WEB-FOOTED WILLIMANTIC ELKS PARADE IN STORM HERE

Web-footed as well as antlered, the Willimantic Elks arrived here 59 strong Thursday night, accompanied by the Willimantic American band of twenty-two pieces, to attend on "Willimantic night" at the Norwich Elks' indoor carnival.

A driving rain that greeted them upon arrival here did not dim the interest in their programme and they went through with the parade they had promised before they sought shelter in the carnival hall at the Elks' home.

Exalter Rufus L. Counihan of Norwich lodge with Esteemed Leading Knight James McGillicuddy of Willimantic headed the line for its rally walk that did not diminish the "web-footed" Willimantic brothers who executed snake dances and various fancy steps all along the line they followed through the center of the city.

After midnight they gave another parade to take their special trolley car at Franklin square.

At the home of the Willimantic band played for dancing and the visitors put life and spirit into the carnival that proved they are the liveliest bunch that has struck Norwich in a long time.

FAILING LIMBS BREAK ELECTRIC WIRES CRIPPLED MANY CIRCUITS IN CITY

Thursday's wind and rain storm which started about one o'clock in the morning and continued throughout the day and evening, played havoc with the electric power lines in this city and for five hours during the middle of the day certain sections of the city were without power or lights. Many factories in the city which depend on the local power plant for power were forced to suspend operations during the greater part of the day.

The telephone system and the fire alarm system also suffered from the effects of the storm. The trouble started about ten o'clock when a limb on a tree in the northern part of the city on the Yantic and Norwich town circuit fell on the wires and snapped them, causing a short circuit until the trouble was repaired. RHEUMATISM

Torturing Pains and Swollen Joints Vanish When Rheuma is Used or Money Returned.

If there are any rheumatic sufferers who have not availed themselves of this generous offer, they should do so at once.

If Rheuma, the guaranteed prescription for rheumatism in any form, does not give quick and joyful relief, the cost, small as it is, will be gladly returned without any quibbling or red tape.

Rheumatism is a dangerous disease, and anyone who has the slightest sign of it should drive it from the system as quickly as possible. This is what Rheuma is for many. It should do as much for you.

I have been laid up for one year with chronic arthritis," says one sufferer. "I had doctors galore, also spent four months in a sanitarium, but had practically no relief. Then I started taking Rheuma. Now I can go without crutches or other aid, which I could not do for the last nine months. I highly recommend it, and would gladly answer any questions asked on receipt of stamped postcard.—Thomas H. Eddy, Schuylerville, N. Y.

Rheuma is absolutely harmless and thoroughly reliable because of the discovery that has forced rheumatism to yield and disappear. It is recommended and sold in the following pay plan by Lee & Osgood Co. and good druggists everywhere.

BIG BROAD ST. ELM TORN UP BY THE ROOTS
Fire Chief Howard L. Stanton discovered proof of the power of Thursday's storm when he found a big elm tree uprooted early this (Friday) morning in front of the residence of Arthur H. Brewer at 57 Broad street. The tree is one of the largest elms in the city and was probably blown over some time about midnight bringing down with it a mass of wires that included fire alarm wires, city light wires and telephone lines. It fell in the street and blocked the highway.

Chief Stanton started his search for the trouble when he found his fire alarm wires were in trouble and located the cause when he found the tree on Broad street torn up by the roots.

Earlier in the evening he had located a limb torn from a tree at the Chelsea parade which had broken fire alarm wires and there were also falling limbs on Thames street that broke fire alarm wires Thursday night.
