

IN NORWICH FIFTY YEARS AGO

Norwich events of 50 years ago are chronicled in The Bulletin's files as follows:

September 16, 1870.—The Jackson house on the court house lot was sold by auction to John Eggleston for $750. The Jewish Festival Rosh Hashana commenced last evening at sunset, the year 5631 of the Hebrew calendar commencing at that time. Services are held by our Jewish citizens at the house of L. Bear and will be continued until Tuesday night.

Saturday afternoon the horses attached to a street car coming down the hill near the Universalist church took fright and ran. The driver, being ignorant of the use of the brakes, could not control them and when near the foot of the hill they jumped from the track, dragging the car after them to the sidewalk where the top of the car struck an awning and stopped there. The car was filled with ladies who were much alarmed.

A refreshing drizzle of a few minutes duration fell yesterday afternoon and another in the evening and vegetation was as moist and green as a concrete sidewalk on a hot day. As an episode of the shower yesterday was interesting—as a success it was a failure.

September 27, 1870.—The Active of Mystic beat the Sachems of Norwich Falls at New London yesterday 17 to 13.

The brig George from Porto Rico arrived at the wharf yesterday laden with molasses and cotton.

The postoffice at Tatfield commences operation today. The mail will close at the office at 3 p. m., arrive at 11 a. m. daily, going by the Hanover stage.

When the city water is introduced in the house it is intended only for the use of the occupants and they are liable to double rates if they allow others to use it.

It was a youthful spirit and a club that looked out a home's eye on the wharf and youth and cussedness that sent a dog through a milliner's window on Shattucket street.

C. H. Talbot of this city has accepted the position of principal of the Mystic grammar school. He has a reputation of being a thorough and efficient teacher.

Six hundred shares of the capital stock of the Norwich, New London and Watch Hill Steamboat company will be sold by auction at the office of W. L. Brewer today.

September 27, 1870.—Mansfield.—On Wednesday, the 21st, Ann Simonds the oldest inhabitant in town, celebrated her 100th birthday, a large number of relatives and friends being present.

September 30, 1870.—The State Teachers Institute now in session at Greenville closed last evening in the large hall of the Greenville schoolhouse. A number of teachers and others from the city were present.

Eliza C. Rice, whose disappearance has caused much anxiety arrived at his home in Uxbridge yesterday morning. He was unable to give any coherent account of himself and had evidently been suffering severely either from illness or rough treatment. Meanwhile the New London Times of which he had charge had suspended publication but will probably soon resume.

"The boy who yesterday purchased the mother's tablecloth and converted it into a boat will now mourn the fact that the greater number seats manufactured are unprovided with cushions.

"October 1st 1870.—A young man who has acquired some little reputation as a wit sprung this one yesterday on a long-suffering public: "Do you know, Pete Burns," his auditor replying in the affirmative, the joker then remarked, "Why everyone knows it (peab) burps." We predict an untimely end for him.

Another turnout for the horse cars has been laid in Franklin square. Ground was broken for a second one near William Park yesterday.

At precisely one o'clock this morning a gentleman was discovered on the curbstone opposite Lanman and Sevin's drug store ardently gazing at the red light in the window. The incriminated person had intended to migrate to Greenville by the horse cars and he had watched that red light for fully forty minutes waiting for it to reach him. At last, account it had not.

The funeral of Admiral Farragut took place in New York yesterday. Among the mourners were President Grant, his cabinet members and many municipal and civil officials.

CUTICERA HEALS RED PIMPLES

Scattered Over Face, Itched A Lot. Face Looked Badly.

"I was troubled with pimples on my face. They were hard, red and came to a head and burst. They were scattered over my face and itched quite a lot and my face looked badly. I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. It helped me so I bought more, and when I had used three cakes of Soap and four boxes of Ointment I was healed." They're Beaded and Embroidered and the Lines Are Long and Straight These Dresses Which Are So Dainty and Charming

Beads and Embroidery, and long, straight lines are outstanding features of the newest fashion in frocks. The decoration is almost barbaric in its form and coloring, the general effect being more Oriental than of the sober-minded west. But, until you have seen them, you can form little idea of how striking, and how beautiful they are. Of course, some of the embroidery is of the selfsame coloring as the frock—and beads of quieter colors, too, are used—so that those who do not care for the colorful effects will find ample room for choice.

The materials are mainly fine Tricotines, and soft finish, shimmering Satins. There is a sprinkling of other weaves, but these two hold the center of the stage just now, and it would be hard to imagine any other fabrics which would lend themselves to the present fashion with more effect than these two.

UPON OUR RACKS WE NOW HAVE HUNDREDS OF PRETTY FROCKS—ALL KINDS—ALL PRICES
