What is Going On Tonight

Knights of Pythias, Natchaug Lodge, No. 21, meet at 10 P. M. hall.

The American Thread company defeated the (scrappy) Graton-Knight team of Norwalk Sunday by a score of 2 to 0.

King Rader of the Toronto Internationals visited for the local team and fanned out the visiting team, while Canavan on the mound for Graton-Knight struck out seven.

During the first five innings there was little to interest the fans, but pitchers retiring their opponents easily.

Decisions on strikes by Umpire O'Rourke caused several arguments all from the visiting side who seemed to be unable to see the shots put over by King.

Things started in the American third half of the sixth, Nichols first base was given a pass, the second handed him during the game.

Rader hit to second and was safe on Belanger's error at first.

At this point the greatest argument of the game was started.

Time was called while second base was fastened down, the ball being in the hands of Deo to throw to first.

WESTERLY

Public services were held Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist church, in connection with the fiftieth anniversary, of Narragansett Commandery, No. 21, of Knights Templar.

The commandery is the second offspring of Calvary Commandery of Providence, of the Grand Commandery of Rhode Island and Massachusetts, the first being Sultan Commandery of New Bedford.

This commandery was opened in the asylum, Mass. hall at 2:30 o'clock, and at three o'clock the sir knights marched to the church and attended the public services.

The program was as follows: Organ; Mrs. Albert T. Kenneth; Congregational hymn 112, St. Gertrude, Arthur S. Sullivan; Prayer, Rev. Edmund J. Cleaveland; Recessional; Episcopal church; response, O Lord My Strength, Abner Snelling; by the church quartette, composed of Miss Evelyn Cooke, Mrs. Ophelia Simpson, Harry Coleman and William H. Browning; Scripture reading, Eminent Sir Thomas McKenna, prelate; anthem, The Lord's Prayer, W. H. Pratt; quartette; address, Knight Templary and the Search for Truth, Rev. Sir Byron U. Hatfield, pastor of First Baptist church; prayer, Rev. Not. O. Israel; Spiker, remarks, Sir Thomas H. Peabody, first prelate of Narragansett Commandery; Congregational hymn 247; prayer, Rev. Sir N. Hatfield; Recessional march, J. P. Thorne.

The (Monday) evening the sir knights, with ladies well attended, celebrated the golden jubilee, by exercises in the asylum, which will include an address of welcome, historical address, reading of the fraternal letters of the commandery, reading elsewhere a selection by a trained electioneer. Refreshments will be served. The exercises will be followed with a dance in the town hall.

The semi-centennial committee in charge of the observance is comprised of the following: President, J. P. Thorne; Vice President, Denison Hickey; Chairman, Charles F. Berry; Thomas McKenna; Frederick W. Stiles; Abel E. Peabody; Robert E. Cole; George E. Brown; D. Everett Hoxie; Alex. R. Patterson; Albert H. Spoor; Jr.; Arthur N. Nash; Lewis Stanton; Harry Bond; William S. Onga; George H. Harper; and Carl E. Burdick; commander and Sir John A. Pawson; generalissimo and Sir Fred N. Robinson; and, secretary, Sir W. Thorne.

The first commander of Narragansett Commandery, now commander of Calvary Commandery, No. 136-63, the Rev. James M. Pendleton; generalissimo, Geo. C. Stillman, captain general, J. Alonzo Lewis; commander, A. H. Peabody; junior warden, E. F. Voss; prelate, Thos. H. Peabody; treasurer, Thomas H. Browning; recorder, James Stillman; sword bearer, George C. Stillman; standard bearer, George C. Stillman; warder, James F. Pendleton; guards, Henry B. Gavit; Albert Collins; William Hoxsey; William M. E. Peabody.

The Western Sanitary corps left by motor truck at 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon, for Stonehead, Stonington, the estate of Major Charles P. Williams, where the members pitched camp. The corps ambulation was taken along as it was required in connection with practice work of the corps. During Sunday there were field and amphibian drill, well building, and other exercises that pertain to the successful work of the corps. In addition there were sports of special interest, such as break camp, camp games, and a picnic. The corps returned to Westerly in even better condition than before, to continue the work of the corps.

There is considerable adverse opinion concerning the caucus rules prepared by the Western republican town committee, which will be submitted for approval, amendment or rejection at the caucus on Tuesday evening. It is claimed the rules are cumbersome and unnecessary, and as a whole are a detriment rather than a benefit from a purely political standpoint as the caucus defects could easily be remedied by a simple caucus law, such as prevails in Connecticut. It is claimed that the caucus rules are required in Westerly any more than in all other places in the state, but that a state caucus law might better condition the caucus.

There are expressed objection to dragging a caucus over a period of three days, when the business can be completed in one night, when the caucus days are assembled for the purpose. A gentleman learned in the law declares a caucus has the power to adopt rules for the conduct of business, a caucus has no power to adopt rules for the government of the caucus. The action of one caucus does not bind the action of another.

Libeman Michael Laddar of Willimantic, employed in the gang of the Eastern Connecticut Power company, charged in construction of the high voltage pole line from Hallville to Westerly, was severely injured by falling from a pole in White Rock Saturday afternoon. He was taken to the hospital where he would live and asked for and received the last sacraments of the church, from a priest of the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

Dr. May after rendering first aid, called the ambulance of the Western Sanitary corps, and, Dr. May accompanied with the National Order, Daughters of Isabella.

The local American Thread Co. team defeated the team representing the Merrick Mills of Holyoke, Saturday at that place by a score of 2 to 0. Following the game the local men were royally entertained by the Merrick team. This makes two straight for the local Thread makers.

Theodore Morris of Bristol, R. I., is a patient at the St. Joseph hospital, suffering injuries received when the automobile in which he was a passenger, struck a fence just outside the city limits of West. The pole of the fence was struck by the radiator of the machine. None of the occupants of the machine other than Morris were injured. The accident occurred about 4 o'clock on Sunday evening.

Mr. Laddar was taken to the New London hospital.

While the injuries are considered as serious, Laddar, was holding his own on Sunday. The ribs on both sides are fractured and both lungs are punctured, and the hospital physician, as well as Dr. Laddar, fear that vertebrae are injured.

Mr. Laddar was at work near the top of a forty-five foot pole, using his hatchet chopping off the top of the pole, when the pole slipped and cut the leather strap to the safety belt and Laddar fell backward to the ground, a distance of more than forty feet. He is about thirty years of age, a first class workman, and said to be one of the most careful in the gang.

Mrs. Avie Whiston Borda has filed unusual action in the New York Supreme court seeking to restrain her husband, Wencelao Borda, from bringing up his three-year-old son in the belief that she was his mother, and to compel the revelation of the child's mother.

Mrs. Borda has entered cross suits for divorce in Rhode Island. Mrs. Borda, wife of the late George Borda, of the famous Rhode Island was governor, filed her petition for divorce in the Washington County superior court in February. In her complaint she alleges "extreme and gross adultery, adultery and gross misbehavior and wickedness in violation of the marriage covenant."

Her husband, who was entered in the Providence superior court some time during the summer, Mr. Borda, charges "desertion, extreme cruelty and gross neglect and wickedness in violation of the marriage covenant."

Miss Katherine Greenleaf Price, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Price, and Captain Louis Austin Babcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Babcock, were married Saturday evening in the Pawtucket Seventh Day Baptist church, by Rev. Clayton A. Burdick, D. D.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Walter E. Price, and William Walter Price, a nephew, and little Miss Allen of Myrtle, a cousin present. The bride wore a gown of satin and gold, and carried a bouquet of white daisies and superlunary pretty combined formed her bouquet. Miss Corbett wore yellow, and carried a bouquet of white daisies and superlunary pretty combined formed her bouquet. Woodstock Ambrose Kennedy, of Woodstock, is a candidate for nomination for lieutenant governor, leaving a caucus on Saturday.

All of the twenty-seven counsels of the Knights of Columbus, of Rhode Island will be represented in the big demonstration in Providence, Columbus Day, Oct. 12.

Edward M. Sullivan, of Cranston, has formally announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for governor.

The names of Misses Nellie Connell and Dorothy Page were omitted from the list of women voters. The name Ethelie Paul should have read Ethelie Parkhurst.

A. M. Clark, Fred Clark and E. H. Hiscox attended the Grand Masters' day celebration at the Connecticut Masonic Home in Wallingford, Saturday. The trip was made in Mr. Clark's automobile.

Several other parties "traveling East" out of Wallingford Saturday to be seen as one approaches from the west.

Several loads of truck have been ordered by the concrete work contractors on the new state road, which will be used by their gasoline locomotors for carrying supplies to the concrete mixer. The work is being done by the concrete work contractors on the new state road, which will be used by their gasoline locomotors for carrying supplies to the concrete mixer.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hakelste of New Haven were visitors in town Friday. Mr. Hakelste is one of the contractors on the new road job.

Leonard Siebert of East Hampton was in town Friday.

Joseph Kerr, timekeeper for Diablos, was left Saturday for his home in

The Ford Motor Company makes this reduction in the face that they have on hand immediate orders for one hundred and forty six thousand and sixty-five cars and tractors.

The company will suffer a temporary loss while using up material bought at high prices. They are willing to make this sacrifice in order to bring business back to a going condition as quickly as possible, and maintain the momentum of the buying power of the country.

Henry Ford says, The war is over and it is time war-prices were over.

There is no sense or wisdom in trying to maintain an artificial standard of values. For the best interests of all, it is time a real practical effort was made to bring the business of the country and the life of the country down to regular pre-war standards.

We are at your command with regular Ford efficiency in service and eagerness to fill your orders.
