DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON
The big cotton manufacturing plants of the Quinebaug company and the Wauregan company here and at Wauregan have just been inspected by a quartet of Japanese cotton manufacturing specialists, who have been in this country for the past three months going through New England plants with a view to learning American methods of spinning and weaving cotton.

This commission has been sent out by a big cotton brokerage concern of Osaka and already has inspected some of the greatest cotton textile plants in the country. Their visit here was at the suggestion of one of the Boston directors of the Wauregan company, which is closely allied with the Quinebaug company.

S. Iwaka, of the Iwaca Commercial company, of Osaka, was head of the visiting Japanese. Another member of the party was Satachi Arimatsu, of the Taihuppon Cotton Spinning company, of Osaka, and J. Tashiro of the Japanese Cotton Spinning Company, Ltd., of Osaka. K. Yasui, a mill engineer, completed the membership of the group.

At Wauregan and at the Quinebaug plant the visitors were taken through the full list of departments of each plant, starting with the great storerooms where hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of cotton in bales is stored.

All of the Japanese speak English, two of them fluently, and all followed with interest the explanation of methods and processes employed at the big plants they say in this vicinity.

While in Danielson the visitors were entertained at lunch by Agent J. F. Gardner, Jr., of the Quinebaug company.

A meeting of the guarantors of the Danielson Chautauque was held Tuesday evening at the office of Town Clerk F. T. Preston in the town hall building. Officers were elected and committees named for the present season. Chautauque comes to Danielson this year during the closing days of July.

Providing her train remained on schedule time, Miss Rachel Preston arrived at Sidney, C. R., Tuesday morning on her way to Battle Harbor, Newfoundland, where she is to assist with the summer ends at Dr. Grenfell's mission. Miss Preston was a member of the class of nurses graduated this season from Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore. She is the daughter of Town Clerk and Mrs. F. T. Preston.

It was stated Tuesday afternoon that the project of providing accommodations in this territory for children to be sent out from New York—Fresh Air children, benefiting from the interest in them of a great daily paper of New York—is a meeting with a measure of success. Vacation homes for a number of these children already are provided. Some who would like to take the children, but who find it impossible to do so, have kindly and generously agreed to pay the board of children to be brought here and placed in the homes of others. On the whole, the work that is being done here in the interest of the New York kiddies is promising better results than it was possible to achieve two years ago.

Carl F. Wood, who went to New York a few days ago to teach at the summer school at Columbia university, developed blood poisoning in his foot and was forced to return here. He is now with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Wood. Mr. Wood is uncertain as to what caused the infection that has caused him so much inconvenience.

LOOSENS THE PHLEGM AND MUCUS, cleans the air passages, coats inflamed and irritated membranes with a healing and soothing demulcent, eases hoarseness, stops tickling in the throat and makes refreshing, restful sleep possible.

Banished La Grippe Coughs
Lewis Newman, 5064 Northland St., Chesapeake, Md., writes in telling you that Foley's Honey and Tar is the best remedy for lung trouble I have ever used. I have been down sick ever since January and nothing would do me any good. I was full of cold. I had the grip all winter until I got two bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar. I used 15 bottles. I am glad to say I can't feel any more cold in my chest.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound gives prompt relief from coughs, colds, hoarseness, tickling throat, whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchial coughs.

have also helped to make the present shortage.

Judge F. F. Russell was in Providence Tuesday on a business trip.

The members of Quinebaug lodge of Masons will attend service in a body at the Baptist church here Sunday morning in observance of St. John's day and members of the lodges in Woodstock and North Grovesville also have been invited to be present. Rev. G. C. S. Mackay, the pastor, will preach the sermon.

State Policeman Howard Elliott is spending a few days in Putnam on business pertaining to the affairs of the department which he represents.

Harvesting of the hay crop of 1920 is beginning in this territory. The prospect of a good hay crop is said to be good if weather permits of "making" what is to be had.

Railroad men in the Putnam yards, one of the principal transfer points on the New Haven system, were very interested Tuesday in the strike news relative to the affair at Cedar Hill yards, New Haven.

Putnam's former saloons are to be made available for stores or other business places. Bars and other equipment are being taken out by former licensed dealers.

Members of the Cohasset golf club are to be guests of members of the Putnam Country club Saturday for one of the matches scheduled for the present playing season.

A week from today brings the end of the trout fishing season of 1920, a fact which is being noted by the devotees of the sport. There have been some fine catches of trout heretofore this season.

Senexet camp, on the east shore of Woodstock lake, is re-opened for the 1920 season. A number of Ohio boys are in charge of J. O. Wood of Columbus.

Cotton manufacturing plants throughout this territory are said to be very busy and, apparently, unaffected by the slacking up activities in the woolen manufacturing industry.

Recent rains put a section of highway under water not far from Cotton's bridges, in the town of Pomfret, near the house of the crews of Pomfret school. The highway was flooded as a result of the Quinebaug river overflowing.

Practically all of Putnam's fraternal organizations have suspended their degree work and membership campaigns until after the hot weather period.

Miss Lucille C. Waters of Worcester was a visitor with friends in Putnam Tuesday.

Landlord Samuel Smith is making repairs to the interior of the City Hotel and will add a number of baths and other conveniences.
