YALE-HARVARD VARSITY

RACE AT 3.30 FRIDAY

Another change in the racing schedule for the Yale-Harvard regatta on Thursday next Friday was made Monday afternoon at a meeting of rowing officials and the captains of the rival varsity crews at Red Top, the Harvard headquarters.

The varsity regatta will be held on the course, will be rowed at 3.30 in the afternoon (standard time) according to the new plans. The crews will row up stream. The last previous announcement was that the big race would be rowed at 4.30 p. m. (standard time). However, if the race is delayed until six o'clock, it will not be rowed until after 6.30 p. m., and will then be contested downstream, owing to tidal conditions. The freshman and junior varsity races are scheduled for 9.30 and 10 a. m. (standard time), respectively.

F. L. Higginson, chairman of the Harvard graduate rowing committee, came from Boston for the meeting Monday.

The crimson crews had light practice in the afternoon. Coach Haines devoted some time to drill in starts and blade handling.

Yale's varsity and junior varsity crews had two half mile races Monday. The first shell won both the morning and afternoon races by a half length and the afternoon row by three-fourths of a length. No time was taken. The freshmen and combination eights had light workouts on the lake. The 8 o'clock race in the junior varsity boat, was temporarily out of the shell in the afternoon, Robinson rowing in his place.

Robert Cook, noted Yale rowing coach of some years ago, was a visitor at the Blue camp Monday.

ROTARIANS HAVE STARTED FOR NATIONAL CONVENTION

Rotarians from the eastern section of the country left Monday en route to Atlantic City for the national convention. A special train running from Boston to Atlantic City passed through New London on Monday morning and the board of the delegates from eastern Connecticut. Joseph N. Weymouth is delegate from the Norwich club. Heading the New London delegation are Cornelius C. Costello, James G. Hammond and J. William Clark. Others who are to attend from New London are Mr. and Mrs. John E. Cairns, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Comstock and Mrs. James G. Hammond.

The 1920 convention will be much the largest ever held, reservations at the big Atlantic City hotels totalling something over 10,000 and the convention will be represented with delegates from many foreign lands.

Opening sessions of the convention will be held in the afternoon and brief addresses of greeting. Among the contingents from abroad will be a contingent of fully 100 from the British Isles, who are to present an invitation to meet in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1921.

Business sessions will open this (Tuesday) morning and nominations of officers will be made, followed by election on Friday. The annual ball, where International President Albert S. Adams of Atlanta will meet the delegates and their wives in the first social affair, will be held on the Million Dollar pier tonight.

FUNERAL
Jacob Vetter.

Funeral services for Jacob Vetter, veteran policeman, were held on Monday afternoon from his late home at 21 Plant avenue. The home was filled with relatives and friends, including a delegation from the local police force, the Elks and other organizations of which Mr. Vetter was a member during his 22 years as a resident of this city. The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

Dr. S. H. Howe, pastor of Park Congregational church, conducted the services and delivered the eulogy. The following members of the local police department are also members of the Elks acted as bearers: Chief George Linton, Sergeant Allen C. Matthews, Joseph P. Farrell, Patrick F. Shahan, Hugh McAvoy, and John Casey. Burial was in the family lot in Yantic cemetery where a committee service was conducted by the Elks with John L. Coulman as exalted ruler and James E. McCormick, esteemed leading knight. Dr. Howe pronounced the benediction.

Funeral Director A. Gager had in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Out of Hospital.

Clarence Granger of Saybrook, whose wife was killed and he and other occupants of an automobile bus were severely injured at Saybrook a month ago when the bus was struck by a New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad train, has so far recovered from his injuries that he was able to leave the hospital in New London Monday and return to his home.

Injured When Auto Skidded.

Home E. Flagler of 157 Broadway was severely cut about the scalp with flying glass from a broken shield when his runabout skidded into a trolley car on Congress avenue, New Haven, last Thursday, June 17. The automobile was badly damaged and the driver, James Shea was given the same fine. All paid.

Delay in One-Man Cars.

Non-arrival of some of the equipment for the one-man trolley cars is delaying putting them into service in this city, but crews are being instructed in preparation for running the cars when they are ready.

Motor Vehicle Registers.

The Connecticut motor vehicle department has received from the printer a supply of motor vehicle registers revised to April 15, 1920. The present edition is 3,000 copies.

The varsity regatta will be held on the course, will be rowed at 3.30 in the afternoon (standard time) according to the new plans. The crews will row up stream. The last previous announcement was that the big race would be rowed at 4.30 p. m. (standard time). However, if the race is delayed until six o'clock, it will not be rowed until after 6.30 p. m., and will then be contested downstream, owing to tidal conditions. The freshman and junior varsity races are scheduled for 9.30 and 10 a. m. (standard time), respectively.

F. L. Higginson, chairman of the Harvard graduate rowing committee, came from Boston for the meeting Monday.

The crimson crews had light practice in the afternoon. Coach Haines devoted some time to drill in starts and blade handling.

Yale's varsity and junior varsity crews had two half mile races Monday. The first shell won both the morning and afternoon races by a half length and the afternoon row by three-fourths of a length. No time was taken. The freshmen and combination eights had light workouts on the lake. The 8 o'clock race in the junior varsity boat, was temporarily out of the shell in the afternoon, Robinson rowing in his place.

Robert Cook, noted Yale rowing coach of some years ago, was a visitor at the Blue camp Monday.

Rotarians from the eastern section of the country left Monday en route to Atlantic City for the national convention. A special train running from Boston to Atlantic City passed through New London on Monday morning and the board of the delegates from eastern Connecticut. Joseph N. Weymouth is delegate from the Norwich club. Heading the New London delegation are Cornelius C. Costello, James G. Hammond and J. William Clark. Others who are to attend from New London are Mr. and Mrs. John E. Cairns, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Comstock and Mrs. James G. Hammond.

The 1920 convention will be much the largest ever held, reservations at the big Atlantic City hotels totalling something over 10,000 and the convention will be represented with delegates from many foreign lands.

Opening sessions of the convention will be held in the afternoon and brief addresses of greeting. Among the contingents from abroad will be a contingent of fully 100 from the British Isles, who are to present an invitation to meet in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1921.

Business sessions will open this (Tuesday) morning and nominations of officers will be made, followed by election on Friday. The annual ball, where International President Albert S. Adams of Atlanta will meet the delegates and their wives in the first social affair, will be held on the Million Dollar pier tonight.

FUNERAL
Jacob Vetter.

Funeral services for Jacob Vetter, veteran policeman, were held on Monday afternoon from his late home at 21 Plant avenue. The home was filled with relatives and friends, including a delegation from the local police force, the Elks and other organizations of which Mr. Vetter was a member during his 22 years as a resident of this city. The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

Dr. S. H. Howe, pastor of Park Congregational church, conducted the services and delivered the eulogy. The following members of the local police department are also members of the Elks acted as bearers: Chief George Linton, Sergeant Allen C. Matthews, Joseph P. Farrell, Patrick F. Shahan, Hugh McAvoy, and John Casey. Burial was in the family lot in Yantic cemetery where a committee service was conducted by the Elks with John L. Coulman as exalted ruler and James E. McCormick, esteemed leading knight. Dr. Howe pronounced the benediction.

Funeral Director A. Gager had in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Out of Hospital.
