

WESTERLY

The Westerly Sanitary corps, composed of men trained in first aid work, and always ready to respond to call in emergency cases, has become a permanent organization, its purpose being to serve whenever such services are required. In connection with the work of the corps is ambulance service of the very best class, ready to respond at short notice, fully equipped and manned for efficient service. There are many places larger than Westerly, many larger cities, than do not equal Westerly in this important respect. The members of the sanitary corps are volunteers who give of their time in preparation for emergency work, and to render aid to the sick and injured, when required.

The people of the town generously contributed for the purchase and equipment of a modern motor-driven ambulance, but there was no surplus for maintenance. All this service rendered is without profit in some instances patients pay for service rendered, but in many cases the service is at the expense of the sanitary corps. The ambulance service has been in operation for more than a year and the real worth is generally recognized.

In order to properly maintain the sanitary corps, therefore, has decided to appeal to the people for financial support, and a push is now being made for funds, and along the line of campaign that became familiar during the period of the world war. Westerly is proud of the excellent service of the sanitary corps, and it is believed there will be general response to the appeal for funds to be devoted to the upkeep and improvement of the service.

The drive of the Girl Scouts of Rhode Island for $12,000 as a maintenance amount for the coming year late Thursday reached $2,544.81. The campaign closes this Saturday evening. State headquarters reports that several councils are yet to be heard from, and these contributions from the respective communities are expected to swell the total considerably. The receipt of $200 from Westerly Troop No. 1, is given acknowledgment.

There was a brief session, Friday, of the Third District court, Judge Oliver H. Williams, presiding. The only criminal case on the docket was Thomas E. Brown, chief of police, against Joseph and Salvatore Savona, charged with maintaining

DENIES MURDER OF HAITIEN PRISONERS

Port Au Prince, Haiti, Nov. 19.—Freedom Lang, former American marine, charged with the murder of 19 Haitien prisoners, again took the stand today in his own behalf. He denied specifically every accusation against him. He frankly admitted, however, killing one bandit chief with a machine gun at Illeche, while attempting to escape. He fired at the bandit from his own front porch, he said.

Lang testified after four native guards had taken the stand and declared they saw him murder several prisoners, bringing the number of victims up to nine.

Each witness at the hearing went into details and described how the natives were shot. One witness was confused on the point as to whether the prisoners were shot while attempting to escape.

Just after beginning his testimony Lang suffered a nervous weeping attack.

A Haitien courier who was called to the stand described Lang as "very young, of blond hair and very beautiful." "The beauty of Lang," the witness added, "makes a strange contrast with the acts for which he has been reproached."

Torrington.—Gov. Marcus H. Holcomb issued a requisition on the governor of New York for the return to this state of Louis Marazona, wanted in Torrington for alleged larceny. Marazona is under arrest in New York city. Capt. Nicola Calabrese of the Torrington police was named by Governor Holcomb to bring Marazona to this state.

ing the bodies of bandits awaiting burial after the Hincha attack and Lang was a crack shot, hence he must have done the shooting.

Captain Kelly testified he was with Lang the night of the shooting and they inspected the jail together. He swore that Lang killed no one.

The testimony of the prosecution and the defense was absolutely conflicting, the defense attempting to discredit the gendarmes, which told stories similar to those given in government hearings.

As the gendarmes related the circumstances of the alleged shooting, they dramatically rose from their seats and identified Lang as having been responsible.
