DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

The half year of business rounded up Wednesday by the Brooklyn Savings bank shows that institution continuing the splendid increase in resources that has marked its record since coming to Danielson, about five years ago, from Brooklyn, where it was organized in 1872.

Late in 1919 the bank's deposits reached the $3,000,000 mark for the first time in the institution's history. At the end of the first half of 1920 the deposits have increased another $250,000 and over, and at the rate of increase experienced during the past six months the deposits may be over $3,500,000 by the end of the year.

When the bank first removed to Danielson its deposits were less than $2,000,000, so its growth has been such as to be highly pleasing to the officials and to its hundreds of well wishers. Having since its early days enjoyed the very highest reputation as a saving institution, the removal of the bank to Danielson gave it an opportunity for the growth that it has been steadily making in this place.

Funeral services for Edward Harris, who died as the result of injuries received when he was kicked by a cow, were held at his home in North Scituate on Wednesday and were attended by many relatives and friends. Mr. Harris being one of the best known and best liked of North Scituate's citizens. Burial was at North Scituate. A. F. Wood was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Copies of the Marion Daily Star, the Ohio publication owned by Senator Warren G. Harding, republican nominee for president, were distributed on Wednesday by friends of Souvenir W. H. Taylor of Hartford, who has been mailing them to friends connected with newspapers in different parts of Connecticut.

Eleven cars of coal have arrived at the Plainfield power plant of the Danielson and Plainfield Gas and Electric company. There is special interest in this because this plant develops power for the lighting and commercial uses in practically all of the houses from Jewett City to Ballouville. The big plant of the Connecticut mills here operates on power developed at the Plainfield plant.

Wednesday brought the end of the trout fishing season in 1920. Notwithstanding the fears of the devotees of this sport that the terribly cold weather of last winter had killed off this sterling game fish, the sportsmen have had better than average luck during the past three months and have brought in hundreds of trout from the streams in this vicinity.

Proprietors of pool rooms, clubs where billiard or pool tables are in use and others called to pay special federal taxes to the government were hustling about on Wednesday to square their accounts with the government, as is required at this period of the year.

Danielson will have a lively night before the Fourth if all the plans of the youth of the borough work out as they hope to have them. This night before comes on Saturday this year, and Saturday offers more tempting opportunities than most any other night in the week for celebration stunts.

Danielson Elks, numbering about four score, are much disappointed over the failure of their effort to secure a charter for a lodge in this town. They say, an organization of from 150 to 250 members could be built up within three months.

A post card post-marked Newfoundland has been received here from Miss Rachel Preston, en route to Dr. Grinnell's mission at Battle Harbor, Labrador. Miss Preston wrote that she was well and that she was enjoying her trip.

About 20 men will be taken to camp when the company leaves for Atlantic later this month. Captain F. O. Armitage stated Wednesday afternoon. While the period for enlistments is not yet closed, no special further effort will be made to take on more new men before going to camp, though the company is now 15 men short of the full quota of 45 for state guard companies.

It is a common saying nowadays, in speaking of labor and the high wages being received, that "they spend it as fast as they get it." This applies in many cases, but not in all. Increases in savings deposits in banks here and investments in good paying securities by hundreds of working people are such as to indicate that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been put away in safe places against less prosperous days. Not all of the working people hereabouts are spendthrifts, but prudent in a great many instances with the extra money that has come to them through the world upheaval.

J. Howard Burdick was in Boston on Wednesday on a business trip.

Dr. Nathaniel Hibbard is spending July in Boston in study and in hospital and laboratory work in the Graduate School of Physicians connected with the medical department of Harvard university, giving special attention to diseases of infants.

Special Our regular 50 cent coffee for 45 cents per pound for 30 days for 85 cents; tea, two packages for 62 cents, Friday and Saturday. More the Drug-Store—The Retail store.—adv.

The new and advanced rates of the Crystal Water company not previously effective become so today, July 1. Such action as the board has taken is a special appropriation to meet the cost of contesting the increase before the Public Utilities commission has not resulted in any definite action, outwardly at least, as yet, though it is known that the borough officials and their council who have in mind certain definite moves to which they are not willing to give general publicity at this time.

Sand has been distributed on highways in this vicinity preparatory to closing these state highways for the summer season.

John A. Benson of Pawtucket was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Wednesday.

With a decrease that is looked for in the prices of building materials a number of homes will be erected in Danielson by private parties.

The rivers have come back into favor hereabouts as bathing places, bathing being no longer permitted at Quinebaug lake.

Miss Mary C. Newton of Central Falls is spending a few days with friends in Danielson.

Too much wet weather has more or less damaged the hay crops on some farms hereabouts, where there is low-lying land.

Miss Alice Morse of Seward street has returned to Putnam from South Braintree, Mass., where she went last week to attend the commencement exercises of Thayer academy. Her niece, Miss Dorothy Partridge, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Wells Partridge, formerly of Putnam, was one of the graduates. Next fall Miss Partridge is to enter Wheaton college.

At St. Mary's church, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives, including many guests from out of town, Miss Agnes Chase, Chase, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Chase, 44 Bridge street, and Harry Palmer Keach, son of Henry A. Keach, were married at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles F. Bedard. At the ceremony the bride was attended by Miss Irene Emmons of Worcester, and Joseph Feeney of Westport was groomsmen. Six girls, members of the Children of Mary, accompanied the couple to the altar. They were dressed in white and wore the veil of the society.

The bride wore white georgette, with a full veil. Her bridesmaid wore a dress of blue georgette, with a hat to match. Following the church ceremony, there was a reception at the home of the bride, after which Mr. and Mrs. Keach left Putnam for a wedding trip which will take them to New York. After July 15th they will be at home at 44 Bridge street.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Keach have always lived in Putnam, he having received many gifts, including linen, silver and money. Cargill council, No. 65, K. of C., was

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair
At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian "medicine man" who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as plentiful as in my youthful days.
That I was astonished and happy in expressing my state of mind widely. Obviously the hair lotion had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious formula. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotalke, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist.
That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved. My hair has grown, and ere long my hair was as plentiful as in my youthful days.
This my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved. My hair has grown, and ere long my hair was as plentiful as in my youthful days.
Many men and women, also children, have reported satisfactory results from Kotalke.
