

MONUMENT FOR AERIAL WAR HEROES

Washington, June 16.—To commemorate the services of the men who initiated aerial warfare and practically revolutionized it an organization has been formed in England under the presidency of the Prince of Wales, to raise a fund of £400,000.

There is to be erected a commemorative monument to the fame of the officers and men of the Royal Naval Air Service, the Royal Flying Corps and the Royal Air Force, including the officers and men who joined the force from the overseas dominions. In this last class are many Americans, who enlisted in the Canadian armies before America got into the war.

It also is proposed to establish places of residential education for the children of airmen and to make allowances for the children of officers, and generally to care for disabled, sick and infirm officers and airmen and their dependents.

Believing that many Americans will be interested in the memorial, the Air Attache at the British Embassy in Washington, Commodore L. Charlton, will furnish them any desired information.

MISSIONARY KILLED IN CHINA: MISSION QUARTERS LOOTED

Washington, June 16.—Strong representations have been made to the Chinese government by the American legation at Peking as the result of the killing of the Rev. W. A. Reinert, an American missionary, in an attack on the Reformed Church mission at Yo-Show by Chinese northern troops.

The legation informed the state department of its action in advice which were received late today and which reported that the troops, commanded by General Chang-Ching Yo, military governor of the province of Hunan, also looted the mission quarters.

The acts of printing and writing were introduced into Japan from China in the year 284. In 673 the Emperor Temmu directed the publication of the first Japanese books, "Kojiki" or Ancient Legends.

PLAN FOR ACCELERATING DEVELOPMENT OF ALASKA

Washington, June 16.—Co-ordination of federal control of Alaskan lands and resources and consolidation of the two American shipping lines serving Alaskan ports were among recommendations made today by Secretary Payne by a special committee of officials of the department of the interior appointed to report a plan for accelerating Alaskan development.

Mr. Payne approved the report and instructed the committee to put its program into effect as soon as possible. He also directed that interested commercial organizations who have been invited to participate in conferences on subject is expected, the secretary said.

"Alaska's immense natural resources have never been developed properly," Mr. Payne said. "During the war the population of the territory actually decreased from 50,000 to 30,000 and the output of minerals and other industries showed a similar decrease. The mining, agricultural and fishing resources of the region have never been made properly available.

"Exploitation of the resources of the territory will not be turned over to one interest or group of interests. Improvement of shipping and railroad facilities is undertaken with the purpose of admitting fresh capital and opening the country for settlement by American citizens.

"Concentration and co-ordination of federal control of Alaskan lands and resources is contemplated by obtaining legislative authority for an Alaska development board, and pending this, by the appointment of an inter-departmental Alaska committee.

"Other plans include the co-ordination of federal road construction, and the development of a plan for a comprehensive system of roads and trails to serve the entire territory. Investigation of the feasibility of smelting Alaska copper ores on a commercial basis within the territory will be undertaken."

ACTION TO REVOKE WILL OF MRS. FRANK LESLIE

New York, June 16.—Surrogate Foley today granted a petition of Henrietta R. Hurbut, administratrix of the estate of her sister, Alberta Barones Salvador, to revive an application seeking to revoke the probated will of Mrs. Frank Leslie disposing of a $1,700,000 estate.

Mrs. Leslie's estate was distributed shortly after her death five years ago. The barones instituted proceedings to revoke the Leslie will in April, 1919, but died at her Paris residence before the case was called. She claimed at the time that the probated will of Mrs. Leslie, a close friend and companion, bequeathed her only diamond brooch, although she said she had been made a chief beneficiary under a prior will. Attorneys for executors of Mrs. Leslie's estate declared the will was probated without opposition by the barones.

BLINDING SPOTLIGHT IS BLAMED FOR COLLISION

The question of a dazzling spotlight played an important part in the evidence in a case tried in the superior court here Wednesday before Judge George E. Hinman. The suit was brought by Paul W. Pierce of Westport against George W. Koch of Groton, claiming $700 damages for an accident that happened about 7 o'clock on the evening of Nov. 4, 1918, on the road between Quimburg and Mystic when Pierce claimed that his car was run into by the car driven by Koch. The two automobiles were going in opposite directions at the time, and Pierce claimed that Koch was on the left hand side of the road.

Koch made a counter claim for $1,000 for damage to his car and for personal injuries and alleged that the accident happened because Pierce was using a dazzling spotlight on a rainy night and that he (the defendant) was blinded by the spotlight which he took to be the light of a trolley car and this was the only light he could see on the automobile. For that reason he pulled off to the left as he knew the trolley car tracks were to his right as he was driving.

Attorney H. W. Rathbun conducted the case for the plaintiff and Attorney E. W. Jewitt was counsel for the defendant. Witness for the plaintiff were Alpheus N. Williams, Thomas Fox, Edgar W. Slason and Earl Palmer. Besides himself the defendant had one other witness, Arthur Friedman.

The case was finished late in the afternoon and the judge reserved decision after hearing short arguments by the two attorneys.

LYME JUDGE'S WIFE IS THROWN FROM AUTOMOBILE

Mrs. J. R. Warren, wife of Judge Warren of Lyme, was thrown from her automobile at noon in front of the home of Arthur Davis, Station 9, Waterford, when two machines, going out from New London, crowded her over beyond the roadway, and one of the machines caught her front hub, pulling off one wheel and throwing the car over on to the trolley tracks, blocking trolley traffic.

Mrs. Warren was uninjured but before she could extricate herself from her car and seek information as to who drove the other car, the driver of the other car had driven on and his identity could not be learned.

Joseph Grimshaw of this city was arrested Wednesday morning about 10:20 o'clock on Main street in an intoxicated condition and was locked up in the cooler over night. He will appear before the court this (Thursday) morning to answer charges of intoxication.

Joseph Gadue of this city, who lives at a Main street boarding house, will appear in court this (Thursday) morning to answer to charges of non-support of his wife, Anna Gadue, and one minor child, George A. Gadue. Gadue was notified Wednesday evening by Lieutenant McArthur that his presence would be required in court in the morning. Mrs. Gadue and her son live on Pleasant street.

Two young fellows who tore down the plank blocking the way across the Jilson Hill bridge Wednesday night were brought to the police station by Officer McLean. They gave as their reason for doing this that their supply of gasoline was running low and they desired to make home before it gave out. Both thought that if they took down the planks blocking the way and went across the bridge they would not be responsible for any accident that might happen. Chief Killouray told them that city property was put in such places for safety and that they had no right to remove it to pass through. They were also warned to be more careful with the language they used towards an officer in the future and were allowed to go home.

David Lachinsky of Bricktop road was notified to appear before the police court this (Thursday) morning to answer to charges of receiving money under false pretenses. Lachinsky, according to the story of Irvin Leff of Brooklyn, N. Y., had written him that he had a house that he would rent him for the summer. The house, according to Lachinsky, was one that would suit any family and was located in a fine place suitable for a summer home. Mr. Leff and another party were to pay Lachinsky $15 each for holding the house. According to agreement Mr. Leff and a friend came to this city Wednesday morning and were met at the house by Lachinsky, who took them to the house, that was a fine summer home. As soon as Mr. Leff and his companion saw the house their feeling for Lachinsky became anything but loving.

The house, that was a fine summer home, was situated in a swamp, and even the doors had not been hung. An investigation showed the house was not properly furnished and that the cellar was partially filled with water. Mr. Leff immediately got in touch with the police and Officer McLean was sent to Bricktop road to investigate the case. Later in the day a warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Lachinsky, charged with false pretenses. The warrant was served Wednesday evening by Lieutenant McArthur. Mr. Leff and his companion had made the trip from Brooklyn, N. Y., to this city and had brought baggage

His plain shirts, underwear, pajamas, socks

Fresh, perfectly clean—without hard rubbing or boiling!

IS THERE anything harder to wash than men's things? They're so big and heavy. And they have a way of getting so dirty. You rub and rub until you're worn out, and then you're not sure they're going to be clean.

Do them the Rinso way the next time. It's the very newest, easiest way to wash. You put your clothes to soak overnight in the rich Rinso suds—colored clothes half an hour in the morning. Then just rinse. Hold them up to the light. You are amazed. They are clean and white!

You need never rub again—except very dirty hands, cuffs, and badly soiled spots. And these you can do very lightly between your hands.

You need never boil your clothes again—unless you care to occasionally for sterilizing.

Rinso comes in fine granules. It contains no harsh chemicals. Soaking clothes in Rinso is just as safe as soaking them in water. It is so high in cleansing value that it just loosens all the dirt. It actually saves your clothes because it does away with the ruinous rubbing and boiling that you have always had to give them to get them clean.

Washday need never hold such horrors again. You will just soak and rinse—that's all. And put the clothes away fresh and white.
