The Bulletin

Norwich, Wednesday, Oct. 27, 1920.

THE WEATHER.

Winds: North of Sandy Hook will be fresh southeast to south winds and overcast showery weather Wednesday. Sandy Hook to Hatfield, fresh south to southwest winds and overcast showery weather Wednesday. Conditions: A disturbance of wide extent was centered over the Ohio valley Tuesday night and was attended by rain with the last 24 hours in north New England. The disturbance will move rapidly northeastward over the lower lake region and the St. Lawrence valley. Generally fair weather will prevail Thursday except that rain will probably continue in Maine. Following the passage of this disturbance much cooler weather will overcast the region of the Atlantic states Wednesday night and Thursday. Forecast: For southern New England: Showers Wednesday; Thursday clearing and colder. Observations in Norwich: The Bulletin's observations show the following records reported from changes in temperature and barometric reading Tuesday: Ther. Bar. 7 a. m. 52 30.50 12 m. 53 30.50 5 p. m. 60 30.50 Highest 64.

TAFTVILLE

On Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. Arthur Varney of the Congregational church united in marriage, at the parsonage, Ralph Hartman of Norwich, son of William and Annie Lang Hartman and Miss Elizabeth Gibson Cardie of South Front street, daughter of Robert and Elizabeth Cardie. The bride was attended by Miss Louise Sigrist and a brother of the bride, Robert John Cardie was best man. The bride wore a brown tulle suit of the latest design with hat to match and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The maid was dressed in oxford suit with a hat to match and she carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride. The Warman called. The groom's gift to the bride was a silver tea service. The bride's gift to her bridesmaid was a red silk umbrella, and the groom's gift to his best man was a pair of gold cuff links. There were many relatives and friends present, guests coming from Pictburg, Fall River, Montville and Hallville. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour when Mr. and Mrs. Hartman left for a tour and will visit in Boston and New York. On their return they will reside on Washington street, Norwich. The groom was born

SIX TICKETS ON VOTING MACHINE

New voters and old voters who took a look at the voting machines in the six districts where they were demonstrated by the registrars Tuesday found there were six tickets on the machine. These are arranged in the following order: Republican, democratic, socialist, prohibition, socialist labor and farmer-labor. The top lever is the republican party lever and the others follow in order. The town clerk and the registrars are advising all new voters especially the women voters, that it would be a good thing for them to take another look at the machines in the next two days, even if they have already seen them and believe they understand them. The machines which were used for demonstration when voters were made had only two party tickets on them and it is felt that when the new voters come to approach a machine in the booth with so many more party tickets on it than they saw before they may become confused and not know what to do. One of the things that the new woman voter is practically sure to ask is why she does not see either the name of Harding or Cox on the machine. Many of them will probably ask how they are going to vote for president when his name does not appear on the machine or on the ballots in those towns where ballots are used. The answer is that the vote for president is cast by voting for the seven presidential electors whose names appear in the party line on the machine. Connecticut has seven votes in the electoral college so that by voting for the seven electors, republican or democratic, the voter casts his ballot for the president of his choice. Only the republicans and democrats have nominated full tickets for all the offices in which they are to be elected. None of the other parties have made any nomination for judge of probate or for justices of the peace. Norwich names appearing in some of the other party nominations outside of the republican and democratic are Albert Boardman for state senator on the socialist ticket, Fred Holdsworth and George E. Campbell for representatives on the socialist ticket. Mr. Campbell is also one of the presidential electors under the socialist ticket. Robert McNeely's name appears in the list of prohibition presidential electors, but it is understood Mr. McNeely has renounced this use of his name. The machine will be demonstrated in all the voting districts today (Wednesday) and Thursday from 12:30 to 9 p. m.

CAPT. DUDLEY BRAND REACHES LAST PORT

The death of Capt. Dudley A. Brand occurred Tuesday morning at his home, 177 Ocean avenue, New London. Captain Brand has been in failing health for the past seven years, which compelled him to retire from his vocation as sailing master which he had followed during the greater part of his life.

For 20 years he was master of the steam yacht "Naxos," a palatial craft owned by Henry Walters of Baltimore. He was also previously captain of the steam yacht "Marquise" owned by the Drexel family of Philadelphia. Aside from being in command of yachts he supervised the construction of a number of the fine craft owned in America. About seven years ago a growth appeared on his face of the appearance of a wart. This was removed on advice of a surgeon but was evidently of a cancerous growth for it broke out again and eventually developed so that it was the primary cause of his death. Captain Brand was born Jan. 10, 1853. He leaves a wife, one son, Harold E. Brand, and one daughter, Mrs. C. Harrison Whitehead, all of New London.

Body Remains Identified

On Tuesday a large number of persons viewed the body of the unknown man as it lay at the morgue of Henry Allen and Son company where the body had been taken after the man died at the Backus hospital as the result of injuries received when he was hit by an automobile owned by Alfred Upham. As on Monday many people claimed that they had seen the man about the street of the city at various times but could not tell his name.

in Webster, Mass., and is a metal worker by occupation, being employed in Norwich at the time of the accident. He was employed by the Portsmouth company. Miss Mary Troland of Providence street is confined to her home by diphtheria.

D. A. R. MUSEUM RECEIVES TWO APPRECIATED GIFTS

Among recent gifts to Faith Trumbull Chapter, D. A. R. museum are two of especial local interest. One, a Cruden's Concordance presented by Miss Sarah Latham Huntington, belonged to her great grandfather, Brig. Gen. Joseph Huntington, who married Faith Trumbull, daughter of Governor Trumbull. The book bears his autograph, "Jed Huntington, 1787." It is a first edition published in London in 1735 and dedicated to Queen Caroline, wife of George II. Alexander Cruden praises the queen in unmeasured terms. He says in one place that "Your majesty is possessed of all those talents which make conversation either delightful or improving. Your fine taste in the elegant arts and skill in several modern languages is such, that your discourse is not confined to ordinary subjects of conversation, but is adapted with uncommon grace to every occasion, and entertains the politest persons of different nations. That accessible turn which appears in your sentiments upon the most ordinary affairs of life, which is so suitable to the delicacy of your sex, the politeness of your education, and the splendor of your quality is observed by every one that has the honor to approach you."

A prominent Norwich member of Faith Trumbull chapter has discovered that Queen Caroline never acknowledged the copy sent her, as she died four or five days after receiving it. The second gift to the museum is from Miss Alice Dwyer and is a large key that was used by Benedict Arnold to open the door of Dr. Lathrop's drug store when he was employed there as a clerk.

Workmen's Compensation

Two workmen's compensation agreements as follows have been approved by Commissioner Donohue of the New England Collapsible Tube Co., New London, employer and Edward Dohler, Waterford, employe, blood poisoning in thumb, at rate of $8.44. New London Ship and Engine Co., employer and J. Connors, New London, employe, piece of steel in right eye, loss of sight, at rate of $13.58 for 104 weeks.

NOMINATIONS MADE FOR STATE C. O. DIRECTORS

Nominations for the ten new members of the board of directors of the Connecticut Chamber of Commerce for the next two years were announced Tuesday at the executive offices of the chamber in Hartford. There will be five new directors representing the general welfare of the state and one director representing each of the five basic groups of Connecticut business to be elected to the board of directors at the annual meeting at the Hotel Taft in New Haven, November 10 and 11. The general welfare nominees are: John H. Goss, general superintendent, Scoville Manufacturing Company, Waterbury, renominated; Col. Wm. H. Hall, Gardiner Hall, Jr., and Co., South Willington, renominated; Rt. Rev. John G. Murray, R. D. Auxiliary Bishop of Hartford, Roman Catholic church, renominated; Edward W. Hazen, president, Millbrook Dairy Co., Middletown and Frank H. Johnson of New Britain, director of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The group directors are: George F. Taylor, Hillhouse & Taylor, Willimantic to represent trade and commerce; Russell C. Fisher, treasurer, Russell Mfg. Co., Middletown, renominated to represent Banking and Insurance; William C. Fisher, treasurer, Russell Mfg. Co., Middletown, renominated to represent Industries; Samuel Ferguson, vice president Hartford Electric Light Company, renominated to represent public utilities and Leonard H. Healey, secretary state board of agriculture, renominated, to represent agriculture.

STRAW HAT AND OVERCOAT IN OCTOBER

Wearing a straw hat and an overcoat at the same time and winter's freezing winds was set on Main street Tuesday afternoon when one man walked down the busy thoroughfare clad in a light suit and a straw hat while following him not three feet behind was a man wrapped up in a winter overcoat. Extremes of fashion, when north meets south and that kind of thing you know.

Delegates to Girls' Conference

Miss Viola Johnson of Lisbon spent Saturday and Sunday in Norwich at the Third annual girls' conference. While attending the conference she was staying with Miss Mary Batchelor of East Town street.

CONTRASTS COTTONSEED FEED WITH COTTONSEED MEAL

There are many men in New London county who buy feed without knowing what in its guaranteed analysis, in spite of the fact that state law requires that commercial feed put on the market, shall have stated the protein, fat and fibre contents. Only recently it has been brought to the attention of County Agent H. F. Johnson that in some places farmers are buying cottonseed feed for cottonseed meal. Often times cottonseed feed is incorrectly called cottonseed meal. Many farmers are feeling that they are not getting as much as they need to out of the cottonseed, which they are buying. There is a distinct difference between cottonseed feed and cottonseed meal. Originally cottonseed feed will analyze as follows: Protein 20 per cent., fat 4 per cent., carbo hydrates and crude fibre 28 per cent. Cottonseed meal on the other hand contains a much higher percent of protein and for the sake of distinction there is four grades of cottonseed meal quoted on the market today. The first analysis 36 per cent. protein, the next 28 per cent., the next 41 per cent., and the next 43 per cent. It is practically impossible, however, to obtain from local dealers anything higher than the 28 per cent. grade. There are two or three things worth noticing in regard to cottonseed feed. In the first place, it is made up of a mixture of high grade cottonseed meal and cottonseed hulls. The hulls containing a small amount of actual feed value. These two mixed together in a proportion of a ton of hulls to a ton of high grade meal, will give you cottonseed feed. In the second place cottonseed feed runs very high in fibre contents. In the case just quoted, as high as some of our ordinary roughage. This makes the feed very much less digestible when fed to animals, and we naturally feel that we are not getting "as much out of our cottonseed" as we used to. In the third place cottonseed feed usually sells out of all proportion of its actual value. Only recently cottonseed feed analyzing 20 per cent. protein was selling at a grain store in the southern end of New London county for $45 a ton and at the same time 28 per cent. cottonseed meal could be purchased in carload lots at wholesale at $53 per ton. In other words farmers were paying $12 more per ton at retail for a feed which was worth only half as much as cottonseed meal. There is only one way out of this difficulty. Close attention to buying feeds of guaranteed analysis only will get

EASES A COLD WITH ONE DOSE

"PAPE'S GOLD COMPOUND" THEN BREAKS UP A COLD IN A FEW HOURS

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up a severe cold and ends all the gripe misery. The very first dose opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages in the head, stops nose running, relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness and stiffness. Don't stay stumped! Quit blowing and snuffing! Clear your congested head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—Insist upon Pape's!

ELECTION OFFICIALS ARE TO RECEIVE INSTRUCTIONS

The moderators who are in charge in the several districts in the Norwich election are to receive their instructions Friday evening at 7.30 at the town clerk's office. All the other election officials are to meet at the town clerk's office on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock for instructions.

POETRY

THEN AND NOW.

A country boy, barefooted, poor, alone,
Looked far across the Summer's golden day
Toward the city's pompous busy way,
Where wealth and splendor shone,
But he had seen an every where death
Within his soul Ambition's dream awoke
To set his heart aflame.
The glad years sped; Ambition won her
The busy street gave him her wealth;
And Fame
Showed him her heights, and there his shining name,
Written in gold, to live beyond his day,
But with it all the yale of childhood's
joy,
The fragrant hills, the waving fields of June,
Were ever with him, whistling some old tune,
"Somehow he longed once more to be a boy."
—H. E. Hartman, in Atlanta Constitution.

AN ELEGY IN A CITY CHURCHYARD.

Beneath yon curven tomb, yon pillared
stone,
Where slab and monument oppress
their dust,
The city workmen and their wives are laid—
Sleeping, it seems, the slumber of the just.
They knew no vice. These inscriptions tell
A constant tale of virtue and its pride;
"O worshipful of self, no name that fell;
"Nobly they lived and piously they died."
"Inhanced the honors of each grave
"Unsullied every record here surmised;
"The pompous annals of posterior fame,
"Proclaiming each the glory of his kind.
How grievously the world hath been betrayed,
With woe unmeasured loss, is left
"To mourn the whole of human vice is thus
"It seems the whole of virtue clumbers
"here.
"So to the haunts where mortals strive
"and toil,
"Study the flowers with immortal eye:
"Then come and ponder o'er this hallowed
"soil
"When only faithless men and women
"lie."
—London Outlook.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Husband—You told me to buy something for you on my way from the office, but I couldn't remember what it was.
Wife (bursting into tears)—It is too late now; neither can I—Boston Globe.
"I say the cause of the quarrel was a letter his wife found in his pocket."
"One that he had forgotten to burn!"
—Boston Transcript.
Patient—The appendix is a useless part of us. We could live quite well without it.
Doctor—You could—but we doctors couldn't—Klods Hans (Copenhagen).
"I'm having trouble in supporting my wife."
"You don't know what trouble is. Try not supporting her!"—Kansas City Journal.
"Have you been touching the barometer, Jane?"
"Yes'm. It's my night out, so I set it to 'fine.'"—London Mail.
Flatfish—Do you suppose that dogs carry rumors?
Bismarck—Oh, no; rumors fly. The things dogs carry jump.—Yonkers Statesman.
"Oh, doctor, tell me, quick!" moaned the fair patient, clasping her lap dog and convulsively nibbling a thousand-dollar check. "How sick am I? It is California, Florida or Europe?"—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.
"Started work in your garden yet?"
"No. My neighbor's been so busy working in his I haven't had the heart to borrow his tools."—Detroit Free Press.
The time to buy a used car is just before you move, so people in the New neighborhood will think you were the one who used it.—Kansas City Star.
Mr. Newlove—This lettuce tastes beautiful—did you wash it?
Mrs. Newlove—Of course, I did, darling—and I used perfumed soap, too!—London Mail.
Husband and wife were at the movie show. During a love scene she nudged hubby and intoned:
"Why is it you never made love to me like that?"
"Because," he responded, prosaically, "I didn't get paid to do it, like that chap!"—Film Fun.
"A movie vampire, you say?"
"Yes."
"But she is modestly clothed and her conduct is quite proper."
"The poor girl is having a few hours to herself. No stern-voiced director is driving her into sensuous poses and semi-nudity."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

THE KALEIDOSCOPE

It is now possible to transmit pictures by ordinary telegraph, by wireless and by telephone.
The area of the moon's surface is almost equal to the combined areas of North and South America.
A machine invented by Sir Joseph Whitworth will detect a length variation of one-millionth of an inch.
In the British Museum is an almanac which was issued during the reign of Rameses the Great, about 3,000 years ago.
The practice of pensioning or injuring sick and wounded soldiers is said to have been started in England by Oliver Cromwell.
The big yearly rainfall is in Assam. In 1861 it world's record was broken there by a fall of 805 inches, or more than 67 feet of rain.
"Kaleidoscopy" is the delineation of characteristic readings of the past and future by means of moles upon the human face and body. It is an even more ancient occult science than that of palmistry.
Of the English monarchs named George the first lived 67 years, the second 71 years, the third 82 years and the fourth 88 years. King George V is now 65.
Scientists state that it is a fact that our skulls are getting thinner. This is because our brains are getting bigger. This was borne out by observations made by surgeons who operated on heads during the war.
It was in Westminster Abbey that William Caxton set up the first printing press that ever was in England. And because it was his custom to discuss all matters connected with the undertaking at a meeting in the Abbey chapel with the Father Superior in the chair, any organized gathering of workers in a printing establishment today is "shaped" and its chosen chairman is a "father."

Honest Advertising.

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be.

That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.

Imitations are to be found in some stores and only because of the Castoria that Mr. Fletcher created. But it is not the genuine Castoria that Mr. Fletcher honestly advertised, honestly placed before the public and from which he honestly expects to receive his reward.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Special Care of Baby. That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases. Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher. THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.
