BISHOP NILAN AT DIAMOND JUBILEE

Over 3,000 attended the open air demonstration at 7 o'clock Sunday evening on the site of the new St. Mary's church, Central avenue and Prospect street, in celebrating the 75th anniversary of the founding of the church in this city.

Rev. Fr. Keefe was master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers in an able manner. The Rev. Daniel Mulligan, Central avenue and Prospect street, in celebrating the 75th anniversary of the founding of the church in this city.

Rev. Fr. Keefe introduced as the first speaker Mayor Herbert M. Lerou, who stayed to shake hands with the former pastor and the others of the existing clergy. Seated on the platform during the ceremony were Rev. William A. Keefe, Rev. Maurice McAuliffe, Mayor Herbert M. Lerou, Alderman Charles E. Wells and Hon. William J. Mulligan.

The Sunday masses at St. Mary's church were all largely attended. At 7:30 there was a low mass by Rt. Fr. John J. Nilan, bishop of the Hartford diocese. There were many holy communions offered at this service. Bishop Nilan received the assistance of Rev. William A. Keefe, the pastor. Bishop Nilan preached at this service on the gospel of the day, the parable of the tares and wheat. The bishop's thoughts were to use everything in this life in a righteous manner both for the soul and body, but anything that would tend to bring sin to the soul should be shunned.

Following the bishop's mass, another low mass was read by Rev. William H. Kennedy, and at 9 o'clock came the children's mass which was presided over by Bishop Nilan, who opened the same, and then went to the gospel side of the altar, where he was attended by Rev. W. G. Belterose, J. Taffville and Rev. William H. Kennedy. The celebration of the mass was Rev. William P. Brady, C. M. of the Vincentian college at Philadelphia, a former parish boy, and the state secretary of the Catholic church in this city. He presided at the day. Fr. Keefe spoke at this service on thoughts of the parish in its diamond jubilee history, and Bishop Nilan preached again, taking for his theme the parable of the grain of mustard seed. The bishop likened the growth of the parish in the 75 years to the grain of mustard seed in the parable and he commended the labor of those who had brought the faith to this city and handed it on to others for the present generation to enjoy. He urged his hearers to stand behind the pastor in the great work which he before them, for there is not a new temple of God. The closing hymn after the mass, rendered by the congregation, was Holy God, We Praise Thy Name. The choir under the direction of Henry LaFontaine rendered in fine voice Kallawoda's mass.

At 4:30 Rev. William A. Keefe was host at dinner at the parochial residence in honor of Bishop John J. Nilan, at which the following clergy were present: Rev. John H. Broderick, Myles P. Galvin, Daniel P. Sullivan, William H. Kennedy, John P. X. Quinn of Montville, W. C. Fitzsimmons, Alexander Wollshagen, John McGrath, all of New London, Chaplain Falatoc of the submarine base, William G. Fox, Groton, James J. Smith and William Carey, New Haven; William Cavanaugh, Hartford; Maurice McAuliffe, Hartford; John J. McCabe, Jewett City; U. O. Fellerose and Henri Chagnon, Taffville; William T. O'Brien, Colchester; P. Morrissey, Plainfield; John H. Fitzmaurice, Waterbury; Otto S. Baumeister, Colchester; John J. Walsh, Waterbury; James P. Thomas, New Britain; Colchester; William P. Brady, Brookline, N. Y.

But, ladies and gentlemen, what was said by Mr. Mulligan in part: We celebrate our national anniversary here this day, children of many people, united by a common bond of American citizenship, American aspirations, American ideals.

Today we celebrate the victory and the glory that God has preserved and increased the power and the might of the republic which our forefathers founded on July 4, 1776.

Today we can repeat with veneration and respect the philosophy of the declaration of Independence which set on fire the political situation of the world, and by which nation after nation and people after people have been inspired to learn the philosophy and the meaning of the blazing light of its advancing civilization.

But, ladies and gentlemen, what was said by Mr. Mulligan in part: We celebrate our national anniversary here this day, children of many people, united by a common bond of American citizenship, American aspirations, American ideals.

SUGGESTION TO WOMEN Who Are "Just Ready To Drop"

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about, and because you have not slept well you get up as tired as when you went to bed, you need help, and you can get it just as Mrs. T. H. Shelton did. She says: "I was weak, run-down and nervous, with no appetite and I could not sleep. I could hardly keep around and do my work. After all other medicines failed, Vinol has built me up so that I sleep better, eat better, and feel better in every way. There is no secret about Vinol. It gives its success in such cases to the fact that it is a combination of the most successful tonics known to medicine."
