WILLIMANTIC

Norwich Bulletin, Willimantic Office, 23 Church St., Telephone 105.

Four uncontested divorce decrees were granted at the session of the superior court Friday by Judge John E. Keeler of Stamford. Rose A. Hopkins of this city was freed from Waldo J. Hopkins on the grounds of desertion. John E. Welcher of Killingly from Edith O. Welcher for adultery. Leah Powle of Danielson from Menes Powle for desertion. Winthrop N. Russ of Willimantic from Cora M. Russ for adultery. Three short calendar cases were assigned for Thursday afternoon, May 13, as follows: Frank A. Phillips vs. Borne Bros., Morris Kantrowitz vs. Eric Gurulak and Samuel Stedman vs. Albert C. Conti. It was announced that naturalization cases in this city on Tuesday and in Putnam Wednesday and Thursday morning would occupy the attention of the court but that one or two short cases could be disposed of in all probability Thursday afternoon.

Testimony in the Hopkins divorce case by the petitioner was to the effect that she married Waldo J. Hopkins in Providence, R. I. July 19, 1916, living in that city for a time and then moving to West Modbury, Mass. For a time Mrs. Hopkins had lived with her parents in Danielson owing to her treatment by her husband, but she returned to him in 1917 and lived with him for about two months when she was again forced to leave him. Her husband was a painter by trade and well able to support her. For the past several years she has lived in this city, employed at a laundry. Her husband is now living in Worcester, Mass., she thought. There were no children.

Mrs. Julia Gardner of Putnam, an aunt of Hopkins, stated he has never been never wanted anything more to do with his wife. Mrs. Annie Bowen, mother of the petitioner, and Miss Alice Young both testified on behalf of the petitioner. Judge Keeler permitted her to change her name when it was granted the decree.

John E. Welcher testified he was married in Brooklyn, N. Y., where he left his wife to join the army. He was overseas almost a year and upon his return found his wife had gone. After two months' search he found her living with another man in Somerville, Mass. Both parties since been treated as single persons. Judge Keeler granted the divorce on the grounds of adultery.

Costello's jazz orchestra at stadium, 8th street, Saturday night, 8th-10th.

Leah M. Powle of Danielson testified concerning her marriage with Menes Powle in Greece, their native land, in 1918. Her husband came to this country in 1914 and worked for her in Athens, Greece, and undertook Powle was living with another woman. The divorce was granted on grounds of desertion. Mrs. Powle having the child.

Winthrop N. Russ of this city testified regarding his marriage with Cora M. Linnell in Willimantic in March, 1917. For a time they got along very well, but soon Mrs. Russ started to stay out late nights, sometimes getting home in the early morning hours. It was claimed Mrs. Russ was playing cards with a girl friend on the hill, but after Mr. Russ had on several evenings found his wife alone in his house with Everett Baker, who was named as co-respondent, it ended his friendship for Baker. Several times the husband had found his wife alone in the house with Baker. In October his wife went out, saying she was going to a motion picture show, but she never returned. Later Mr. Russ was living on Fairmount street, Hartford, as man and wife. Thomas Greenwood testified on behalf of Russ, as did William L. Chapman of this city, H. Hartshill of Hartford, deputy sheriff, told of finding the couple living in Hartford when he served the papers. Mrs. Russ and Baker occupied the same apartment. Judge Keeler granted the decree on the ground of adultery.

John Golden, president of the Textile Workers of America, was the speaker at the union meeting held Friday night at Union hall on Main street. He also listened to the grievances of the operatives of the American Thread company, now out on a strike. The trouble started in mill No. 4 when the operatives refused to work with non-union help. It soon spread until the entire No. 4 mill was closed and Friday noon operations in mill No. 2 also were suspended by the company.

Arbor and Bird day was observed in the public schools Friday special exercises being held at the Windham street school the feature was the planting of a Norway maple by the class of 1920. The tree was dedicated to former graduates of the school who had served in the world war. While the tree was being planted by the members of the senior class Mildred Johnson read a dedication essay which was followed by a general program. Hydrants of the city appeared in their new spring coats Friday, the work of painting them being done by the street department.

Giuseppe Guglielmi, a noted harpist, played to a delighted audience Friday afternoon at the town building and later appeared about the streets. Professor Quatieri served in the Italian army during the war and after receiving his discharge came to this country. He plays theatres in the winter season, but rather than to remain idle covers cities during the summer.

The season of the American Thread company's baseball team will open Sunday afternoon at Recreation park, where the Nutmegs of New Haven will invade the local territory. During the past few weeks the Willimantic players have been practicing several times each week and are in form for the game Sunday with their old rivals from New Haven. The local team will include the following players, whose ability is familiar to the fans: Joe Hamel, catcher; Bob Farrell of Hartford, pitcher; Jimmie Adams, first base; Comins, second base; Noel or Buck Donohue, shortstop; Bill Nichols, third base; Barard, Lefty Smith and Mon Peloguin, outfielders; Johnson, Normandin, McQuillan and Hamel, utility.

The Nutmegs' lineup will be: Horchler, former pitcher of Bridgeport and New London in the Eastern league, shortstop; Hanson, formerly with Boston college, shortstop; Gargone, former Knickerbocker team, catcher and second base; McGowan, center field; Kelleher, third base; Cavadin, first base; Jackson, left field; Gargone, right field; Knickerbocker, catcher; Barron, formerly with Springfield and Bridgeport in the Eastern league, last year playing with the M. B. Shennock team of Meriden. The Nutmegs already have won two games this season, one over the Hudsons, 5 to 1, the other from the Washington Glee club by a score of 13 to 1. All these teams are from New Haven. Hugh (Red) Rorty of Hartford will hold the indicator and John Curran of this city will take care of the bases.

The bowling matches between the girls' and men's teams from the American Thread company of this city and the Clarke's Thread mill of Westerly, R. I., are to be held today (Saturday) in this city. Rooters from the Rhode Island city will be on hand to make things lively for the local bowlers.

David Mathewson of Warrenville died at his home Friday morning following an illness of some duration. Mr. Mathewson, who was a salesman, was well known in these parts, and friends learned of his death with sorrow. He was born Nov. 13, 1848, at Woodstock, the son of Charles and Della Hammond Mathewson. He is survived by his wife, Henrietta Cady Mathewson, and a brother, Gilbert, of Mount Hope. Mr. Mathewson had never taken an active part in politics. He was a member of the Warrenville Baptist church and for a number of years sang in the choir.

A NORWICH INTERVIEW

Mrs. Brown Tells Her Experience.

The following brief account of an interview with a Norwich woman five years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen. Mrs. Margaret Brown, 240 West Main Street, Norwich, says: "My back and kidneys were in a bad way. I suffered a great deal from a dull, heavy ache in my back. It gradually grew worse until it was almost impossible for me to get out of bed mornings. I was in that condition for nearly a year, trying different medicines without help. Finally I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got some at Sevin & Son's Drug Store, and I found they were just what I needed. They made me feel like a different woman, better than I had felt for years. My kidneys are now acting regularly and the pains have left."

OVER FIVE YEARS LATER, Mrs. Brown said: "Doan's Kidney Pills certainly are excellent and they do what is claimed for them. At times, when a cold settles on my kidneys and causes my back to ache, I use Doan's and they never fail to give me prompt relief." 60c. at all dealers. Post-Office-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N.
