to one seeing this section of the highway today.

Mrs. Clifford C. Oat of Norwich was a caller in this city Thursday.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Simpson was held Thursday morning at 11 o'clock from her late home in Columbia. The Rev. Harry Smith, pastor of the Willimantic Methodist Episcopal church conducted the services at the house and read a committal service at the grave in Columbia cemetery. The bearers were E. Winters, D. F. Tucker, Andrew Parharlow, and Charles Carpenter. Arrangements were in charge of Funeral Director Jay M. Shepard.

Funeral services for Aime Lafamme were held Thursday morning at 3:30 o'clock from the home of his sister, Mrs. George J. Moray, 100 Main street with requiem mass at St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock, celebrated by Rev. Edward Mathieu. The bearers John Polvin, Pierre and Eugene Oats and Zephaniah Couty. Burial was in the family lot at St. Joseph's cemetery where Father Mathieu read a committal service.

The regular meeting of the Willimantic Girl Scouts was held Thursday evening at the Congregational church house. There was a large attendance and about twenty girls discussed.

Sunday morning, the older members of the Cradle Roll department of the First Congregational church are to meet with Mrs. R. O. Branch in the Children's room of the church house. Volunteers from the various church classes are also to attend this meeting which is to be the first of a series of lessons for the cradle roll.

There was a large attendance of farmers and those interested in farming at the Tri-County Dairy Institute held in Agricultural hall on the top floor of the Jordan block. Persons interested attended the meeting from New London, Tolland and Windham counties. Clarence H. Savage of Storrs, presided during the sessions. The morning session began at 11:30 with introductory remarks by Mr. Savage, who welcomed the farmers and all others interested in advancing the cause of agriculture. He stated that although the farmers had planned to attend the meeting at the returned home after spending the holidays with relatives in New York. A carload of metal pipes to be used in the culverts on the new state road have arrived at the station and will be distributed along the road.

Rev. B. D. Remington was in Middletown Wednesday and Thursday attending the D. A. R. encampment.

Louis Elgart has returned from a few days' business trip in Springfield and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Davenport were guests of friends in Norwich Thursday.

Woolster lodge, F. and A. M., held a special communication in Masonic hall Wednesday evening.

A number from town were in Lebanon Thursday attending the auction at the home of W. L. Spencer.

The midweek prayer meetings were held in the Baptist church and Congregational chapel Thursday evening.

ned to take the day off it could not be said it was a day lost, as the knowledge gained through listening to brother Grangers would well offset the time taken to attend the meeting.

Mr. Savage then presented Professor Henry Dorsey of the Connecticut Agricultural College who spoke on "Forage Crops of Good Quality." Professor Dorsey laid stress on the proper kind of silage in the feeding of farm stock. He quoted figures of co-operative tests and tests made in surrounding towns and counties of the state.

The first address of the afternoon was by P. A. Campbell, extension dairy professor, his topic being Feeding to Milk Production. He stated the brands that gave the best results according to his belief and told how to feed dry or non-producing cows. The second speaker was H. J. Baker, topic was Connecticut Dairy Co-operative. He summed up the many beneficial results to farmers from the practical methods advocated. E. E. Rockwell, Tolland county agricultural agent spoke on Caring for the Farm Orchard. Methods used to combat apple tree diseases were explained and the which could be stopped to a great degree by spraying or pruning the trees, he said. Formulas of sprays to be used in this work were read. The last speaker of the afternoon was A. W. Manchester, Storrs, farm management demonstrator, his subject being Farming Without Help. Those who attended the institute were given tips sure to prove valuable for this summer's farming.

During the day demonstration of improved farm implements were given, representatives of the Jordan Hardware Company and eight other firms having new and farming implements at the institute.

Several changes of service on the New Haven railroad that affect local travelers were made Thursday:—The new Highland division running between New York and Boston by way of Waterbury are using Waterbury as a terminal. Train 45, which leaves Willimantic at 10 a. m. runs only as far as Waterbury where passengers are being transferred to the Winsted-New York train. Train 55 leaves here at 2:50 runs as far as Hartford. Train No. 46 is made up at Waterbury passing through Willimantic as usual on week days at 12:33 p. m.

During March there were but six marriages, four of which were performed by Rev. Arthur S. McCready, pastor of the Congregational church. One reason for this small number is the fact that in the Catholic church no marriages are solemnized during Lent, which this year extended from Feb. 18 to April 4. The marriages reported were:

1—Frederick Lang and Rose Mary Bosciah, Rev. Harry S. McCready.

4—Peter Mercier and Florence Cushman, Thomas J. Kelly, J. P.

2—George Moray (Manchester Depot) and Lillian Han (Manchester Depot) Rev. Harry S. McCready.

25—Fred L. Taylor and Waitie Potter (Washington, R. I.) Rev. Harry S. McCready.

Frederick K. Manley and Miss Theresa Gilbert, both of this city were married Saturday last in the "Cupid Suite" of the Municipal building, New York. Rev. John P. Cruise performing the ceremony. The news of the marriage came to the attention of many friends of the couple. Mr. Manley is employed on the night switch or in the local yards of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson A. Gilbert of Columbia avenue and was employed at the private hospital. Upon their return to this city Mr. and Mrs. Manley made their home at 174 Pleasant street.

Attorney and Mrs. Frank E. Bugbee have returned to their home after a trip to Deland, Florida. Two weeks of the trip north were spent at Atlantic City. Attorney and Mrs. Bugbee left this city for the south in January thus escaping the wintry weather of the north during the months following.

L. G. Gerry is now in Concord, New Hampshire attending the annual convention of the New Hampshire Photographers' Association. Mr. Gerry who was at one time president of this organization was one of the speakers at the Tuesday session, his topic being Backgrounds. He is considered an expert in his line.

A few from this place attended the orchestra of Hartford is coming to the state armory Saturday night, April 17th. Big time—adv.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

At the Strand.
You have two more days in which to see the Strand's wonderful show The Strand is featuring Cleveland Bonner in his fifteen thousand dollar production which he calls One Day. This act carries all of its own scenery and electrical effects. This is a wonderful act and must be seen to be appreciated. The other acts on the programme are Van and Pierce, a man and woman in an up to date singing, talking and dancing novelty. Otto and Sheridan, two pretty young maidens, who tickle the ivories and warble like a nightingale. Ellen Cassidy, Stuart Holmes and Honor 11 Julia Burnham, the author of this story, is favorably known to all lovers of the silent drama, and in this, her latest contribution to the long list of plays, she has interwoven dramatic situations based on all that represents tenderness and interest in pantomime. She takes for her leading character a man who has fought for his country and returns one of the decorated heroes of the war. His feat as a daring aviator have won for him many honors and returning to his home he finds his wife has been over by a social set that thinks of nothing excepting the bright lights and all their pitfalls. Through sheer manhood and respect for his wife he saves her from the clutches of those who would estrange her from her home.

A Kinogram Weekly will close this evening's show.
The Strand will present Robert Louis Stevenson's famous dramatic masterpiece which you all have read or heard about. Skelden Lewis is the star in Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Don't miss this screen classic on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Breed Theatre.
The Great Air Robbery, starring Lieutenant O. L. Locklear, which will be the feature attraction at the Breed theatre today and Saturday, marks a new era in filmdom. In this super-production, Lieutenant Locklear's conquest of the air and presents scenes taken in the clouds which a few years ago would have been scoffed at as impossible. There are few people who have not heard of Lieut. Locklear, most intrepid of aviators—the man who accomplishes the hazardous feat of changing from one fast moving plane to another in mid-air.

In the picture, Lieut. Locklear appears as Larry Cassidy, crack pilot of the U. S. aerial mail service, who upon returning from a transcontinental flight, becomes entangled in a plot of love and intrigue. Exciting episodes, engrossing situations, hair-raising climaxes and picturesque flashes follow each other in profusion. The view of the U. S. Aerial Mail field at night with scores of planes training for ground in the flare of giant search-lights, is one of the most stirring scenes ever filmed. Universal has surrounded the air hero with a notable cast including Francis X. Billington, Allan Forest, Rap Ripley and Carmen Phillips.

An extra added attraction Julia Dean and Shelley Hull, assisted by the following celebrities: Edmond Brees, Yvette Gilbert, Mrs. William Farnum, Phoebe Foster, Ethelbert Hales and Mrs. J. M. Foster, will be seen in An Honorable Cad. A Sunshine comedy entitled Training for Husbands, and the Pathe News make up the remainder of the bill for today and Saturday.

At the Davis.
Playgoers are going to have a chance to see for the first time at popular prices, matinee and tonight at the Davis theatre, Florence Nash's great starring vehicle Remnant, which not only had a long run in New York city, but also has London and Paris to its credit. It will be presented here by the popular Myrtle-Harder company.

The play takes its name from its leading character, Remnant "too much for a girl, not enough for a woman—you're a remnant," said the Judge. There is a certain atmosphere of mystery and appeal in Remnant, which stirs the deepest emotions of the heart, while the rich and rare humor of the lines relieve the play of any suspicion of somberness. Remnant is a "play of resistance," so to speak.

As on all previous plays during the week, a complete and special scenic production will be given the play. Each character and incident is portrayed in an artistic manner and the presentation is sure to be of the same high standard which has characterized the earlier presentations of the week.

A MOVEMENT TO IMPEACH SECRETARY OF LABOR POST

Washington, April 15.—A resolution looking to the impeachment of Assistant Secretary Post of the labor department for his attitude toward the deportation of radicals was introduced today by Representative Hoch, republican, Kansas, after a conference with republican leaders.

The resolution would direct the judiciary committee to investigate charges made against Post by Chairman Johnson of the Immigration committee and others, and if the evidence warranted to report a resolution proposing impeachment.

The measure was referred to the house rules committee, which will decide whether it should be made a special order of business before the house. There was no indication when the rules committee would act.

AMERICAN SOCIALIST SOCIETY FINE AFFIRMED

New York, April 15.—A fine of $2,000 imposed recently upon the American Socialist society by the federal district court today was affirmed by Judge Henry G. Wood of the United States circuit court of appeals. The society was convicted of violating the espionage law by publishing and circulating a pamphlet entitled "The Great Madness," written by Professor Scott Nearing. The latter was jointly indicted with the society, but after a trial was acquitted.

Judge Wood set aside the contention of the society that the espionage law does not apply to corporations because of the word "whoever" in the statute.

ANOTHER BONUS FOR EMPLOYEES OF IRVING NATIONAL BANK

New York, April 15.—A bonus of 40.75 per cent. of salaries for the first three months of this year is being paid employees of the Irving National bank here, to help them meet the increased cost of living, it was announced today. This is the largest extra compensation payment in the bank's history and the second bonus since Jan. 15, when an extra disbursement of 27.5 per cent. of salaries for the last quarter of 1919 was paid.

It's a great deal when each player gets four of a kind.
