WOMEN ESCAPE FROM FARM

Mrs. Pauline Spier Rose has escaped from her husband's farm in the vicinity of East Lyme, following her commitment in the New London police court some months ago, she declared she would no longer stay at the farm. Mrs. Rose also escaped from the institution.

The Greenview and Taftville sections were in darkness last Friday night after an electric light wire from the city plant broke and fell into North Main street near the electric light station, cutting off the street lights to the north.

His Unpardonable Crime. Possibly the reason so many democrats dislike Bryan is not so much that he led the party to defeat, often as that he thrust Wilson on them when success was possible. Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Our idea of an easy mark is a man who buys a bottle of hair tonic from a bald-headed barber.

This spraying of ponds and marshes costs the city about $55 to $100 yearly and furnishes only temporary relief. Some few years ago it was advised by the health officer that these ponds be drained and filled in. The work would have cost about $1,000 but the money was not forthcoming and now seems to be a forlorn hope.

Mr. Palmer was a deacon of the Congregational Road church and trustee of the Groton Society for Savings. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Julia Newberry Palmer, a son, William S. Palmer, of Hingham, Mass., and a brother, John F. Palmer of Passero, Calif.

George A. Holdridge, of Ledyard, died in this city on Friday afternoon about 3:20 o'clock, following an illness of two weeks. Mr. Holdridge underwent an operation a short time ago and was unable to rally, falling gradually until he died.

Mr. Holdridge was born in Groton 63 years ago, the son of the late Daniel and Eliza Holdridge, both natives of Ledyard, later going to Rhode Island, where he engaged in the grocery business in Providence and Valley Falls. At one time he and his brother, Charles D. Holdridge, were in business together in Providence.

In Hope Valley, R. I., many years ago he was united in marriage with Miss Jennie Day, who died about 15 years ago. A short time after the death of his wife he returned to Ledyard, where he has since made his home. He was a member of the local lodge of Heptasophs.

He is survived by two brothers, Samuel E. Holdridge of Ledyard and Charles D. Holdridge of Providence, and a sister, Mrs. Sarah H. Maine of Ledyard. There are several nephews and nieces.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock on Monday morning at the residence of Mrs. Holdridge, 114 Irving street, Ledyard. Burial will be in the cemetery at Ledyard.
