

SENATOR McLEAN REVIEWING THE DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION CLASSIFIED PRESIDENT WILSON AS SOLDIER, AS STATESMAN, AND AS PEACEMAKER

In Keynote Speech at Republican State Convention in Hartford, Senator McLean in Reviewing the Democratic Administration Classified President Wilson as Soldier, as Statesman, and as Peacemaker—Declared Pulse of Public Was Shown When the Voters Declined to Accede to the President's Appeal to Elect a Democratic Congress—The Senator Declared Himself a Firm Believer in State and Community Government—Confident Senator Brandegee Will Be Re-elected by a Vote That Will Surprise His Critics—Positive Women "Will Cast Their Maiden Ballots With Conscientious and Intelligent Regard for the Future of Their Beloved Country"—Senator Brandegee Will Be Renominated Today, State Ticket Named, Presidential Electors Selected, and Platform Adopted.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 8.—To complete the party ticket in Connecticut for which the national convention in Chicago next week the standard bearer of the republican state convention began its session in West Grand street tonight. The business session will be tomorrow.

State Treasurer C. Harold Gilchrist of Putnam will be renominated, and Senator Harvey Bissell of Haddam was generally mentioned for compeller.

At a late hour, while the Wilson men were confident, the delegates believed the participation in the record of the struggle would be nothing short of a miracle, if these men had anticipated all the changes in fact and fancy that have come to the people in the past few years.

People Did Not Agree With Wilson As a man who had been elected by himself and his party that could be done during the six years from 1912 to 1918, a democratic congress had put upon the status of the nation a heavy burden.

Senator McLean's Address. When Senator McLean arrived at the convention, he was applauded, and hand-clapping was repeated as Governor Holcomb took his seat on the platform.
